Dear Mr. Wheaton,

Before continuing on with this letter, please let me introduce myself. I am the great-great-great grand-daughter of Johnathan Wheaton, who resided in Millersburg in the 1820's. Working on family history has intriqued me for some time and in delving into history books at the Fort Wayne,Indiana library and the family Bible, discovered that the Wheaton family had many roots in Millersburg,Ohio.

My parents and I visited Millersburg yesterday (March 12) and hunted the name of Wheaton in the local phone book. We then took the liberty to call at your home in the late afternoon, but you were gone. With the information I have collected, it gives me reason to believe that you may be related and could possibly fill in some of the missing links that I need.

A copy of the information that has been collected is enclosed, along with "worksheets" and a self-addressed stamped envelope. If you have the time, and feel that we could be distantly related, perhaps you will respond to my letter.

May I add that I am sorry we did not meet you yesterday. Your lovely neat home impressed us, and reminded us of the loving care my Grandma and Grandpa Wheaton put into their lawn and home before they passed away.

Hoping to hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.)Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Mrs. Weaver:-

am sorry that we missed you on Sun. Mar 12. We were at home most of the day but went out to our sons in the North end of town back of the Hospital late in the afternoon. I received your letter last week and will send the information I have. I had copies made of what I had and obtained some from my sister. You can see from these that we are related. Jonathan Wheaton was my Gr. Gr. Grand father and Anson W. was my Gr. Grand father. Also you were right about my middle name. My Grand mother was Rosanna Uhl and I was born on her father's birth-day (his name was Wm Uhl Sr.) He was born on Oct 9, 1798 and I inherited the Uhl for a middle name and also his of the Wheaton family has about run out. My oldest brother had one son who has two daughters. My brother Sheldon had 1 son and 1 daughter but the son was killed in traffic accident when he was in high school. His name was Anson). Our son Harold did not get married until about 3 years ago. Has a step-daughter an a step son. My uncle Avery had 3 sons. One son had 1 daughter, another had 2 daughters and the third had 1 daughter and 1 son but the son had no children.

If there is any other information you want about the Wheatons please let me know and I will try to get it. If you plan another trip to Millersburg just let us know and we will arrange to be at home.

Sincerely

gold headed cane.

Am enclosing copies of some records of the Wheatons or (Whedons) I received from Mrs. Charles S. Cameron of Delavan, Wis. Her husbands father Anson Cameron — his Grand mother Rachael Mayers Cameron (Mrs. Robert Cameron) and of course Sarah Wheaton Mayers (Mrs Lewis Mayers) was his Gr. Gr. Grand mother. Mrs. Cameron sent her first letter to the Post Master at Millersburg and as our son is asst. P.M. in Millersburg he gave the letter to me. She wanted some pictures etc. from grave markers in Oak Hill Cemetery. Some years ago Anson Cameron placed a small marker on the grave of Jonathan Wheaton.

About myself I am a retired rural mail carrier and my wife retired from work at our hospital. She had worked about 12 years and me 34+ years. I served in the 1st world war in Italy and our son in 2nd world war in Guadacanal.

Dear Mrs. Weaver:-

Received your letter some time ago + just neglected to answer it. You asked for Mrs. Camerons address. It is

Mrs Charles S. Cameron
3020 North Shore Dr.
Delavan,
Wis. 53115

Her husband is the son of Anson Cameron of Chicago. Some years ago he brought a small marker and placed it on the grave of Jonathan Wheaton in Oak Hill Cemetery in Millersburg. Anson Cameron was the son of Robert + Rachel Mayers Cameron. Rachel was the daughter of Lewis + Sarah Wheaton Mayers

Sarah Wheaton Mayers was the daughter of Anson Wheaton so you see how the Camerons and Wheatons are related

You asked in your letter about the kind of work my wife did at the hospital She started in as a Red Cross Volunteer worker during the war (no pay) then later worked as an aid then finished up in the kitchen - buying the food and doing some of the cooking -

Dr. Earney is Health Comm - in Millersburg and is also in the Castle Nursing Home organization in Millersburg. They have at least six homes here with probably 5 or 6 hundred patients so he does not have time for much private practice.

My wife has had several operations for cancer at the Cleveland Clinic and also at Mansfield General Hospital.

Drs Wiedemer, Tawse & Baddour of Mansfield sent her home 4½ yrs ago and gave her 3 or 4 months to live and she is still on the go. Is over at the Beauty Parlor now getting her hair done.

She had a malignant tumor in the bladder but when they operated they said there was too much involved so just sewed her up and sent her home. Our Dr. Huston in Millersburg started her on Delalutin injections at that time and she is still getting it. They give her 500 mg of Delalutin twice each week and the last time she was at Mansfield Dr. Baddour said the tumor had practically disappeared (He used a cystocope)

Will close for now
Sincerely
Ralph W. Wheaton

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

Received your letter the first of the week about the Swiss Festival. We went out to the Sharp Run Dairy (Cheese Factory) yesterday to get a circular about it also a map showing the location. Am also enclosing one on our Antique Festival to be held in Millersburg the next weekend after the Swiss Festival. If you are interested in antiques they will be on display in the store windows the week end of Sept 29 & 30 too. We will probably be at home most of the time both week ends.

FONDUE (with wine)

For each serving: ¼ lb. Swiss Cheese, finely pared
¼ cup dry white wine

Rub an earthenware casserole with garlic, warm the wine in the casserole, add the cheese and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add ½ teaspoon flour, mixed with a little wine and ½ teaspoon kirsch (or dry sherry). In 3 to 4 minutes, the fondue will have thickened and can be brought to the table. Put on a chafing dish or spirit lamp to keep at boiling point. Eachperson dips pieces of bread on a fork in the fondue, stirring each time. It is eaten straight from the casserole.

FONDUE (without wine)

Take the yolks of 8 eggs and mix in a sauce pan with:

½ lb. grated Swiss Cheese	dash of pepper
grated nutmeg	pinch of salt

Add, bit by bit, 5 ounces of butter, stirring continuously over gentle flame without boiling. When the mixture thickens, add half a glass of cream, stir a little longer and serve in a deep dish surrounded by slices of toasted bread. (This type of fondue can also be poured over noodles.)

Many of our factories not only manufacture Swiss cheese, but a variety of cheese such as Brick, Baby Swiss, Colby, Caraway, Mountain, Muenster, Provolone, Ricotta, Scamorze, Smoked, and at times Wine Cured Cheese.

ONE POUND OF SWISS CHEESE CONTAINS AS MUCH:

Protein as Either	As Much Energy as Either
1.57 lbs. sirloin steak	1.98 lbs. sirloin steak
[illegible].35 lbs. round steak	2.61 lbs. round steak
[illegible].98 lbs. fowl	2.52 lbs. fowl
1.79 lbs. smoked ham	1.17 lbs. smoked ham
1.81 lbs. fresh ham	1.29 lbs. fresh ham

Cheese contains about 24% protein, 34% fat, with 37% moisture and no waste material. Steak contains about 19% protein and 9% fat, with 62% moisture and 8% of bone and other wastes.

THE EYES IN SWISS CHEESE

The raw cheese as it is dipped from the cheese kettle would not be edible since it is difficult to digest and quite flat in taste. It is only through ripening that it acquires its good characteristics.

From a chemical point of view the following phenomena occur during the ripening period:

The fresh cheese consists mainly of cheese substance in the form of paracasein which is difficult to digest; milk fat included in it; and whey included in the cheese, in which milk sugar and salt are still dissolved. The first substance changed is the milk sugar. This is transformed into lactic acid, which accounts for the fact that the whey draining from the cheese is usually somewhat sour. The presence of milk sugar cannot be detected even a few days after manufacture. In its place the cheese contains calcium lactate. Immediately after the production of the lactic acid, the main ripening begins, in which the paracasein in particular is dissolved. The eye formation also begins in this [illegible]hase of ripening. The eye formation depends upon the propionic acid fermentation. The calcium lactate is separated into carbonic and propionic acid by means of the propionic acid bacteria. The carbonic acid gas causes the eye formation. Again let us say that the afore mentioned chemical break-down depends on the skill of the cheesemaker during the manufacturing of the cheese.

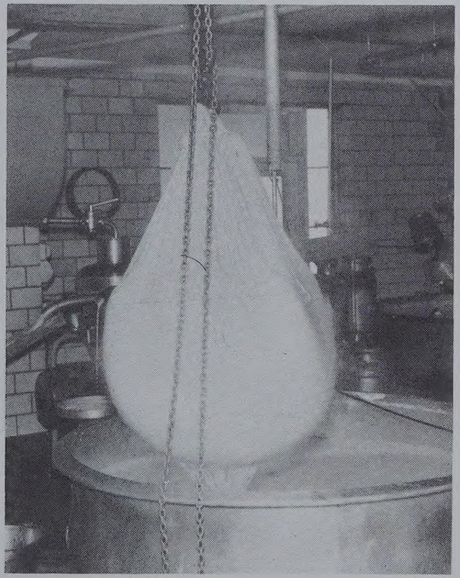
Swiss - Known in Switzerland as Emmenthal; Swiss is one of the oldest of all cheese varieties. A large, hard, pressed-cured cheese with an elastic body and a mild, nut-like, sweetish flavor. A large cheese, it is made in a shape called "wheels" generally, but a substantial portion of the domestic productions is made in rindless block form. Fondly known and described as the cheese with the "eyes." USES: Sliced thin on a cold meat platter; delicious on rye bread, as an appetizer, or added to fruit or vegetable salad. Use in sandwiches, snacks, for general table use or on cheese trays sliced or diced. A favorite to use in combination with other ingredients in sandwiches, appetizers and other uncooked ways. It is rapidly coming into its own as far as a cooking cheese. "Swiss Cheese Pie" and other recipes have been developed which are finding increasing favor among housewives.

THE KING OF CHEESE

Swiss Cheese is everywhere recognized as the finest and purest hard cheese, and bears for this reason the proud title of a King of Cheese.

It can lay claim to this title because of its stately size which exceeds the individual sizes of other kind[illegible] of cheese by far and looks very majestic. In no less a measure, however, does Swiss Cheese distinguish itself by its inner characteristics. The fine, nut-like flavor and clean-eyed curd are characteristic only of Swiss Cheese. It, therefore, makes the highest demands of the quality of the milk from which it is prepared, and to the same degree, of the art and experience of the cheesemaker.

To its noble qualities Swiss Cheese attributes its world-fame and the special price which it brings as a quality product.

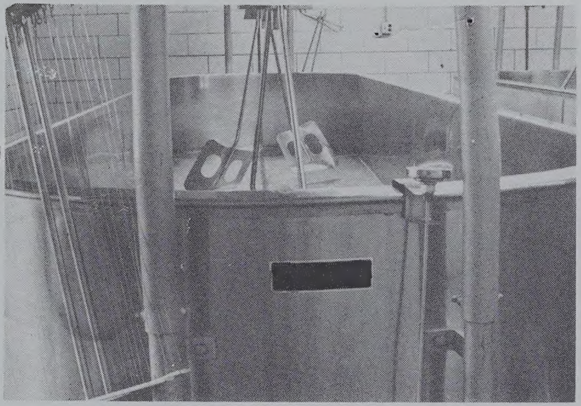


DIPPING CURD

CHEESE-MAKING IS AN ART

There are people who learn this art and those who remain amateurs at it for a life time. For a successful practice of the profession of cheese-making a certain natural talent is therefore necessary. A cheese-maker must possess a certain genius for his profession, which will instinctively furnish him the solution to questions which are often times very difficult and complicated.

With the aid of a thermometer, acidimeter, and by the senses of sight, smell, and feeling, the cheese-maker is able to follow and control the progress of the curd through the manufacturing process. Actually the final result is determined in the cheese kettle before the aging takes place.



Stainless Steel Vats with a capacity of six copper Swiss cheese kettles can be seen in many of our plants today.

SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SWISS CHEESE

1. Always serve Swiss Cheese at room temperature. (It tastes better.)
2. Wrap cheese in aluminum foil, plastic bag, a cloth dampened in salt water or place in a glass covered dish before placing it in the refrigerator.
3. Swiss Cheese can be kept in the Deep Freeze successfully. In this case it should be wrapped as you do your meat. Never refreeze it.
4. Try it in meat loaf, soup or even fry it with your eggs.

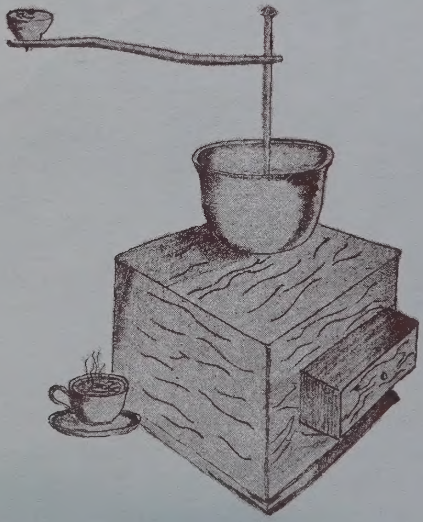
ANTIQUE FESTIVAL



MILLERSBURG, OHIO
OCTOBER 7-8, 1972

Sugarcreek . . . the Swiss Cheese Center

Sugarcreek is located in the rolling hills of western Tuscarawas County, ten miles west of Dover and eighteen miles east of Millersburg, on scenic Route 39.

It is surrounded by a prosperous farming community populated largely by the Amish people. Diversified farming is practiced, with dairying playing a major part.

With 18 Swiss Cheese factories located within a radius of ten miles of the village, Sugarcreek is recognized as the center of the Swiss cheese industry in Ohio. The product of these factories is known far and wide as the finest Swiss cheese made.

The Ohio Swiss Festival, which has been an outstanding success since its beginning in 1953, has become firmly established as one of the state's leading outdoor events.

Conceived with the dual purpose of promoting the Swiss Cheese industry in Ohio and the village of Sugarcreek, it has also been a tribute to the hard-working Swiss people who settled here and established the Swiss Cheese industry.

Most of these Swiss settlers were farmers, who learned the art of cheese-making in their native Canton, Bern, Switzerland; and they began making cheese from milk produced on their farms in the new country in order to have a marketable product.

This was the beginning of the Swiss cheese industry in Ohio, which gradually grew in importance as a few farmers set up crude factories and purchased milk from other farmers to augment their own supply. Today there are 18 factories in this area which annually convert 110,000,000 pounds of milk into 8,000,000 pounds of the finest Swiss Cheese obtainable.

EXPLANATION OF ORDER FOR PHOTOCOPIES

Use this form to order photocopies of records of veterans who served in the United States or Confederate armed forces. These records include:

> Pension application files based on United States (not State) service before World War I.
> Bounty-land warrant application files based on United States (not State) service before 1856.
> Pension or bounty-land warrant application files usually include an official statement of the veteran's military or naval service, as well as information of a personal or genealogical nature. If we find such a file, we send copies of the documents we think will be most useful to you.
> Military service records based on service in the United States Army (officers who served before June 30, 1917, enlisted men before October 31, 1912), Navy (officers and enlisted men who served before 1886), Marine Corps (officers and enlisted men who served before 1896), and Confederate armed forces (1861-65).
> Military service records rarely contain family information. The record of a man's service in any one organization is entirely separate from the record of his service in any other organization. We are ordinarily unable to accurately establish the identity of men of the same name who served in different organizations. If you know that a man served in more than one organization and you desire copies of his military service record, submit a separate form for the service record in each organization.

More information about these records may be found in our free Genealogical Information Kit.

Send the completed form to the address on the front of the form. When you send more than one form at a time, each order will be handled separately; you may not receive all your replies at the same time.

When we find numerous files for the veteran, we suggest that you visit the National Archives and examine the various files, or hire a professional researcher to examine the files for you. The Board for Certification of Genealogists, 1307 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036, can provide you with the names of persons in the Washington area willing to do research for a fee.

Dear Lucy,

Thank you for your letter and the information concerning various members of the family.

I am doing a bit of research myself and will try to send to you what data I can compile. I have knowledge of some of the younger ones, children of my cousins and their children - so will try to get together what I can before sending it. It may take a while. If you don't hear from me - jog my memory as I may "bury" the papers and forget.

I find that working full time plus trying to keep house is more than I can get accomplished. Something always slides.

Sometime ago I had my Dad tell me what he could of the Oaks family. He is 78½ yrs. but still alert and active. He was here the night that your letter came so I had him tell me the sequence of my mother's family. I wasn't sure of their order.

Genealogy is fascinating. I've never gone into it at any length, but the little that I've studied about my family is interesting.

Perhaps the data which I'll send to you later will help you.

Sincerely,

Anna Belle

Dear Lucy,

Will follow up on the information I started to compile for you back in September. You listed the Haze Wheeler family, and only show eleven, but there were 12 children. Did you think that you had them in proper chronological order? If so, may I correct the sequence? Dad told me as follows, and I have underscored the twelve, then under each one, list their families:

Wandas Balser (died 1935 - pneumonia)
m. Willis Balser
ch. Lynn, m. Estella Businger (you have 8 ch. listed - and I think the names you have are correct - I don't know all of their names)

GSA FORM 6751 (REV. 3-72)

EXPLANATION OF ORDER FOR PHOTOCOPIES

Use this form to order photocopies of records of veterans who served in the United States or Confederate armed forces. These records include:

> Pension application files based on United States (not State) service before World War I.
> NOTE: Pensions based on military service for the Confederate States of America were authorized by some Southern States but not by the Federal Government until 1959. Inquiries about State pensions should be addressed to the State archives or equivalent agency at the capital of the veteran's State of residence after the war.
> Bounty-land warrant application files based on United States (not State) service before 1856.
> NOTE: Pension or bounty-land warrant application files usually include an official statement of the veteran's military or naval service, as well as information of a personal or genealogical nature. If we find such a file, we send copies of the documents we think will be most useful to you.
> Military service records based on service in the United States Army (officers who served before June 30, 1917, enlisted men before October 31, 1912), Navy (officers and enlisted men who served before 1886), Marine Corps (officers and enlisted men who served before 1896), and Confederate armed forces (1861-65). (We cannot provide photocopies of files for veterans whose service terminated less than 75 years ago, however we are usually able to provide certain information from the files.)
> NOTE: Military service records rarely contain family information. The record of a man's service in any one organization is entirely separate from the record of his service in any other organization. We are ordinarily unable to accurately establish the identity of men of the same name who served in different organizations. If you know that a man served in more than one organization and you desire copies of his military service record, submit a separate form for the service record in each organization.

DO NOT use this form to request photocopies of records relating to service in World Wars I or II or subsequent service. Write to: National Personnel Records Center, GSA, (Military Personnel Records), 9700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis, MO 63132.

More information about armed service records may be found in our free Genealogical Information Kit.

Send the completed form to the address on the front of the form. When you send more than one form at a time, each order will be handled separately; you may not receive all your replies at the same time.

When we find numerous files for the veteran, we suggest that you visit the National Archives and examine the various files, or hire a professional researcher to examine the files for you. The Board for Certification of Genealogists, 1307 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036, can provide you with the names of persons in the Washington area willing to do research for a fee.

Dear Mr. Wheaton,

While vacationing in the west recently, saw your name listed in The Omaha phone book. Since I have been interested in the history of the Wheaton family, will take the liberty to write. My great-grandfather Anson W. Wheaton had two brothers who migrated to Nebraska from Paulding County, Ohio and lived there in the 1890's. One was James (Born 1829 to Wm. & Sarah Hall Wheaton who went to Plattsmouth, Cass Co. Nebraska. The other was Jonathan L. (Born 1827) who died in Bloomington, Franklin Co. Nebraska in the early 1900's. Since your name is James & Plattsmouth is not far from Omaha thought you might be a descendant. My information on the family dates back to 1627.

If you are interested in learning more about the family, please use the enclosed self-addressed envelope.

This is just a hobby for me as I work full-time as a public health nurse.

Sincerely,

Please send me a copy of the death certificate of Jonathan L. Wheaton (born 5-16-1827) and died March 19, 1909 in Bloomington, Franklin County, Nebraska. Enclosed is my check for $2.00 to cover the cost.

I do not wish a copy of Callie Wheaton's death certificate at this time , but would like to know the name of the informant and that person's address if possible. Callie Wheaton died in 1955, presumably in Franklin County, Nebraska, but I am not sure.

Your assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Mrs. Cameron,

Sometime ago, I obtained your address from Mr. Ralph Wheaton of Millersburg, Ohio. For about two years, I have been working on the Wheaton Family History, when somehow stumbled across Wheatons listed in Holmes County History with several Anson Wheatons listed. Made a trip to Millersburg, O. and talked to Mr. Wheaton. To show my connection to the Wheaton family will type a brief sketch:

Jonathan Wheaton (mat. gt.gt.gt. gfr.)
William Wheaton (mat. gt. gt. gfr.)
Anson W. Wheaton (maternal great-grandfather)
Elmer Anson Wheaton (maternal grandfather)
Erma Wheaton Rulman (mother)
Lucy Rulman Weaver

William Wheaton, son of Jonathan, left Holmes Co. O. and then settled for a short time in Seneca Co., O. and then moved on to Paulding Co. where he died in 1865. The family then moved into Defiance County Ohio where we have been ever since.

It was a thrill to stand at the gravesite of Jonathan, the Revolutionary Soldier, and to visit the area where they (the Wheatons) once lived.

Just had to write to you, because it isn't often that one finds another family history enthusiast. Would be glad to share information with you that I have if you are interested in obtaining more. Mr. Wheaton sent me a sketch of the family background dating back to the 1600's (which you had sent to him.)

To introduce myself..I am 40 years old..married and have a sixteen year old daughter, Ann..my husband is leasing manager at Derrow Motor Sales in Defiance and I am employed as nursing supervisor at Defiance County Health Department.

Are you a member of D.A.R.? Have thought of applying through another branch of the family, although feel there should be no difficulty in proving relationship to Jonathan.

Would appreciate hearing from you if possible.

Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Lucy,

You no doubt have given me up as a lost cause - I am really sorry to have taken so long to answer you (usually try to be prompt) but there were many unusual events,too lengthy to go into, that kept me busy. However, I was delighted to receive your letter and learn of another "cousin" also interested in the family history! Yes, I am most interested in the line of William A. Wheaton and would very much appreciate your sending what you have. I would be happy to share what I have with you, too. I do not know exactly how much I sent to Ralph Wheaton as he was mildly interested but not deeply involved with research on the family so it is hard to know what to send to you. I am certain that I do have details that I didn't send, so please let me know if you are interested in more. Some people are only interested in their direct relative, but I am interested in the families of sisters and brothers, too, so would welcome whatever you have.

In case you didn't know our connection with the Wheaton family:

Jonathan Wheaton b. 26 June 1755, d. 23 Sept. 1828
Anson Wheaton b. 20 June 1786, d. 13 Oct. 1857
Sarah Wheaton b. 6 Oct. 1822, d. 26 Dec. 1891
Rachel R. Mayers b. 2 July 1842, d. 28 Sept. 1911
Anson Cameron (M.D) b. 19 Mar. 1874, d. 20 June 1939
Charles Cameron b. 28 Aug. 1920 - married 18 June 1943
Bette Claypool (I am 52 years old)

Chuck and I have three children, Sharon (27), Steve (26) and Dick (21). Sharon married Gene Kraklow in 1969 and Steve married Sandy Joerres last June - Dick is in his last year of school in Milwaukee. Chuck and I met here at the lake (both of our families had summer homes here) - he was from Chicago, Ill. and I lived in Oak Park, Ill., a western suburb of Chicago. He went to Brown U. (in R.I.) where he learned to fly during World War II - spent most of the war teaching flying. I went to Northwestern U. and we were married two days after I graduated. We lived in or near Chicago until about twelve years ago when he Purchased a Boat Co. on Lake Geneva, which is only minutes away from here. We sell and service boats and I do the bookkeeping for him. When we moved up here, it was like coming back home as we moved into the home that his grandfather had, but it burned to the ground in 1965 and we then built a new one on the exact location, which is right on the lake. I no longer go over to work everyday - we have excellant secretaries who do - but I still go over once a week to do the payroll and catch up on the books.

No, I am not a member of the D.A.R. but have been urged to join by some of the local members. Chuck isn't at all interested in the whole thing and isn't a member of anything, either. Incidentally, I taught Genealogy in the county adult night school off and on for a couple of years, which was fun, though I do not consider myself an expert by any means - it was just fun to get to know others who were interested. I have been working on our families for about as long as we've lived up here and wanted someone to talk to who was interested a sympathetic!

The Camerons came from Millersburg, Ohio, too and before that Stark Co. and were in Pa. in 1782. I have had trouble tracing them and am still looking for leads, so I am most interested in the Camerons in your town. Perhaps you could give me their addresses and I could write to them - they could know something that would help. Chuck's great-great grandfather had a brother who also lived in Ohio and I have not traced him either, and he might be able to be traced more easily if I got the proper clues.

I am enclosing a Christmas card which shows our children, for what it is worth. Do hope that you will forgive how slow I was in answering and write again.

Sincerely,

Bette

Bette Claypool Cameron

P.S. you needn't send stamps or envelopes - am returning one you sent as card fits another one better.

Dear Kelly,

Please accept my deepest apologies for not replying to your postcard sooner. When it came, I laid it aside until I could have time to prepare an answer and the material that I would send. Since I work full-time as a public health nurse and attend college in the evenings, do my own housework and have a family, my time gets used up pretty fast. Did you notice in the last Genealogical Helper the ad of Mr. Earnest S. Wheaton 6485 No. Olney St. Indianapolis, Indaina 46220? The Wheaton line he advertised is exactly the same as mine. If you feel there is any connection between our lines, I will gladly send you additional information. Enclosed are copies of my Wheaton lines and branches of it. Hoping to hear from you in the future..and again please forgive me for being so late in replying.

Dear Mr. Wheaton,

My Genealogical Helper arrived today and in it your ad concerning the Wheadon-Wheaton line. My great-great grandfather William Wheaton was a brother of Russell Wheaton and a son of Jonathan Wheaton. The information I have shows that the family came from England to Conn.,then Vt., N.Y.,Penn. and then Holmes County, Ohio. William Wheaton left Millersburg, Ohio and lived in Seneca County, Ohio, then Wood County,O...then Paulding County,O. and lies buried in a Defiance County,O. cemetery. My mother's maiden name was Erma Wheaton. Also of interest to me was your article about the Weavers of Hagerstown, Md. My husband's family originally came from there..then to Penn. then to Illinois. I have very little information on them, but what I have ..will send to you. Enclosed you will find a copy of our pedigree charts with the Wheaton and Weaver lines. I have more information on Wheatons in a book which my parents have including a copy of Jonathan Wheaton's will from Holmes County...would be happy to have you check the charts over and compare notes. Would certainly like to hear from you.

I am 42 years old and work as a public health nurse here in Defiance. My husband and I have an eighteen year old daughter. My parents are still living. Any exchange of information would certainly be appreciated.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

We were particularly pleased to receive your letter yesterday and the information you sent us about your Wheaton family history. It is certainly also interesting to know that your husband's family may be connected with the same Weaver family line.

We have gathered together quite a bit of information about the Wheaton family. We have photocopied all of it and assembled it in book form, which is about two inches thick.

Y

You would not be interested in the descendants of Russel Wheaton but we will photocopy that part of our file which relates to Jonathon Wheaton and the early ancestors, and send it to you some time soon.

We are still searching for information on the Weaver family, but we will copy the information we have already assembled and send it to you. We are still searching for information on this family, particularly in the Hagerstown and Pennsylvania area. Mrs. Wheaton's mother's family name was Weaver.

After you receive the copies of our files, we would appreciate it if you would then send us anything which you may have on file that we do not have.

Thank you very much for writing us. We will appreciate your help.

Cordially yours

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

As we promised in our letter of December 15, we are sending you copies of our records of the early WHEATON family, down through the children of Jonathon Wheaton and Penelope Lacy.

As we explained, our book is about two inches thick, but we are sending you copies of Pages 1 through 65, pages 122 and 123, and 175 through 192. A copy of the index is also enclosed for your ready reference.

Our WEAVER family history is far from complete, but we are sending you a copyoof pages 1 through 34 which includes all of our information down to Isaac Weaver who married Catherine Shively. They were the great-grandparents of Mrs. Wheaton. From that point on, we have quite a bit of information, but we have had difficulty tracing the family back to Maryland or Pennsylvania.

If you can add anything to what we already have on either the WHEATON or WEAVER families, we would certainly appreciate hearing from you.

The material is being sent to you via United Parcel Service, and you should receive it in just a few days.

Dear Kelly,

Hope you didn't give up on me. Thanks for your second letter. Am enclosing some material which you requested. As you will see the material is not completed. It was obtained from microfilm at the Ft. Wayne Library in Ft. Wayne,Indiana. My Mom went with me and copied the information by hand. We can only go when I have a holiday on a day that the Library is open. I think I'm only through the R's in the vital records (you'll find a few T's because I jumped ahead because of my particular interest in Thomas Wheadon). Hope some of the info. will help you. You letter instigated me to get all the info together and arrange it into some order and in doing so, I typed you a carbon..(with my compliments..hope it helps you). Also am enclosing a page on THOMAS WHEADON (I missed copying THOMAS who married Hannah Sutliffe)..JOHN WHEADON..JONATHAN WHEADON..JONATHAN WHEATON..WILLIAM WHEATON..ANSON WHEATON(my great grandfather). and perhaps this will give you an idea on the types of information I have.

By the way, do you happen to know the Raymond Ushers or Carolyn Markham..? They live in Napa and are the children of my boss, Dr. Glenn S. Usher. Dr. Usher tells me that they are also interested in genealogy(although not in the Wheaton line). Please let me know if any of this helps you. Perhaps I can round up some more at Ft. Wayne. I should have a holiday coming in the near future.

Dear Mr. Wheaton,

Again I want to express my appreciation to you for sending copies of essential portions of the Wheaton Genealogy. Evidently you have been searching for some time. Actually my interest began about four years ago, but how I wish that this interest had seized me when my grandfather Wheaton was still alive, so that he could have told me more. When we used to ask him about the origin of the Wheatons, all he would say was that they were Yankees. I accidentally stumbled onto the Holmes County relationship. While reviewing the early census indexes of Ohio in the Fort Wayne Public Library, the name Anson Wheaton kept appearing. Since Anson was my grandfather's middle name, my great-grandfather's first name and the fact that the name is unusual, I hunted up Anson Wheaton of Holmes County. In October 1972, my parents and I visited Millersburg, but could not find any of the Wheatons that were listed in the telephone directory at homs. Later I corresponded with Ralph Uhl Wheaton..then visited there..he is a very nice man in his eighties. He gave me Bette Cameron's name and a few pieces of information and the rest fell into place.

Your surmise on Ann Harvey was the same as mine..that she probably was Ann Small who was supposed to marry Francis Harvey, a frenchman. The question I still have is : if the court did not approve for her to marry Harvey, why was her name listed as Ann Harvey in further records instead of Ann Small? Or did she marrry Harvey against court approval and then Thomas Wheadon later?

Often discrepancies appear in county histories such as: Sarah Wheaton Mayers referred to her ancestors from Mass. Was she referring to her paternal side or maternal ancestors? Also Jonathan L. Wheaton (son of Wm. Wheaton, in my line) referred in the Paulding County History as being of German descent. He must not have known his background, for most assuredly, Wheaton is not German.

Enclosed is a copy of the letter and ancestor chart I received recently from Jean Brewer on the LACEYS. Her " Stratfield" must be Stratford and note that Mercy Bassett is listed as the mother of Freelove Canfield rather than Mary Baldwin. Since she has not proven her information, this should probably not be taken as factual. If I hear further from her, will be glad to send you copies of the material.

In my mother's possession are several unmarked tin types which were in our Wheaton Family Bible. Perhaps they are of William Wheaton and his siblings. If they are not too dark to copy, will try to reproduce them onrour office copying machine so that you can see them. It is exasperating to have unidentified photos. The only relative who could have identified them was my great aunt Jeannette, who died recently at age 98 and had developed cataracts so that she was unable to see the pictures.!!

The Weaver Genealogy was studied carefully, although I can not add anything pertinent at this time. Will keep you posted when I can. At one time, my husband's great aunt mentioned Isaac Weaver as an ancestor, but all we could find was Hugh Weaver, who supposedly ran a hotel in Hagerstown, Maryland before coming west to Polo,Illinois in the 1850s.

Enclosed is information on William Wheaton down through my generation for your perusal. It won't help any with ancestry, but will fill in some gaps on descendants. You will see that there are a few male descendants in the Wm. Wheaton line bearing the Wheaton name.

Finally, I didn't ask before, but do I owe you for copying your material? I realize that there is expense involved in making copies. Please let me know. If there isn't any charge, I can only express my gratitude. In the meantime, will plan to keep searching and corresponding to fill in the missing links.

Pardon the lengthy correspondence, but it is a rarity to be able to share the excitement and mutual interest of genealogy. From your material and samples of correspondence, I detected your genuine interest.

In closing, might add that so far the "blacksheep" that everyone mentions when they hear the word genealogy has eluded me and I believe we can be very

Dear Mrs Weaver,

Thankyou for your reply to more inquiry on Wheaton and your generous charts and information. Yes, I have corresponded with Mr. Earnest S. Wheaton. I originally intended to trace the descendants of ~~B~~ Robert Wheaton of Rehoboth, Mass, but as there are many Wheatons descended from Thomas Wheadon of New Haven & Branford Conn. I have decided to do both. It has been very difficult seperating which is which. I have a Wheaton line which goes back to Robert and I am stuck on my husband's line in the early 1700's in N. Jersey and N. York. I believe he is also descended from Robert but I am not sure at this point. It is beginning to be a process of elimination.

I noted on your charts the cause of death. I had never seen this done before and I find it very interesting as one can see trends develop. I hate to impose on you further, but as I am unable to obtain a copy of Branford Vital Records. I would greatly appreciate it, (if one is available to you) if you would hav all those pages of births, deaths and marriage of Wheatons & Wheadons copied. I would be very gratefu and would reimburse you for copyin and postage. I have the first few generations of Wheadon's (completed), but I really need the information from the Branford Vital Records to fill in som blanks. I have many from the New Haven Vital Records.

I will certainly let you know if and when I publish the Wheaton Genealogy. Thank you for your help. Sincerely

Kelly Wheaton

Dear Sirs:

The name of your organization was listed in The Handy Book for Genealogists and I thought perhaps you might be able to direct me toward some sources of material which might solve some of the genealogical questions I have about the WHEADON-WHEATON family of New Haven and Branford, Conn. My information is vague, but I understand Thomas Wheadon came from England and took the oath of fidelity in 1657 and was married in New Haven in 1661 to Ann Harvey or Ann Small? His son Thomas was born in 1663 in New Haven and I believe the son died in 1707 in Branford,Conn.Next in line were: John Wheadon 1694,Jonathan Wheadon 1721, and Jonathan Wheaton 1755, who served in the American Revolution. If there is any information about the Wheadon-Wheatons in the historical records of New Haven or anything on the background of Ann Harvey or Ann Small, or a written Wheaton Genealogy, I would appreciate being directed to the source.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

We were glad to receive the information aboutWilliam Wheaton and his descendants. Thank you very much.

Our record of Russell, Anson, and now William, are pretty complete but we know very little about the others, Anna (our page 58), David (page 59), Jonathon Schuyler (Page 63), Sarah (Page 64), and Almira, (Page 123). Can you add anything to these pages? If so, we would appreciate hearing from you again.

We were also interested in theLacy/Canfield information from Jean Brewer. Our information was taken from "History of New Milford" by Samuel Orcutt, and shows that Azariah Canfield married Mary Baldwin on Feb. 26, 1719/20. Apparently the publications to which she refers shows that he married Mercy Bassett on the same date, and further that the mother of Mercy was Sarah Baldwin who married Thomas Bassett.

We have no other information about Mary Baldwin, so her reference may be correct. This will take some further research, and we will try to do this. We will write to her and ask for copies of the pages she mentions.

There is no charge for the photocopies of the material we sent you. We were glad to receive the information you sent us, and would appreciate anything you can add concerning the brothers and sisters of your William and our Russell Wheaton.

If you later find that your Weaver family has a connection with our Weaver family, we would appreciate that information, too.

With kind regards.

Cordially yours

Dear Kelly,

Had another day off on the 16th so Mom and I went to the Fort Wayne, Ind. Public Library and completed the list of Wheaton surnames for you.. didn't take time to sort these out by towns for you..knew it might be several weeks before this could be accomplished. My Mom(who is 70) struggled with the microfilm and copied the list in longhand for me...she really is a diligent worker.... Thanks for the material you sorted out and sent to me..there certainly is no charge for the little contribution we have made to your efforts.. just wish you all the success in the world..please let me know how you make out with this list. If there is anything else you think might be available in Fort Wayne that you do not have access to..please let me know.. hope to go to Ft. Wayne at least once a month...

Our work load has been heavy at the health dept. and find it difficult to take time out even though I have vacation time from 1975!

Dear Lucy,

I can't thank you and your mother enough for all your help. I really appreciate those vital records. I haven't had a chance to work on them again but I will send you what I work out when I complete it.

We've been very busy lately. We are planning on building are own home and are in the process of having a septic system put in. Then this last week we had a heavy, wet snow which is unusual in the Napa Valley. It did a lot of damage to our trees. We lost quite a few oak and madrone, so well be busy cleaning everything up for awhile.

Thanks again for everything. Be sure to keep in touch.

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

I, too, am looking for the Wheaton family.

Rebecca Wheaton, daughter of Uriah Wheaton was my great great grandmother. I am especially interested in her mother's maiden name. I know it was Margaret but what? I have run across the possibility of Elliott? Do you have any information on this?

Uriah and Margaret had 8 children: Humphrey, Rebecca (wife of George Peniston); James, Lewis, Prudence (wife of Keen) Abigail (wife of Parks) Christina and Mary.

I have copy of Uriah's will. If there is anything I can help you with or if you have any other information than this I would be glad to know where to find it.

I am enclosing a self addressed stamped envelope for your convenience.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Penisten:

In response to your letter dated March 15, 1976, I am enclosing a copy of three ancestral charts which refer to the Wheaton branch of my family. The earliest ancestor in the United States was Thomas Wheadon(name changed to Wheaton about 1755) who appeared in New Haven, Conn. from England about 1657...the family remained in the New Haven..Branford area for a while, but Jonathan Wheaton, a Revolutionary War veteran moved to Millersburg, Holmes County, Ohio in the early 1800's..

I don't find any reference to a Uriah Wheaton among any of my papers, so I am afraid this is not going to be much help to you. If it is of any consolation, I have found that of all the names that I am researching..the best response has been to the WHEATON name.

Sincerely,

Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

Thank you for your prompt reply!

I do think it may be of some help. I have a copy of Uriah's service record in the Revolutionary War and also of his will stating that Rebecca, his daughter, was wife of George Peniston.

Rebecca Wheaton was my great, great grandmother. Uriah may have been Jonathan's son--at any rate I shall pursue that.

I had some correspondence with a Mrs. Ernest Pasteris, 225B Washington Blvd, Apt. 218, Oak Park, Ill. 60302, who said she had information on Wheaton's in Pomfret, Conn. and Holden, Mass. A Robert Wheaton helped build the Baptist Church in Rehoboth, Mass. Also that there was a Robert Wheaton buried in Pomfret in 1620.

Was interested to see twins in the Wheaton family. I was a twin too, however, my sister died six years ago.

If I find anything of interest to you I shall send it along.

Yours very truly,

I have corresponded with two other people who do not seem directly related to my Wheaton line. Perhaps you might write to them. They are: Mrs. Kelly Wheaton, 2845 Kilburn Ave., Napa, Califarnia 94558 and Nancy C. Christian, 503 Crocus Ave., Pittsburg, Pa. 15235.

There seem to be two lines of descent..the Wheatons of Rehoboth, Mass. and the Wheadon-Wheatons of Branford, Conn. The Wheadon was changed to Wheaton about the time of the Revolutionary War. Do you have any idea where your Wheatons were located?

I have also researched the Conn. Vital Records..so I looked at my alphabetical listing and found the following:

Henry Scranton Wheaton, son of Leaman and Betsey Wheaton, born Nov. 20, 1839 Madison, Conn. (Whedon was the surname spelling)

Henry W. Wheaton, son of James and Betsey Wheaton, born Sept. 5, 1830 Pomfret, Conn.

Henry Wheaton married Sally Barker Tufts May 1843 Woodstock, Conn.

Henry Wheaton, born N. Milford, Conn. age 26 married Julia Baldwin age 24 of Washington, Conn. Sept. 20, 1849 Wash. Conn. had dau. born Sept. 1850

If I come across any more data that could prove helpful, will let you know. Have you researched census records and the Soundex of 1880 which gives names of all Wheatons in every state that had children under the age of 10. Since you live in Colorado, if at all possible plan atrip to Salt Lake City to their library..I hear it is fabulous.

Good luck and keep in touch.

Lucy

Dear Mrs. Weaver,

Madgel Penisten of Kansas City, Mo., sent me your name and address saying you were working on the Wheaton family. I, also, am working on the Wheatons & I wonder if we could be researching the same line.

I understand your family is descended from Thomas Wheadon of New Haven, Conn., through Rev War soldier Jonathan Wheaton who went to Millersburg, Holmes Co., Ohio. I have info. on several Wheatons in Holmes Co., Ohio, & would be happy to send it if it would be of interest to you.

I wonder if my James Wheaton appears in your records? Would be most appreciative in hearing. (JAMES WHEATON, b ca 1813 Pa., d probably in Jackson Co., W. Va., m Mary _____. They had 14 children, among them was BENNETT, my ggg grandfather). Have much more on the family if you would like to have it.

Were Anson Wheaton & Russel Wheaton (in various Holmes Co. censuses) sons (or related) to your Jonathan? I've corresponded with both a descendant of Anson & I believe a descendant of Russel.

Have reached the usual problem when doing research on Wheatons; was the name actually Wheaton or was it Wheadon. No Wheatons or Wheadons lived in Meigs Co., Ohio, before my James lived there. Interestingly enough, though, Nathaniel Wheaton (d 1795, was desc. of Robert of Rehoboth) owned land in Meigs Co. but he lived in Providence, R.I., & never moved to Ohio. His heirs sold that land in 1832 to a man whom I believe was either Nathaniel's son in law or grandson.

Do you know if your Jonathan or any other relatives ever moved to Pa. There was a Jonathan Wheaton, 45 or over, in 1810 Luzerne Co., Pa., census. Also, a number of Wheatons were in Fayette Co. & Philadelphia, Pa. Many, many in N.J.

Well, will close for now & looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Nancy

Dear Nancy,

Received your letter today. Will answer now before I get too busy.

Yes, my family is descended from Thomas Wheadon of New Haven, Conn. Would love to have any information that you have on the Wheatons in Holmes County, Ohio. I do have some, but perhaps there is something that you have that I don't...

I have a James Wheaton in our line, but not the same one that you listed. Would like to know more about your line though..perhaps somewhere along the line there is a connection.

Yes, Anson and Russel Wheaton of Holmes Co.,O. were brothers of my great-great grandfather William Anson Wheaton..they are all sons of Jonathan Wheaton. Would love to know the names and addresses of the descendants of Anson and Russel that you corresponded with. Will also send you names of persons who have contacted me.

I understand that the original name in our line was Wheadon, but was changed to Wheaton in 1755.

On his way to Holmes Co., Ohio, Jonathan Wheaton lived in Luzerne Co., Pa. Don't know if any of our ancestors lived in Fayette Co. and Phila. Pa. or N.J.

Dear Lucy,

Many, many thanks for the info. on your Wheadon line. Was happy to get the info. that your Jonathan was the Jonathan Wheaton, 1810 Luzerne Co., Bridgewater Twp., Pa., census.

The info. I have on the Holmes Co., Ohio, Wheatons mostly concerns Anson Wheaton. He was the 1st mechanic in new town of Millersburg, came from Vt., single at time & boarded with Hoskins, in 1820 he erected his own log cabin. In Holmes Co. by 1819, m Rebecca Cook, was also hotelkeeper. Couldn't tell from correspondent's letter if George W. was Anson's son or just related. Anyway Geo. had Margaret Jane who was g grdmother of Marion Frank of ?Millersburg. Have lost that address but can go through my papers more thoroughly if you haven't already written to Marion. Mentioned also, in Holmes Co., Col. Russell Wheaton, a very old man 1876, & John Wheaton a farmer on Martin's Creek (1876). Anson had also, (DAR) Margaret Esther 1844-1901 m John Kimerer & had Mary Louise (Kimerer) Rudy.

Earnest Wheaton & Kelly Wheaton were 2 of those I had written concerning the line. Another was Mrs. Paul J. Medley, 2411 So. 8th, Deming, N.M., 88030 was descended from Samuel Wheaton, b 1772 m Charity Wicoff, had Samuel & Jacob, moved from N.J. to Ohio. These Wheatons were probably from Somerset Co., N.J. - there a Sam. m 1788 Charity Wyckoff, & a Sam. m 1796 Gertie Wyckoff. Mrs PJM mentioned, too, a Lois Mayer, b 1811, & Sarah Wheaton b 1822, didn't say how connected. She seemed to think her line was descended from your Thomas Wheadon.

I have all the Wheatons, etc., from the 1820-1850 Ohio census indexes if you would like me to check for any person or any county. There is a new 1830 Pa. census index coming out & I'm anxious to check it. Don't know anyone who has it and wonder if you have access to it or know a library which might have it & Xerox out the Wheatons for me? Would really appreciate hearing.

From the given names in the families of your John, Jonathan Sr. & Jr., it doesn't seem that our 2 lines are related. So, I guess, my James Wheaton (b ca 1813 Pa., liv Meigs Co., Ohio, & Jackson Co., W.V.) was probably a descendant of the Wheatons of Rehoboth, Mass. Am probably repeating myself but there was a deed in Meigs Co., Ohio, 1792 for land owned by Nathaniel Wheaton of Providence, R.I. Nathaniel and his heirs never lived in Ohio, but the heirs sold the land in 1832 to N.'s son-in-law (or grandson) Richard Jackson (don't know if he ever went to Ohio). N. d intestate so the Ohio land was inherited by his living children and the children of his deceased children(who also sold land). Everyone of N.'s children was*represented except John & Daniel, I know John d 1835 but not where & have nothing on Daniel. (*Represented on the 1832 deed). The only unaccounted for Wheaton on the 1832 deed was Richard M. Wheaton, perhaps he was Daniel's heir & Daniel was dead. Oh, well, I know this is very confusing & prob. boring to you so I'll close.

Again, thanks for the info.

Sincerely,

Nancy

P.S. I would love to have names & addresses of your Wheaton correspondents. (Nancy Christ meeting with council and she tell's them I am not prepared, I would like to be able to tell them I have an outline I could follow. I realize no two offices are run the same but I thought the basic outline would be pretty much the same.

If he feels that he is able to do something for me, I would appreciate it very much and would be glad to pay him for his time and trouble, I know this is asking a lot.

Thank you for passing this information on to him. How are you coming with the family history? Dear Mr. Wheaton:

Since it has been almost two years since we have corresponded, perhaps you do not remember me. I am the descendant of William A. Wheaton, who was the son of Jonathan and Penelope Wheaton. At the time that you sent me the packet of material on the WHEATON family, you did not have any information on Almira Wheaton Hall. Recently I received a letter from a descendant of Almira. He in turn sent a copy of the information on his branch of the family. Since you were so kind in sharing your information with me, I thought you would like to know that Almira's branch had been located.

Enclosed are copies of the correspondence from Mr. Chester Dart of Chicago, Illinois.

Hope that you and your family are in the best of health.

Dear Mr. Dart:

We received from Mrs. Gerald Weaver of Defiance, Ohio, a copy of your two recent letters to her about your WHEATON ancestors. She also sent us a copy of your Family Group Sheet for Reuben Hall and Almira,Wheaton, and the David Hall biographical sketch from the History of Fulton County.

We have worked on the Wheaton genealogy for quite some time, and have prepared the information in loose leaf booklet form for our children. We will be glad to share this information with you.

We have photocopied many of the pages that we thought would be of interest to you, beginning with Thomas Wheadon, the first one in America, down to and including the children of Jonathon Wheaton and Penelope Lacy. Your Almira Wheaton was a sister of Russell Wheaton, my direct ancestor.

We will now add toour record the information about Almira Wheaton, which you furnished.

This material will be shipped to you via United Parcel Service, and of course you may keep it. If in your search, you find anything to be added to our records, we would appreciate hearing from you.

Cordially yours

Dear Mrs. Weaver,

I have been doing genealogical research of my family for several years and it was only a couple months ago I found in my linage a Jonathan Wheaton of Coschocton and Holmes Co. Ohio In fact, he is my 3rd great grandfather on my mothers side. My connection to his as follows:

My mother Siba Zella Mart (Sloan) of Wis. (1893 - 1972) was the dau. of Amos Clinton Sloan of Toledo (1869 - 1965) who was the son of Rebecca Sloan (Hall) of Seneca Co, Ohio (1838 - 1923) who was the dau of Almira Hall (Wheaton) of Penn. but later lived in N.Y. and Holmes Co. (1801 - 1865) who was the dau. of Jonathan Wheaton.

I don't know how much you have on Jonathan Wheaton. I have a copy of his will in which he names his children; David of Orleans, Ind.; Anson, son; William, son; dau., Sarah wife of Bartholomew Hustead; dau., Almira Hall.

I am fairly certain that this is the same Jonathan that was married to Penelope Lacy, although I have not found the direct connection from Almira, other than the fact that in the DAR Linage Book a Mary Louise Kimerer Rudy of Holmes Co., proved her linage to Jonathan Wheaton through her grandfather, Anson Wheaton, Jonathan's son and Almira's brother.

I also have the Rev. War and pension records from the National archives for him. They indicate that he served in the 7th Reg. of the Connecticut Lines at various times between 1775 and 1780 according to the pension records he inlisted from Litchfield Co., Conn. but after the war lived in Steuben Co. N.Y. before moving to Ohio. He probably also lived in Vermont and Penn as he had children born in both places.

Let me know what information you have and I will keep you advised of anything new I find. I have written the DAR for a full linage report or anything, else they may have.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Dart,

Your letter arrived today stating that you are a descendant of Jonathan Wheaton. He was my third great-grandfather also. I have acquired quite a bit of material on the Wheaton family and various ancestral branches of the family. Some of this information I will copy and send under separate cover to you. I am particularly interested in your Almira Wheaton Hall, because I think we have a double connection there. According to my records, Almira Wheaton was born 29 October 1801 in Bridgewater, Luzerne Co., Pennsylvania, the daughter of Penelope Lacy and Jonathan Wheaton and was married 4 May, 1820 in Coshocton County, Ohio(later Holmes Co.) to Reuben Hall. Her brother, William Wheaton,(my second great grandfather) was married 13 January 1820 in Coshocton Co.,O. to Sarah HALL (possibly the sister of Reuben Hall). Sarah and William had a child which they named Reuben, which makes me think they named it after her brother. I don't know who Sarah's parents were, but know that they were born in New Jersey. Do you have any information on the Halls? Almira Wheaton Hall's branch of the family has been one of the missing links that I have been hunting.

I have traced the Wheaton lineage as follows:

THOMAS WHEADON: born probably in England,took the oath of fidelity 1657, married 24 May 1661 to Anne Harvey, died 1691. His chn: THOMAS 1663,Sarah 1666,Esther 1668,John1671, and Hannah 1675. Resided in Branford,Conn.

THOMAS WHEADON: born 31 May 1663 New Haven,Conn. Married 1686 to Hannah Sutliffe, dau. of Hannah Plympton and Nathaniel Sutliffe. He died 16 Oct. 1707 Branford,Conn. His chn: Hannah 1686,Abigail 1688,Thomas 1691,JOHN 1694, Nathaniel 1697, Rebecca 1701, Joanthan 1704, Martha 1707.

JOHN WHEADON: born Sept.1694 Branford,Conn. Married 10 Jan. 1716/17 to Mary Crowfoot, dau. of Margaret and Joseph Crowfoot. Chn: Mary 1717, Priscilla 1719, JONATHAN 1721, Elizabeth 1725.

I can send more complete information on each of the persons and bramches of the family, but it will take a few days to copy.

My first question is: how did you get my name? Was it through the Genealogical Helper? I sometimes run an ad in their magazine.

Some of the names connected with the family are: CANFIELD, LACY, COOK, CROWFOOT, SUTLIFFE, PLYMPTON, BALDWIN AND BASSETT.

Please let me know if you would like further information and I'll be glad to forward. Hope that you have some details on the Halls, because that has been a blind alley for me.

You mentioned that one of your ancestors lived in Toledo. Toledo is only 56 miles east of Defiance. I commute to Toledo two evenings a week to the University of Toledo for work on my masters degree in public health. I am an R.N., presently serving as acting health commissioner of the Defiance County Health Department.

I have correspinded with several others of the Wheaton line and will be glad to give you their names and the lines that they are connected with. One is Ralph Uhl Wheaton, who is in his late seventies and resides in Millersburg now.

Will look for your reply.

Dear Mrs Weaver,

Your letter arrived a couple days ago while I was out of town. I am a Captian for United Airlines and spend 3 or 4 days a week away.

First, I did see your add in the Genealogical Helper. I happened to be looking at some back issues and saw it.

You seem to much farther along in your research of the Wheatons, as I have been on the wrong road. I have been doing my family genealogy for about 5 years but the information about Almira, I found in my grant-fathers papers, said she was born in Boston and was married in Norwalk Ohio, although the dates were pretty close. So, I have spent a lot of time checking those areas. The census schedules did say she was born in Pa. but I couldn't resolve the differency until last april I was at the Morman Genealogical Library in Salt Lake City and I found in a history of Fulton Co. Ohio, a short biography of Russell Swiss, Sally Ann Hall's husband, and in it was the statement that Sally Ann was born in Holmes Co. Well, that unlocked the door. In 30 minutes I had the marriage of Reuben S. Hall and Almira Wheaton and I had Jonathan Wheaton's will which mentioned Almira Hall. I usually visit the Salt Lake City library about 2 times a year. (I have the advantage with my job of being able to travel very inexpensively.)

I am inclosing the Family group sheet copy of Reuben S. Hall ~~and~~ ~~the [illegible] Jonathan Wheaton~~. Reuben's is fairly complete except for the deaths of Elyajane and Mary and the wife of Anson. I can give the the decendents of Rebecca Hall down to my generation if you would like that. There are not a lot of dates on it, only names of each generation. I have not worked very hard on finding information on other than the grandparents and their first generation of children. However, if you have information to complete any empty spaces on my forms I would love to have it. (I now have it!)

As far as the parents of Reuben goes, I have drawn a blank there, too. The only clews I have are he was born in N.J. on 27 Jul. 1795 and, a meager clew, on the 1850 Ohio censsus of Reed township, Seneca Co., there was a Joseph Hall, age 85, living with Reuben and Almira. This Joseph was born in N.Y. but whether he was the father or not I don't know. The 1790 N.J. Head of household must list 20 Joseph Halls so I have got to find more information.

I am very familiar with the Toledo area. I was born there and lived there until I was 12 in 1933. My grandfather, Amos Clinton Sloan, was born on a farm in Richfield twsp, Lucas Co. and died in Toledo in 1965 at the age of 96. He taught school a Davis Business College in Toledo for over 60 years.

I live about 15 minutes from the Chicago branch of the National archives and visit it every month or so to check census records. If you would like any searching of the 1900 census, which they have just opened, let me know the name and location and I will be glad to do it. I have a research card for the 1900 census and all research must be done at the archives. A lot of new information is in the 1900 not in others and there is a good index of all heads of households and any other person in a household with a different family name.

I am also inclosing a short biography of Reuben and Almira. I, too, suspected that Reuben and Sarah Hall are brother + sister.

Let me know what information you would like and I will send it if I have it.

Sincerely,

Chet Hart

July 28,

P.S. This morning when I returned from San Francisco, I found your packet of information on the Wheatons and other branches. I have not had time to digest it all or check it against what I have. I will send the descendents of Rebecca Hall next week.

Chet

You may keep the pictures. I had extra.

Dear Mrs. Weaver,

Here are copies of the family groups sheets for the decendance of Almira Wheaton's daughter, Rebecca Hall Sloan, my great grandmother. As I said, I have not made an effort to trace any farther than the first generation children of the various grandparents. This information I found in my mothers papers.

The information and charts you sent have furnish me with a lot of new names and information on Jonathans ancestors. I had as far as the first Jonathan and Ann Cook and Ebenezer and Freelove Lacy. I was at the Newberry Library, here in Chicago, this week and found the following:

Seventh great grandfather, John Hall was born in England in 1605 (probably from Coventy, Warwickshire, England.) He arrived in Boston on the ship "Griffin" in the Company with Rev. Cotton in 1633. His family was No. 84 of those who first landed in Boston. He married Jane Woolen or Wollen in 1641.

She was also born in England in about 1620 and died in Wallingford, Conn., in 1678 or 1690 {two dates given}
John Hall moved from Boston to New Haven and then to Wallingford about 1669. In 1672 he and three of his sons were signers of the "Plantation Covenant". The sons, were Thomas, John, and Samuel, that signed with him. In 1675 he and his son John were chosen selectman of the town of Wallingford. John Hall died in Wallingford in 1676 at the age of 71. John Hall and Jane Woolen had nine children.

(Commemorative Biographical Record of New Haven, Conn. Pages 27, 205, 321, 337, and 968.)

Eighth great grandfather, Henry Jackson came to america in 1635, at the age of 29, in the ship "Elizabeth + Ann". He died in 1686. Henry Jackson's wife was Mary dau. of George Abbott of Norwalk. His will dated 11 Nov. 1682 was proved in Sept 1686. This document still in fine state of preservation, is in Fairfield.

You may already have this information.

Have you ever done any research of the English records? I noticed that 2 ancestors came from Devon in S.W. England. That is the same area that the Darts came from. The Darts are from Cheriton Bishop, Devon, which is on the north edge of the Dartmoors in Devon. I have checked out several of the early Parish Registers on microfilm in Salt Lake City and have traced a branch of the Darts to 1548 in Ashwater, Devon. There are about 34,000 parishes in England, of which, about 10% have been microfilmed and are on call at Salt Lake. I am planning a vacation in England this next month and have already made arrangements with the Devon Record Office in Exeter to do research of the Cheriton Bishop registers which are deposited there but have not been filmed. When I am there I will see if they have the registers for Dean Prior and Sherford. I know that the Dean Prior is on film in Salt Lake and if I don't find it in Exeter I'll check it the next time I go to Salt Lake. We plan to spend 1 week in London and about 2 week diving the countryside (1 week in Devon). This is our 3rd trip over there.

Thanks again for all the information.

Dear Mr. Dart,

Thank you for the information on the descendants of Almira Wheaton Hall. The data you sent on the Woolens and Halls and Jacksons was all new to me. Looks as if you have Halls strung all throughout your ancestry. You mentioned earlier that you have access to the 1900 census. Could you tell me what all is contained in that census? It could prove very valuable to me. If it is more detailed than the 1880 census(and it is bound to be), I have several missing links that might be picked up by this census. For example, my husband's great great grandfather and grandmother named Tracey and Ephraim Samsel were born about 1831 in Maryland and the last I could trace them was in 1880 in Pike Twp., Lyons Co., Kansas...It is possible that one of them or both could have been living in 1900. It would give me a better idea of where to locate their death certificates. For instance if one of them was listed on the census in 1900 and the other wasn't, then I would know that the other died between 1880 and 1900 and would make it easier to request a death certificate. Many of their children stayed in the West so they could have remained there. The Samsels have been a very elusive family for me to follow. I also am trying to track down more on Mary Jane Tressider, daughter of William Tressider. She was born 15 June 1846 in Cornwall, England and came to America in 1869. She had worked in the coalfields in England before sailing for here. She met my husband's great grandfather Iver Jensen on the boat. I thought if you happened to be near Cornwall during your tour of England, you might run across the name of Tressider. I did find a book on the Tressiders of Cornwall in the Ft. Wayne Library, but the data was too far back for me to make any connection.

By now, you have probably received E. S. Wheaton's material from Indianapolis, Ind. There is one discrepancy that I found in the material and that was that he listed a different mother for Freelove Canfield. As soon as I can copy all of the material on the Lacy family for you, I will send it to you, because it explains the error.

I am so hooked on genealogy that I have delved into several branches of both my family and my husbands. History has always had a fascination for me and nothing brings it more alive than this!

Perhaps sharing the information we find, we can gain a more complete picture of our ancestry.

I am glad that my parents knew where the town of Ai was, because I couldn't find it on the map! Also plan to visit Reedtown and West Lodi in Seneca County soon to see if any of the infant Wheatons are buried there. Perhaps Joseph Hall is buried there.

Hope to hear from you soon in regard to the 1900 census.

One of my husband's best friends Ed Mitchell is a pilot for National Airlines. He flies from Miami to Cal. (Los Angeles, I belie Even though you are on different airlines, you may happen to know him.

Dear Lucy,

I have check the index to the 1900 Federal census of the state of Kansas and was unable to locate an Ephraim or a Tracey Samsel. There were these Samsels listed, maybe they will help:

Melvin G.	Age	31	of Anderson Co.
Ella N.		25
Vergil M.		3
John		40	(bro)
George W.	Age	69	of Franklin Co.
Dradema(?)		58
Cleveland H.		?
George E.	Age	28	of Coffey Co.
Blanch		29
Frank N.		5
Annie	Age	22	of Shawnee Co.

This information is all from the index. I did not check any of these on the actual schedules but if any are of interest to you let me know and I'll check further. The additional data in the 1900 census is: month and year of birth, number of years married, number of children born to a mother and the number living in 1900, year immigrated to US and naturalization status, if lived in house or on a farm and whether it is owned or rented and if owned whether it is mortaged or free, and I think more but I can't remember what they are.

I have checked over the material from E. S. Wheaton and the only difference I can find between his and what you sent to me was that he showed or page 192 of his report that Freelove Canfield's mother was Mary Baldwin when the Vital Records of New Milford show that Freelove was the daughter of Azariah and Marcy. The Vital Records of Milford show that on 26 Feb 1719/20 Azariah Canfield married Mercy Baldwin by Major Sam(ue)ll Eells, Asst., but a note in the Barbour Collection of Vital Records says that she was probably a widow and she was Mercy Bassett.

Do you have this information on Nathaniel Sutliff from page 632 of Commemorative Biographical Record of New Haven, Conn?

> "...The first of the name of whom we have any record is Nathaniel Suttliff who lived at Medfield, Mass. in 1667. Dear Mrs. Wheaton:

I read in the Genealogical Helper for March 1976 that you are compiling a Wheaton genealogy. I apoligize for taking so long to respond to your announcement but I just discovered your note and so I am writing.

The Wheatons enter my ancestry in two places. I am sending you copies of pages from my ancestor chart to show you what I have. You probably have these already but I felt that I should send them anyway.

On page or chart No. 3, Isaac Sherman Kimberley married Sarah Wheaton. I wrote to the DAR asking them to clarify the statement that Kimberley lived for 107 years. They sent me word--a year and a half after my inquiry--that that was true. Jacobus in his book on the Kimberleys had other data which now can be considered incorrect. He was doubtful, he said, when he put it down in the Kimberley book.

On Chart 22, I have material copied from books on Harvey and Barnes.

I would be most interested in knowing who Abraham Wheadon (No. 30 on Chart 3) is. At present he is just a name.

On Chart 3, No. 1 is my great-great grandfather who married Mary Whiting and had among others:

Virginia Louise Wedge who married William Wilson Winter and had among others

Edward Cyprian Winter who married Lela Marie Thompson and had

Aileen Virginia Winter who married Leonard Joseph Ostendorf and had among others:

Paul John Ostendorf, family historian and amateur genealogist.

I hope your book is coming along just fine.

Sincerely,

Paul J. Ostendorf

it is estimated ten or twelve ancestors of Barnes families came from Surrey, Middlesex, and Norfolk Counties. One authority expresses the opinion that all of these had, without doubt, the same origin at some period in the mother country. (Virginia Genealogies, Hayden.)

Three of these pioneers coming to New England prior to 1638, bore the name of Thomas, and are known as Thomas Barnes of Hartford, Thomas Barnes of Hingham, and Thomas Barnes of New Haven. It is with the last named we are concerned.

American ancestry p162

I. Thomas Barnes was born in England about 1623, and came while young to this country, 1639. (Connecticut Genealogy 3: 1497.) He shared in the land distribution at New Haven, Connecticut, in 1643 (Coe-Ward Memorial, 78; New Haven Colony Records, 1643), and in 1644 signed the Colony Constitution there. (History of East Haven, Hughes, 24.)

With his brother Daniel, he settled on the plains south of Muddy River. From the colonial records of New Haven we glean the following fragmentary items about him.

> 1643. Thomas Barns fined 5s. for want of ladders.
> 1645. Thomas Barns required satisfaction of Ralph Dighton for a cow of his which perished as he conceives through his son's neglect, etc.
> 1647. Viewers chosen for the severall quarters of the town for this yeare ensewinge. . . . For Greyson's quarter, Henry Lindell and Thomas Barns.
> 1648. Thomas Barnes informed the court that he served a warrant upon James Till two or three months sinc, but he could not gett him to appear, but hath shifted him of one way or another, etc. (Coe-Ward Memorial 78, 79.)

In the assignment of seats in the meeting house, in 1646-7, Thomas and his "Goodwife" Barnes shared. Center Church was New Haven's only church at that time, and the placement and order observed in assigning seats was a matter of grave importance. The most prominent individuals in the community occupied the front seats, and the rest according to the degree of importance. A writer (Connecticut Genealogy 3: 1497) gives the list of names, with the number of the seats assigned, adding the observation: "In this connection . . . it is shown that all of the early ancestors of Mr. Barnes were prominent in those days, none being further back than the ninth seat in the church." Thomas Barnes was given the seventh seat on the men's side, while his wife occupied the sixth one on the women's side.

Thomas Barnes married (1) probably about 1646, m. in 1647 Mary .... Some historians record her as Elizabeth (Connecticut Genealogy 3: 1497; Barnes Family Year Book 1: 5), but the records of the church in New Haven show the baptisms of several of his children, with the statement that they were "brought by Mary Barnes, wife of Thomas Barnes." (New England Historical and Genealogical Register 9: 357.) The writer of Coe-Ward Memorial names a first and second wife, stating that the second wife, Elizabeth, died in 1689/90, which, if true, would indicate a third marriage by our immigrant, since in his will, witnessed 6 October 1692, he mentions "my loving wife." (Early Connecticut Probate Records, Manwaring, 1: 401.). According to another, Elizabeth did not die until 1694. (Ancestry of Arthur Orison Dillon, 1927, 11.)

About 1660 Thomas Barnes removed from New Haven to North Haven, and later made another move, to Middletown, where he died 10 June 1693, his will being admitted to probate 7 September of that year.

Children, probably by first wife, and all named in his will:

1. John, born 1648; married 1669 to Mercy Betts (Ancestry of Arthur Orison Dillon, 11). Joan Jones, widow, in her will of 27 December 1673, bequeaths to Mercy, wife of John Barnes. (New Haven Early Abstract and Probate Records 1: 126.)
2. Elizabeth, born 28 May 1650; married (1) Benjamin Brockett; married (2) John Austin. (Ancestry Arthur O. Dillon, 11.)
3. THOMAS, born 26 August 1653; married (1) Mary Hubbard; married (2) ABIGAIL FROST.
4. Mercy, born 1655; married (1) Bartholomew Jacobs; married (2) Joseph Thompson. (Dillon, 11.)
5. Abigail, born 16 March 1656/7; married either, or both, Captain Daniel Harris, jr. (Coe-Ward Memorial, 79); John Frost, jr. (Dillon, 11, 25), born 1668.7
6. Daniel, born 29 August 1659; married Mary Tappen. (Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, Lineage Book 10: 76.)
7. Martha, born 1661.
8. Maybee, born 25 June 1663; married Elizabeth Stow. (Dillon, 11.)
also carried on by abel Tuttle Barnes

II. Thomas[2] Barnes (Thomas[1]), born in New Haven, 26 August 1653, removed when a child with his father to North Haven, where he lived throughout life.

He was married (1) at New Haven, Mr. John Moss performing the ceremony, 26 June 1675, to Mary Hubbard. (New Haven Vital Records, printed, 1: 41.) Some writers (Barnes Family Year Book 1: 17) assert she died the following spring, and that he married (2) about 1677 (Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, Lineage Book 15: 48), Abigail, daughter of John and Mercy (Paine) Frost. Since the New Haven records carry clear entries of the marriage of John Frost and Mercy Paine on 9 June 1664 (New Haven Vital Records, printed, 1: 20) and of the births of their children succeeding, including that of Abigail on 8 October 1670 (ibid. 1: 29), it is beyond reason that she became the wife of Thomas Barnes in 1677 (at the age of seven), and bore children from 1679 to 1711, a period of thirty-two years, as must be inferred from the statements mentioned.

The more probable assumption is that the entry: "Mary, wife unto Thomas Barnes died April 1676," found on the old records (East Haven Register, Dodd, 162; New Haven Vital Records, 1: 45), refers to Mary, the first wife of Thomas Barnes, sr., as claimed by the writer of Coe-Ward Memorial (78, 79), and others (Genealogical Dictionary of New

Dear Br. Ostendorf

Thankyou for your letter in response to my add. The Abraham Wheadon you are seeking (# 30 on chart 3) is the son of John² Thomas¹ cousin of Hannah Wheden (# 7 on chart 22) daughter of Thomas²,¹. :

Thomas²

Hannah³
m
Hannah⁴ Plant

So I believe this would make Abraham and Hannah first cousins once removed.

Abraham³ was born at Branford, Conn. Nov 20 1705 son of John and Mary (Frost) Wheadon (she was dau. of John & Mercy (Payne) Frost) He married at Branford, Conn Mar 3 1730 Hannah Plant. He died Aug 6, 1762. Sarah (#15) was born at Branford, Conn. Apr 10, 1737. (his daughter).

John² Wheaden was born at New Haven, Conn. Dec 22, 1671.

These dates are all from the Conn Vital Records so they should be correct. I hope that this information will answer your questions.

I am primarily interesteale in the Wheaton families, but I have compiled a lot of Whedon information in the process. I have traced the Wheatons to Devonshire, England and I believe the Whedons originate from near Taunton, England. I will keep you in mind if I come up with any conclusive information on Thomas Whedon's ancestry. I hope that you will pass on any Wheaton or Whedon information you might find to me. Thankyou.

Most sincerely

Dear Lucy,

We returned from our trip to England the first of oct, but I have been unable to find any time for genealogy since returning. We had a wonderful trip. I drove 2000 miles on the left side of the road.

I am inclosing some pictures of the parishs churchs, from which the Marche's and Burt's came. These are all the original churchs dating back before 1500's. of coure they have been repaired and added to over the years but basicly the same churchs. I check through each churchyard for names of Marche and Burt on the tombstones but the oldest tombstone was about 1800. I did find the name Burt quite common around my fathers hometown of Launceston, Cornwall.

I made a copy of a page from the Cornwall telephone book. (The Plymouth area covers all of Cornwall). As you can see there are no Tressiders with 2 "S" but a number with 2 "d". The name of the telephone exchange is the name of the town or village in which they live.

I spent 6 hrs. (could have spent much more time) at the Devon Record Office in Exeter, working on the Darts. I was able to get back 1 generation but am sure if I had had more time I could have gone farther. In their records they have many of the original Parish Registes of Devon and for most parishs that they don't have the register for they have the original Bishop's transcripts. It was quit a thrill going though records written back to 1550.

I also spent an afternoon at the ~~[illegible]~~ library of the British Genealogical Society in London. They have a large collection but it is hard to find just what you are looking for, there are a lot of small rooms.

I hope the information on the Tressiders is some help and you can keep the pictures.

Sincerely,

Chet

daughter of Sergt. John Plymton, who was born in Cambridge, England and came to America in John Winthrop's company in 1640."

I can understand your problem in finding Ai. It is hard to find even when you are there. I have been wanting to visit Reedtown and West Lodi, also. I think that it is quite likely that both Halls and Wheatons are buried around there. If you go there, see if you notice any Sloans, also. They lived in Seneca Co. for 15-20 years and I suspect that an Alexander Sloan that died there before 1857 may have been my 3rd Great Grandfather.

I will be leaving for England on Sept 6, and will spend about a week in the Devon and Cornwall area. I'll see if there are any Tressiders still there.

I am inclosing some copies of Almira's Bible, you may find them interesting. Also, inclosed is some information on the Wheelers I found this week in the Valparaiso, Ind. Library. I try to spend one day a week in some library working on my genealogy hobby. I have been at it about 4 years. It all started because my son, Jim's wife had a daughter. It had been longer than anybody could remember that a girl had been born to the Dart family. My father was an only child and he had 2 sons, I had 2 sons, my brother had 1 son and he had 2 sons, and my son had already had 1 son when the girl came along. About that time I was planning a trip, also, to England and Jim said to find out, if I could, when the last girl was born to a Dart. After a day and a half of going through old British census records, I found that the last girl was born in 1856 to my 1st Great Grandfather. That got my interest going and I have gone on from there. I have only been able to trace the Darts to about 1790 but I am hoping to find more while in England. I have one branch on my grandmother Darts' side back to 1548.

I have been with United Airlines for 32 years but we don't get to know many pilots from other lines.

Sincerely,

Chet

Dear Chet,

Was glad to receive your letter and know that you had a pleasant trip to England. The photographs of the churches are really good and I certainly appreciated receiving them. The list of Tresidders might prove to be very helpful, if I get up enough nerve to write to one of them. The name Tresidder, like all the rest, probably has had many spellings over the years. Since I'm not familiar with the English area, I am wondering just how to address a letter. I imagine Cornwall is the equivalent of our states in the U.S.A. So probably, if I addressed a letter for example to M.Ellen Tresidder, Penegon Ho, Penegon, Camborne, Cornwall, England..that person would receive the letter. Any help you can give me in this area would be appreciated.

Like you, I have had little time to spend on genealogy. Although I did get some correspondence from Germany on my husband's family. In fact, a German historian replied to my letter and I now have seven additional ancestors for my husband with promises of taking the records back to 1600.

Remember my asking you to look up Ephriam Samsel in the 1900 census for Lyons Co.,Kansas and after you searched, you could not find him? I just found out that he died in 1914 in Nebraska. A lady in Mercer Island, Wash. that I have been corresponding with for two years recently published a book and she unearthed the information.

I"m wondering if you have a chance to look at the 1900 census again if you would check on JOHN HENRY KALLMEIER(or KALLMEYER) and his wife Anna. They would have been residing in Coldwater, Mercer County,Ohio probably in Butler Township. John would have been about 82 and his wife about 75 at that time. I am particularly interested in where their parents were born.

During the Christmas season, I hope to get back to genealogy since I will have some time off from school. Will share with you any new information that I find.

Thanks again for sending the pictures and the telephone listing.

Sincerely,
Lucy

Dear Ms. Weaver:

We have received your letter of December 1 requesting a search of our files for the death certificates of Ephriam Samsel, Jonathan L. Wheaton, and Callie Wheaton. We have also received the $9.00 check you enclosed.

Please find enclosed the certified copies of the death certificates of Ephriam Samsel and Jonathan L. Wheaton.

We have checked our indexes as far as possible, but from the given information have been unable to locate a death certificate for Callie Wheaton. If you know where burial was made, perhaps cemetery records could furnish information which would be of value to you.

If at some later time you can give a more exact date of death, please advise and we shall check further.

Dear Lucy,

Now that the holiday season is over, I have been able to do a little genealogy. In the last few weeks I have been to the Chicago Branch of the National Archives and have spent 2 days in Salt Lake City at the Genealogical Society Library of the Mormon Church.

At the Archives I "struck out" again on your request. I could not find a John Henry Kallmeyer by any spelling. I understand that starting with the first of the year, they have opened the 1900 census to general research and if this is true, libraries all over can obtain the films from the Archives. I doubt if they will have the index available.

In Salt Lake I found a few things that will be of interest to you. First, I found in the Computor File Index, a Sarah Hall born in Oct. 1801, in Basking Ridge, Somerset Co., New Jersey, daughter of Richard Hall. I found this information only, and it was just before I had to leave and I could not check the source of the information that was shown. I plan to make another trip out there in a couple of months and check it out at that time. I know that the year of birth is different than you have for Sarah Hall but that is not unusual to find. If this turns out to be the proper Sarah it may lead to the parents of Reuben, also.

Second, I found a couple of books on John Hall (your other Halls) of Wallingford, Conn. I am sure that you will be particularly interested to learn that we are the 2nd cousins, 6 times removed of Dr. Lyman Hall of Georgia, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence. I am inclosing copies of the first chapters of each book.

Also, I found in the parish registers of Cranfield, Bedfordshire, England the following entries:

Baptisms

1615 - Oct 20, Mary d Thos Wheeler of Bornend
1616 - Jun 15, Alice d Thos Wheeler of Warley
1617/8 - Feb 15, Ann d Thos Wheler
1618/9 - Mar 16, Efferham (Ephraim) s Thos Wheeler

Marriages

1613 - May 5, Thos Wheler and Ann Halsey

I had previously found information that stated that Sarg. Ephraim Wheeler was probably born in Cranfield so these entries must be our ancester although the spelling is not always the same. If this is true then Thos Wheeler and Ann Halsey are another generation to that line.

The following information was copied, in the Town Clerks Office, from the Index to the Vital Records of the Town of Milford, at Milford, Conn., during Sept. 1978. The actual record could not be found at that time.

Births

NOTED Hine, Alice d Thomas b Oct 5, 1666 (Vol. 1, page 7)

Dear Mrs Weaver,

While looking thru the Nov-Dec issue of the Genealogical Helper, I saw your ad for the Wheaton family.

As Defiance is close to Swanton I wondered if our families are the same.

My cousin, Chester Dart, in Chicago has been doing research on the Sloans and Wheatons. Almira's grandfather was in the American Revolution. Is this your family? If so, are you a member of the DAR?

I'm sorry I don't have much on the Wheaton family to exchange with you as I am just starting this line. I would appreciate any information that you could send to me.

Thank you

Dear Jana,

I received your letter yesterday about the WHEATON family. You are right, our ancestors are the same. I have been corresponding with your cousin Chester Dart for some time. He originally saw my ad in the Genealogical Helper and we compared notes and found that Almira Wheaton was a sister to my great-great grandfather William Wheaton. We also believe that Reuben Hall, brother of Almira Hall Wheaton, so that makes it even more interesting. Right now I don't have an extra copy made up of the Wheaton Genealogy, but will send you a brief diagram of the information.

Chet and I were surprised to discover that our ancestors lived in such close vicinity..Defiance County and Fulton County. Hopefully, we can get all of the bits and pieces of information together and solve some of the questions that we have.

I believe that our Wheaton ancestry starts in England, then emerged from Conn. to N.Y., Penn. and then Ohio.

It was certainly nice to hear from you and will keep in touch.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

Re: your query in "The Helper" (Nov.-Dec. issue '78)
I can be of no assistance on your Rohrer, or Samsel, lines. I do note your offer to share on the surname Wheaton.

I seem to have exhausted family information, which offers me a Bible record, giving names and dates of both my great, and great great grandfathers, and their children.

The census (1860) Steuben Co., Ind. gives New York, as place of birth.

My great great grandfather was:
George Wheaton, b. June 14, 1806 d. ?
m. Ocean ______ b. Jan. 21, 1811, d. Mar. 21, 1850
I have the childrens names and dates if you are interested, and think you may have some clue to help me.

Family tradition say, "Ocean, was born at sea and given her name by the Captain of the ship.
Wheaton does not seem to be a common surname, so perhaps there is a connection with your lines.

I will highly appreciate any help you may offer.

Please excuse uneven margin, my desk needs clearing, I guess.

Dear Erma,

So glad to hear from you and receive the most interesting genealogical record of Jonathan Wheaton.

I know of Anna Wheeler and Ora Evelyn Roan, although I have not been acquainted with all their offspring. Lawrence Roan lives here in Toledo at 4202 Bowen Road and runs a dry cleaning establishment on Sylvania Avenue with the help of his wife, Irene. I called him about Sarah E. Walker but he said he has no knowledge of her. Even his mother, Evelyn Roan, was too young and had no information as to where she was buried. He suggested that Evelyn Dowell at Hicksville, Ohio might know of Sarah Walker. Evelyn is the daughter of Ella and Forrest Monroe.

Fred C. Roan 1906-1928 was never married. Lawrence did not know Ford Ortez wife's name or Richard Deloy's wife. Evelyn may be able to furnish these names. Charles Eugene's wife is Lois Thomas.

Nellie Kline's parents were: George Kline, born in Freedom Twp., Henry County, November 24, 1846 - died April 7, 1918. Rosanna Bates born in Freedom Twp., Henry County, March 16, 1851, died September 20, 1931. Both buried in Pettesville Cemetery.

Nellie Kline was born September 20, 1883 in Freedom Twp., Henry County, and died April 11, 1960. James Wheaton was born on May 25, 1876 and died February 9, 1960. I do not know where but I remember when Dad was applying for Social Security he went to Henry County and learned that birth records were destroyed in a fire at the court house. They both were buried in Locust-Grove Cemetery at Ridgeville Corners, Ohio.

Estel Orneal Wheaton was born in Ridgeville Corners, Ohio on January 1, 1909 and died June 11, 1957. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery.

My parents were Joseph Vincent Echler and Anna Kulpa. If you need birth place or dates let me know so I can get this information from my oldest sister at Lansing.

I was born in Utica, New York on May 22, 1918. Estel and I had four children as follows:

James Richard born June 23, 1948 - unmarried
Thomas Alan born November 3, 1949 - married to Michelle Hall
    They have two children - Jennifer and Alan Thomas
Barbara Jean Wheaton born August 15, 1952 died May 26, 1955
Ronald Leslie Wheaton born May 7, 1956 - Student at University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado. He lives at 915 University Avenue.

I am passing on all the information sent me to my daughter-in-law who is attending University of Toledo Community College.

Best wishes,
Fran

Noticed in your ad in the May-June "Genealogical Helper" that you listed WHEATON genealogy. Could you send me details? I am a descendant of Thomas WHEADON(WHEATON) of Branford, Conn. Other names that I am interested in from the New England area are: LACY, SUTLIFFE, CANFIELD and CROWFOOT.

Thank you.

Dear Lucy,

I am sorry to be so long in getting around to sending you the bits of information I found in New England during Sept.

Most of the data is not new but confirms what we already have. I had not known much of the King Philip War and during our visit to Deerfield, Mass., I purchase some books and did some study of the fighting around that area in which the Crowfoot's, Plympton's and Sutliffs were involved. I hope you find my condensation of what I found of interest. I also picked up a copy of the Plympton Gen. from which I have projected the possible ancestors in England.

I want to return to Deerfield someday and visit their library where they are supposed to have much gen. of the early settlers. I was there Sunday and it was closed.

I sure did enjoy our little visit in Aug.

Sincerely,

Chet

Dear Lucy:

Thank you for your letter of 16 December 1979. I appreciate the charts you sent and also that you took the time to prepare them during the holidays. I am also impressed to see that you have two complete charts of ancestors. You must have been working very hard on your genealogy.

I plan to write to Mrs. Kelly Wheaton. I have seen her name in Genealogical Helper. I will mention your referral when I write.

It is my husband, of course, who is descended from Thomas Wheadon. We started with an outline passed down to us listing only descendants with an occasional year--no places or any other information. We think his grandfather had some research done and have asked for a copy. However, he has passed away and if it exists it is packed away. We have been attempting to fill in the blanks through research.

My sources have been "Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England" VOL IV S-Z by James Savage 1977, and "Families of Ancient New Haven" compiled by Donald Lines Jacobus 1923.

The birth date for Thomas (1) --1638--came from our family outline. However, this weekend I found the following in Directory of the Heads of New England Families 1620-1700:

Whedon, Whealdon, Whieldon
A place where mines are worked. Wheal is frequently applied to signify a mine, and dun or din a hill.

Thomas, b. Eng., about 1635, took oath of fidelity New Haven, Conn. before 1667, died 1691.

This is a source for New Jersey as a place of residence:

Savage, James, "Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England, p. 496

Whedon, Thomas, New Haven had been bound appr. in Eng. to John Meigs, just bef. com. to learn his art of tanner, took o. of fidel. 1657, m 24 May 1661, Ann Harvey, had Thomas, b 31 May 1663; Sarah, 23 Apr. 1666; Esther, 26 Jan 1668; rem. to Branford where he had been propr. bef. 1667, there had John, a. 1671; and Hannah, a. 1675; join. the new compact of settlem. in lieu of that wh. by those wh. went to N.J. had govern. until then; and d. 1691, leav. wid. and 5 ch.

Jan. 26, 1979

Dear Lucy Weaver:

First I owe you an apology for not responding to your letter last May, regarding our Wheaton ancestors,

At this late date I want to thank you for your kind response to my letter, when I had just began my search for my Wheaton family.

I have been most fortunate on my family for such a short time spent. After visiting Steuben Co., Ind, and finding the cemetery where my great great Grandfather George Wheaton, (1866) was buried, but no grt. grt. Grandmother, I ran a query.

In response to the query - to my amazement a lady in Elkhart, Ind. (11 mile away) had my answer, which took me to Hillsdale, Mich. to visit a cousin I did not know of.

There I found the grave of my grt grt Grandmother Ocean - Ockann Marvin Wheaton. 1811-1850. To top it off a Pedigree Chart for my Wheatons starting 1606.

After corresponding with another cousin who compiled the chart I found he had no source except family.

After checking with Mrs. Kelly Wheaton, of Napa, Calif, she confirmed it was basically correct.

My first ancestor to the U.S. was Robert Wheaton, born 1606 (Prob. England) to Swansea, Mass. 1636, d. in Rehoboth, Mass. 1696.

I am trying now to find where my third and fourth great Grandfathers settled. They were Miles Wheaton, 1764-1852- and his father Jonathan Wheaton, 1725, Swansea, Mass. d. 1811.

You may have collected a name and address of some one who descends from Robert, and I could help them, as well as they just might have mine.

Probably these early Wheatons were related. If any of mine were in Conn. later I just dont know yet.

I have not sent for Jonathans, Rev. War. Records yet. I was more interested in finding the other families first.

Did you get the answers you were looking for on your line? I hope so.

I note some of yours use the same given names as mine.

I think my Wheatons, came from Oswego Co., N.Y. or Orleans Co. in the 1840's, to Mich.

Be nice to hear from you at your convenience.

Sincerely
Mrs. Velma Adams

Dear Velma,

Thank you for your recent note regarding your success with your branch of the WHEATON FAMILY. I looked through my correspondence to see if I had anything directly related to the WHEATONS of Swansea, but could not find anything. I don't believe I sent you names of other WHEATON correspondents..they are:

Deborah Michaelis 10810 Telephone Rd. Houston, Tex. 77075

and of course, Kelly Wheaton with whom you have corresponded.

You mentioned Orleans Co. in your last letter. The son of my Jonathan Wheaton..David was mentioned in his father's will as of Orleans Co.,Ind. This was in 1824. We never found a trace of David's family.

Will keep your letter for future reference. Good luck!

Sincerely,
Lucy

Attention Clerk of Probate Court:

I would like a copy of the death record for Nancy Robinson, wife of William Robinson, who was born in the 1820's and died after 1867 in Wood County, Ohio. I am sorry that I can not give you the exact date of her death. I only know that she died a few years after her husband, who died in 1867. The article from which I obtained the information was published in 1897, so her death would have occurred prior to that year.

Enclosed is a check for $2.00 to cover the fee for your service.

Thank you very much for your kind assistance.

Dear Lucy,

Since our mechanics have been on strike for the last 4 weeks, I have been out of work and have been spending at least a day a week in a lib. working on geneal. Last week I found the inclosed article in The American Genealogist Magazine and I knew that you would be interested in it.

I think I gave you the information on the ancestors of Henry Gregory last summer when I was in Defiance. This article not only confirmes that information but extends the line back through the Parr and Worsley familys to about 1150. Of course, all of this is hard to prove without a lot of further work. It is interesting to note the part about being related to an heir to the British Crown. I figure that it is about our 18th cousin.

I have not been able to come up with anything new on the Halls of New Jersey. I was in Salt Lake City in Jan. and was unable to find anything other that which I found last year, just the name. The name Hall is just too common in those parts to be able to come up with anything.

Sincerely,

Chet

Dear Mrs. Ettling,

Yesterday, during a visit to the Millersburg Festival, I met Mildred Wile of Wooster, Ohio, who told me that you are a Wheaton descendant and have been working on the family history. I too, am a Wheaton descendant and have compiled notes for the past eight years on the Wheaton Gnnealogy. I took the liberty to correspond with you to see if we had information which could be shared.

My descent is as follows: Jonathan and Penelope Lacy Wheaton / William A. Wheaton born 1798/
Erma Arvilla Wheaton Rulman 1905/ Lucy Rulman Weaver 1933.

Previously I have visited and talked with Ralph Uhl Wheaton of Millersburg, also a descendant of Jonathan whose descent is through Anson Melvin Wheaton, son of Jonathan.

I have materials ion the Wheaton Ancestry back to 1647 and on the maternal branches of Penelope Lacy several generations back.

If you are interested in corresponding or exchanging information, I would like to hear from you. Enclosed is a self-addressed stamped envelope for your convenience.

I am sorry that we did not have time to stop and see you. We live 180 miles from Millersburg and had to start for home shortly after we had learned of your name.

Dear Mrs Weaver,

I am sorry that I have not written sooner, I am a poor letter writter and haven't had the time to look and see if I had any information that you would be interested in.

I have known Ralph Uhl Wheaton casually for many years but did not know what our roots were, until this summer. Mr Wheaton gave me what he had on the Wheaton's and I had a copy made and also one for Mildred Wile, for I had written her to see what she could tell me.

My decent is as follows: Jonathan and Penelope Wheaton / Anson Wheaton and Rebecca Cook / Harriet Ann Wheaton Farver / Elizabeth Ellen (Ella) Farver Poulson / Ralph W. Poulson / Irene Poulson Etling. I would appreciate any information I can get. I waited until the older folks were gone, befor I got interested.

I happen to run into information on the Poulson family, which has been hard to find and it is at a stand still at this time.

Dear Mrs. Branson,

The "Genealogical Helper " arrived today and I saw your ad regarding ancestry of Anne (SMALL) HARVEY, who married 1661 Thomas Wheadon. I can not help you with the parents of Anne, but was interested in exchanging WHEADON-WHEATON genealogy with you. Since you did not inquire about the parents of Thomas Wheadon, do you have that information or the place of his birth? You must have delved into it extensively to realize that Anne was probably the Anne Small, maid, written up in the New Haven Records, who married or was engaged to marry a Frenchman by the name of Francis Harvey. How are you related to the WHEADON-WHEATON line?

Dear Ms. Weaver,

I noticed your entry in the Genealogical Helper for Sept-Oct 1979 on Thomas Wheadon, m 1661 New Haven, CT. Enclosed you will find a page from my ancestor chart. The original is such a mess that I typed it over for you.

The Wheadon material I received from Mrs. Kelly Wheaton. At present I am not able to locate her address. She moved.

The Frost and Paine material is from Ancestry & Posterity of Joseph Smith and Emma Hale by Mary A. S. Anderson. Independence, MO, 1929.

Mrs. Wheaton also said that Thomas Whedon, m 1661, was a bound apprentice to John Meigs to learn tanning.

Isaac Sherman Kimberley, Sarah Wheadon, Abraham Wheadon and Hannah Plant are listed in The Genealogy of the Kimberley Family, by Donald L. Jacobus. Neenah, Wisconsin: James Cheney Kimberly, 1950. The Kimberleys came from Wootton under Edge, co. Gloucester, England.

Isaac Sherman Kimberley and Sarah Wheadon are my 5greats grandparents. The direct line runs Paul J. Ostendorf, Aileen Virginia (Winter) Ostendorf, Edward Cyprian Winter, Virginia Louise (Wedge) Winter, Homer Lorenzo Wedge, Lucinda (Holloway) Wedge, Elizabeth (Kimberley) Holloway, Isaac and Sarah.

On the Wheatons I have no other information. On closer generations and other families I have collected much more. I would be very pleased to furnish more if you wish it. Naturally, I would like to have more on the Wheadons if you have been fortunate to find some or if you have been given some from other family historians.

I am an amateur genealogist. Occasionally I teach genealogy on campus and I am the head librarian for the college. Since this is Thanksgiving vacation, I have had some time to work on my hobby.

No doubt you must use the Fort Wayne library for your searching. I understand they have an excellent genealogical library there.

At your convenience I hope to hear from you.

Sincerely,

Paul J. Ostendorf

Dear Brother Paul,

Your letter arrived yesterday regarding the WHEATON GENEALOGY. I studied your ancestor chart carefully. It was interesting to note the "double" Wheaton ancestry. Enclosed are my ancestral charts. You will note one major difference which shows up distinctly on our charts. Your Thomas Whedon, son of Thomas & Ann Harvey married Hannah Barnes, oldest daughter of Mercy Botts & John Barnes. My charts show Thomas Wheadon, son of Thomas & Ann Harvey Wheadon, marrying Hannah Sutliffe, daughter of Hannah Plympton and Nathaniel Sutliffe..my records state that Hannah married (2) ________ Barnes. I would be interested to learn more on your background material regarding Hannah..since I have quite a bit of Sutliffe-Plympton Genealogy (most of which I received from other genealogists)..This is the first time that I have seen the Hannah Barnes as such.

Also was interested in the statement "maybe from Taunton,Eng." above the earliest Thomas Wheadon.. So far that is the only clue that I've seen as to Thomas' origin. Also have seen the theory that Anne Harvey was the servant Ann Small, who was engaged to marry Francis Harvey, a Frenchman.

Kelly Wheaton and I corresponded several years ago. I sent her Wheaton(Wheadon,etc. names) from the Barbour Collection taken from the microfilm at the Fort Wayne,Ind. Public Library. Hadn't heard from her in a long time. Have had several correspondents who are descendants from the Robert Wheaton line in Rehoboth,Mass. Also wondered if he and our Thomas were brothers.. Thomas took the oath of fidelity in 1657 and so did Robert.

I presume that you are Catholic from your title. I am,too. My Wheaton line is Protestant, but my mother married a Catholic.

Will enclose a map of Branford, which I evidently forgot to mark the source..(it is difficult to be organized when one often runs out of time when doing genealogy).

Would like to hear from you again..perhaps there is other material which you do not have.. I will search through my files to see if there is anything else.

Sincerely,

Lucy Weaver

Dear Lucy,

It was wonderful to receive your response so quickly to my request about the Wheaton family. I had sent out about eight letters at the same time I sent yours but you are the only one who has answered and so quickly.

You have sent so much material that I really don't know where to start so I will take your letter first.

About the Barnes questions: I thought that I would be able to answer that one easily but the paper I have with the reference on it just says "page 311-2" on it. I will have to go back to the historical society in Madison, WI to find out what is the source. I thought it was Savage but it is not. You will have to wait for an answer on this because I usually get there about once a year and I don't expect to get down there until someone takes me. I drive but I don't have the use of an auto since I live on campus and would have to rent one. Even though the college charges us only fourteen cents a mile, the pennies add up. Madison is about 170 miles from here.

Check the letter from Mrs. Kelly Wheaton about "maybe from Taunton, Eng." You will note that I put in the "maybe," I was not sure. I do not want the letter back. I made a copy. Please note the new address for her. I got that out of the Genealogical Helper.

Yes, I am Catholic. I belong to the Christian Brothers. I'm just a few years older than you are: born in St. Louis, 21 Feb 1931. I'm going to visit my mother at Christmas and take your letter and material with me. My mother and I work on the families together. Lately, she lets me do all the work but she is still very active.

You have sent so much material. I am delighted. I made copies of your charts so I am returning your originals. You can send them again to a researcher. I hope you got a lot of inquiries about your entry in the root cellar.

Taking a second look at your sheet on Thomas Wheadon and Hannah Sutliffe, I see that you have her marrying a Barnes as her second husband. Maybe that is where I have it twisted. I take so much on faith from people who are closer to sources than I can get, I will have to work on this. I am familiar with the Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New Eng. I'm sending you a copy of a page from Anderson's Ancestry and Posterity of Joseph Smith and Emma Hale. The sheet on Anne (Small?) Harvey is very interesting. I didn't have anything on it either.

All is well. Have a pleasant and a holy Christmas.

Thank you again for your help.

Sincerely, Br. Paul J. Ostendorf, FSC Brother Paul

Dear Mrs. Weaver,

You recently wrote to my mother, Dorothy Branson, about our Wheadon query in the "Helper." She is (still) trying to finish the final typing of her latest book & get it to the publisher before the end of the year. Her original deadline was summer, then Oct., etc. Because of this, her genealogical hobby has had to suffer a bit and she now advertises for me to answer. I hope you do not mind the substitution.

I'm enclosing our line from Thomas, the immigrant, down through my mother; just add my name below hers. We don't have any additional information on Thomas. We didn't ask about him in the query because we're trying to solve the problem of his wife right now. I do have that he was an apprentice to a John Meigs, tanner, in England. Also, that Anne was an apprentice girl to a Mr. Yale before her marriage. Most of the information we have on Thomas & Anne has come from Jacobus' Fairfield book. As far as I've been able to ascertain, Anne wasn't actually married to Francis Harvey; they published their intention but the court would not approve it. An engagement at that time was considered almost as binding as was the marriage so that Anne, even though not married to F. Harvey, might have been known as "Anne Harvey" in town & so used that name when she married Thomas Wheadon. Other than what you wrote in your letter & the above assumptions, we have nothing further.

My mother suggested that you write to a correspondant of hers: Jana Broglin, 1-2780-E, Swanton, OH 43558, who descends Thomas 1,2, John, Jonathan, Jonathan, Almira. I myself have corresponded with a cousin of Jana's, Chester Dart (10701 S. Washtenaw Ave., Chicago, IL 60655) who has been extremely helpful. In fact, it was Chet whotold me that Anne & Francis were refused permission to marry by the court.

I'm sorry that I haven't been extremely helpful to you, myself. If I should EVER discover anything about Anne, I'll certainly let you know! Good luck!

Dear Marian,

Thank you for your letter re: the WHEDON,WHEADON,WHEATON line. I reviewed the chart you sent and will send you the family group sheet on Nathaniel Wheadon(listed as no. 2 on your chart. I am descended from Thomas Wheadon also and will enclose my chart of lineage.

You might be interested in contacting Mrs. Kelly Wheaton, [redacted] 5505 Dry Creek Road, Napa, CA. 94558.. We have corresponded over the years and she is compiling Wheaton-Whedon information. If you write to her, please tell her that I referred you.

The only information that I have on your David Whedon (no. 1 on your chart) beyond marrying Zillah Shelly is a son born 22 Aug. 1760 Branford, Conn. ..named Edmund Whedon.

You probably have the children of the original Thomas... but will list them for you:
1. Thomas, b. 31 May 1663 New Haven, Conn. mar. Hannah Sutliffe
2. Sarah b. 23 Apr. 1666..same. m. Samuel Elwell
3. Esther, b. 26 Jan. 1668..same.m. Edward Johnson
4. John , b. 22 Dec. 1671, Branford, Conn. m. Mary Frost
5. Hannah, b. 21 July 1675, Branford, Conn. m. John Thompson

Was interested to see the birthdate of 1638 for Thomas(1).. I had never seen it.. I know that he had been a bound apprentice in Eng. to John Meigs, as a tanner.. he took the Oath of Fidelity in 1657.. Was also interested to note the question about his deathplace.. N.J.?? Would be interested to hear more about these items.

Thomas Wheadon(2) married 1686 Hannah Sutliffe, dau. of Hannah Plympton and Nathaniel Sutliffe. He died: 16 Oct. 1707 Branford, Conn. Chn: Hannah, b.1686 Conn. d. 5 Nov. 1754; m.John Plant; Abigail, b. 1688 Conn., m. May 1710 Nathaniel Page; Thomas, b. 1691 Conn., died 1752, m. 6 May 1714 Eunice Swain; March 1734 Elizabeth Porter, widow of John Ludington; and 3rd to Mary ___/ JOHN WHEADON, B. Sept. 1694 Branford, Conn. married Mary Crowfoot; Nathaniel Wheadon, b. 1697 Conn. mar. Rhoda Wheeler; Rebecca Wheadon, b. 1701 Conn. mar. her cousin John Wheadon; Jonathan Wheadon, b. 1704 Conn. died 1714/15; Martha Wheadon, b. 1707 Conn. mar. 5 Jan. 1724/5 to Stephen Barnes.

There is also speculation that Anne Harvey, wife of Thomas (1) was Anne Small, the maid who married Francis Harvey, a Frenchman, but the Court disapproved the marriage since she was a bound servant.

Would be interested in hearing from you again.. I have other information of Hannah Sutliffe's background also.

Sincerely,

Lucy M. Weaver

Would like to have more on your descent from David Whedon.

Dear Kelly,

Since I was looking over old correspondence on the WHEATON Family, came across your name and address again. How are you doing on your data for the WHEATON book? Several people have written to me and sent charts on their lineage. There certainly are quite a few Wheaton descendants around. Thought maybe you would like a carbon copy of the list of correspondents that I have had. If some have not already written to you..thought you might like to contact them for their information.

I finally finished my college work and received a master of science and education degree in public health enabling my appointment as Defiance County Health Commissioner in Sept. 1978. Our daughter Ann was married July 27, 1979 and now lives in Jackson, Michigan. I now have a little more time to spend on genealogy. Hope with our round robin of letters that we can piece together all of our information and come up with an interesting history of the family.

See by your change of address(which Brother Ostendorf gave me) that you now have your new home. Would like to hear from you as to your progress on the Wheatons.

Sincerely,

Dear Marian,

Delayed answering your last letter of January 17, 19~~79~~ 80 until I had more time to type up some SUTLIFFE data for you. I started with HANNAH SUTLIFFE who married Thomas Wheadon and worked backward.. it may be hard to follow. I believe that it will give you a few more lines on your pedigree chart. In regards to your paragraph from SAVAGE re New Jersey..I don't know how to interpret that one..it may mean that others went to New Jersey while Thomas stayed in Branford.. I do know that there are WHEATON spices and candies made in New Jersey..so a branch must have gone there.

Didn't see anything on your chart about JOHN PYMPTON..he was the father of HANNAH PLYMPTON ,who married NATHANIEL SUTLIFFE.

Sergt. John Plympton was born abt. 1620 Cambridge,Eng. Came to America abt. 1640 with the Winthrop Party. Mar. 13 March 1644 to Jane Dummer, dau. of Richard Dummer. D. shortly after Sept. 19,1677, killed by Indians,led by Ashpelon, taken to Canada,burned at the stake. Chn: HANNAH b. 1645 Dedham,Mass. John 1645/6,d. If you have any other particular questions on this line..will try to help..I received a great deal of help from other persons.. since I work fulltime and went back to graduate school the past four years..I could never have found all of the information on my own. Presently I have a dozen notebooks full of my husband's family lines and my own.. next assignment is to trace my daughter's husband's family line in preparation for their future children.

His Medfield place was, without doubt, sold to Joseph Bullard who was living there in 1675. The house was burned by the Indians and appears never to have been rebuilt. Dear Lucy,

It was so nice to get your letter and I apologize for not replying sooner. We just returned from a 2 week trip back to my husbands hometown in North-central, Pennsylvania (Emporium) It was our first plane trip for all of us and it was so nice to visit family and friends. The last few years have been busy ones for us. We began construction on our home in the Spring of 1977 at which time we were also blessed with a son, Joseph who is now almost 3. We have since completed our home and moved in the Summer of 78. And last March we had a daughter Anne Marie, now almost one. We built the home ourselves so between houses same.

I still keep hoping to start a newsletter one of these days. But I'm not sure when or where it will fit in. I'm still hoping to get it all together one of these days —.

The information you sent from the Conn Vital Records has been a great deal of help in sorting out the Whedons and Wheatons. I still have a block wall on my husbands line in New York and New Jersey and haven't had the time to devote to it.

I will try to pass along to you all the descendants of Thomas who write to me and when I come up with anything new. Please keep in touch and hopefully one of these days I'll be able to pursue those Wheatons again

Sincerely

Kelly Wheaton

Dear Ida,

The Ohio Genealogical Society had written to my mother Erma Rulman that you are researching Hannah Plympton. She gave me the letter to answer... in the meantime your letter to my mother arrived stating you were researching the SWIFT line. In looking over your chart, I saw the SUTLIFFE connection. You are much more closely related to the SUTLIFFE line than we are(as you will see by the summary enclosed). If you have any information on the SUTLIFFE name which you think could be helpful to us, would certainly appreciate it.

I think the ancestor card file is a great idea..have received several leads from persons in other parts of the country. Have had correspondents before from the state of California.

Also noticed that we are about the same age. Please let me know if there is anymote information that we can send to you.

Sincerely,

Lucy(Rulman) Weaver

Dear Lucy,

Thought I had done it again - write two letters and mail to the wrong parties - but this time it was the OGS as your mother's name and address is on a Swift notice, also a Michael Clegg which I had received another notice of researching Sarah Savage, wife of Nathaniel Sutliff, Jr.

As for Sutliff information, you seem to have the same as I do for the earlier generations, except I did not have Abraham Sr's wife, Sarah. My source of info was two Sutliff genealogies, one by Bennett Hurd Sutliff and the other by Samuel Sutliff. I have xerox copies of these if you have not seen them.

Incidentally, they both contain the same error - John Plympton's wife was Jane Damant (Daman/Damin), not Jane Dummer. Jane Damant, age 9, was a passenger on the "Elizabeth and Ann" in April 1635 with her mother, Abigail Eaton and two Eaton children. Abigail had married John Eaton - he died 10 Nov 1658; bequeathed to wife Abigail, children John, Mary and Abigail, to John Damant of Reading and to John Plympton of Medfield. Various references for this information, such as Pope's Pioneer's of Massachusetts, Plympton Genealogy, and the following as extracted from DAMON MEMORIAL by S C Damon 1882.

"John Damon of Reading (1620 - 1708). The founder of the Reading family was born in 1620 in Reading, co Berkshire, England. He was baptized 25 June 1620 and was the son of John Damon, as appears upon the parish records of the St. Lawrence Church, Reading. He sailed for America in 1633.

"There is little doubt but the Damons and Eatons of Reading were related at that early date, 1635. John Eaton of Dedham, in his will dated 2 September 1658, gives "to John Damant of Reading" and his heyers, the sum of five pounds. To John Plympton of Medfield, John Eaton gave the "like sum of five pounds.

"Jane Dammand, age 9, was a passenger with the family of John Eaton, on the Elizabeth and Ann, which vessel came from London to New England in the spring of 1635. The passengers also included Thomas Eaton, age 1; Abigail Eaton, age 35; and Marie Eaton, age 4. This Jane Dammand married at Dedham 1644 John Plimpton. The record runs "1644, John Plimpton and Jane Dammin were married the 13 of 1 mo."

As you no doubt know, John Plympton was captured by the Indians and taken to Canada where he was burned at the stake. After his death, his widow Jane married Nicholas Hyde (Ide) in 1679. I do not haveher date of death, but searching the vital records of Rehoboth, Mass, I find Nicholas Ide Sr buried 18 October 1690 at Rehoboth; and the marriage of Jane Ide and George Kendrick 1 April 1691 - six months later. This George Kendrick had children almost the same age as Nicholas Hyde's children, so I strongly suspect our Jane Damant Plympton Hyde now becomes Jane Kendrick. George Kendrick died in Boston, his wife Jane mentioned in Boston records - so will now check out Boston records for Jane Kendrick.

I have a Plympton Genealogy by Levi Chase, which is interesting reading - I can send you xerox copies if you are interested, or have not already seen this material.

As for Hannah (Plympton) Sutliff - she married a Samuel Harrington in 1677, he died 25 July 1719 but I have not found any record of her death.

Interesting bit - I have been corresponding with a Mrs. Clemens of Michigan. Her husband is also a descendant of Thomas and Hannah (Sutliff) Wheadon. In case you want to contact her, her address is:
Marjorie S. Clemens, 1941 Commonwealth, Benton Harbor, Mich 49022.
My line of descent is through Hannah's brother Nathaniel Jr and Sarah Savage, as shown below.

Nathaniel - Hannah Plympton
Nathaniel Jr - Sarah Savage
John - Mehitable Plumbe
John - Lucy Hodgkin
Gad - Catherine Squire
Salmon - Anna Beeman
William Henry Harrison Sutliff - Phebe Gott
George Warren - Emily A Bruce
Bruce Hare - Emma Schmidt
Charles Lloyd - Verda E Mason
Ida Sutliff - Albert Frank

If you have anything further of the earlier Sutliff generations, other than the two sources I mentioned, I certainly would appreciate receiving it. I would give my eye teeth for a copy of "The History of Lorain County, Ohio" as I am sure it would give me some clues on the Beeman family, and perhaps the Squires. I have a Gott genealogy, they were some more of my Ohio ancestors.

I am now searching all back issues of The American Genealogist, so perhaps will find something there on the Sutliff's. It is interesting that I don't find them in Pope's Pioneers. Have only seen the first 4 TAG's and there are 24, so will take awhile as I get 4 volumes at a time through my local library from Sutro Library in San Francisco. If I find anything of interest I will send it along to you. I also get books from the New England Historic and Genealogical Society's circulating library, so am searching vital records from there. Rather a slow process, but perhaps more efficient ad I am working on all my family lines, not just Sutliff. By doing it in my home I can check all family lines as I have all my records available.

Yes, I agree that the ancestor card file is a great idea - my only problem is I have forgotten which ones I have sent in, as at the time I only sent the ones pertaining to Ohio ancestors, and I have even found more of them just recently... Hare, Bruce and Teeter.

Well, I certainly did't start out with the intentions of writing a bulletin, so guess I had better bring this to a close. It is always so interesting to hear from others working on the same family lines, sharing what little bits and pieces of information, etc. So hope to hear from you again soon, and will send along anything I find and hope you will do the same.

Sincerely,

Ida W. Frank

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

I am enclosing this copy sent to me by a cousin. It seems to me it fits in your family of Wheatons.

It would be nice to know the relationship between your Thomas Wheadon, 1661 and my Robert 1606.

If you know of anyone working on Robert Wheaton descendants, I would be most happy to have their address.

I also am working Keedy of Ohio and Ind. In checking many journals etc. I never have found anyone researching this surname, and have had no reply to queries I have placed.

Sincerely

Velma Adams

P.S. I wonder if this Maria M. (Bostwick) Wheaton is from the very old family?

PASSENGERS ABOARD THE SHIP BEVIS

The small band of men, women and children who watched Southampton, England fade behind a watery horizon on a May day in 1638 were typical of many religious dissenters who were prepared to give up threatened comforts and securities in exchange for almost certain deprivation and struggle. They were sailing for the American Colonies as an ultimate test of their faith. They were torn between the loss of loved ones left behind, perhaps forever, and hope the future would hold opportunities for those children so excitedly exploring the decks of the ship Bevis.

In one respect, these brave passengers were luckier than others who headed for New England. Among their number was Richard Dummer who had been to New England before. Our material on him and other Bevis passengers was ferreted out of a variety of English records in the 1960's by Harry F. Rogers, with support from the Carpenter Family Association based in New York City. Among his exciting discoveries was the original Bevis passenger list which, to your editors' knowledge, has never before been published. "I felt I had been guided to it, as no reference to its location exists," reported Mr. Rogers after his 1965 discovery of the passenger list at the British Museum.

Richard Dummer's efforts on behalf of religious dissenters go back to at least 1629 when a group of London men formed "The Plough Company." Their pastor was the salty old Rev. Stephen Bachiler, former vicar at Horwell (Wherewell) until he had become in 1605 one of the first nonconformists excommunicated from the Church of England. Rev. Bachiler and Dummer--referred to in one document as "kinsman" to the preacher--began enlisting former parishioners of Rev. Bachiler in their venture. These dissenters headed for America in three separate groups. Dummer accompanied an earlier group, returned to England for his family, then went back to America on the Bevis in 1638.

From the time he was excommunicated in 1605 until he sailed for America in 1632, Rev. Bachiler continued to spread his ideas among sympathizers in Wiltshire and Hampshire. His name is found on documents pertaining to relatives of passengers on the Bevis. It is assumed these families were part of Rev. Bachiler's unofficial flock and some of them gathered at Horwell with William Carpenter and his family to make preparations for the voyage to America.

A document in the British Museum tells how Sir John Oglander, in 1638, found the Dummer family of "Hordle" gathering provisions for passage to New England. If others of the Bachiler flock had been tempted to make the rough sea voyage to America, perhaps they were now convinced as they heard about the religious freedom of New England from a man who had been there and now wanted to take his wife and children to the new colony across the ocean.

One wonders what men such as John Frey, a wheelwright, Christopher Batt, a tanner, and Richard Austin, a tailor, discussed as they sought fresh air on decks above the cramped quarters of a ship probably no more than 60 feet in length. As the days passed, their women and children must have suffered much discomfort due to crowded sleeping conditions and a limited selection of food. Cases of shipboard disease and death were perhaps less prevalent than on voyages of the previous 18 years, but even in favorable weather the trip to the New World could not have been a pleasurable one for these adventuresome travelers. Their high hopes for the future must some times have been interrupted by anxious moments. Yet, for these men who founded American branches of families which now number thousands of descendants, there was no looking back. They had made a pact with each other, their future and their God. They had little more than prayers and dreams to sustain them until the struggle to exist in an uncivilized colony began.

PASSENGERS ON THE SHIP BEVIS - 1638

The original document listing passengers on the ship BEVIS, which sailed from England in May of 1638, reads as follows:

Dear Lucy:

Sorry it has taken so long for me to answer your letter of 4 February 1980.

Thank you so much for your detailed information on the Plympton's and the Sutliffe's. I did not have any of this information previously. I do appreciate your typing this up for me.

Do you know the name of the ship Thomas Whedon, the immigrant came on?

I have recently subscribed to the Second Boat. In the first issue a passenger list for the ship Bevis was published. It sailed from England in May of 1638. Richard Dummer and his family were passengers. I am enclosing a copy for you.

More on the subject of Thomas (1) Whedon. This is a quote from a document prepared by the Media Research Bureau, Wash., D.C.

"Thomas Whedon or Weedon made his home at New Haven, Conn., about the middle of the 17th Century and was the father by his wife Ann Harvey, whom he married in 1661, of Thomas, Sarah, Esther, John, and Hannah. He later removed to New Jersey, where he died in 1691."

Perhaps just he and his wife went to New Jersey, as Thomas (2) died in Branford, Ct.

There is a Bibliography listing several publications--none of which I have ever seen. The paper deals with the name whedon and various spellings and covers Rhode Island and the south as well. The reference may be from the Weedon Genealogy by Nelson, 1908. Sorry I can't be more specific. However, I thought you would be interested in the information.

Hope you are having a nice summer. How is your son-in-law's genealogy coming. That sounds like a challenging assignment.

Sincerely,

Marian E Whedon

Elma was married Dec 3, 1923 @ Wheatland Wyo. We have no obituary.

Sending copy of obituary of Blanch Leora Wheaton Thurston and her husband Herbert E. Thurston. Have a fairly complete history of their children. Have fairly complete history of Moms brother + other sisters families but maybe Aunt Osia has given you all the data.

I'm new at this - have lots of names but have hard time connecting them up. My sister-in-law Ina has all of the Wheaton history. I have her book now but we will have to get togeather now + start piecing our information.

Sorry I'm so pokey in answering your wonderful letter but keeps me pretty busy in the country on the ranch and working 12 days in Mullen as deputy Village Clerk, + always on call in an emergency. But I love both jobs!

Wish you could've attended our family reunion but now we're lost our brother Lewis as you see by my notes.

Nov 7, 1980 Just got home from Edgemont S. Dak where Ina have been family-treeing like crazy. In fact, at one point, almost was!

We have tied into James E. Wheaton's family thru' his daughter Alta Catherine Zuege. Do you have this information on James family? I can send you a copy up to date if you don't have it. You are 2 generations back (or ahead of us, whichever) James E., son of Jonathon L. Wheaton. So far, we don't know anything yet about Silvester or his family

b. Sep 26, 1855

We are having quite a struggle but its hard to keep this sorted out. Would certainly like to see you in person but hope this information on my family help somewhat. Sorry I'm so poky answering but wanted to see + work with Ina. Mildred McCarty hasn't been feeling so good - I saw her yesterday & she said to tell you she's sorry she hasn't written but our info is more than she has.

Don't know what else right now to add. We have complete history on Stella Ann Lemert family; Elma Alminah David; Blanche Leora Thurston; Myrtle Viola Olson. Hoping to hear from you again soon.

Dear Chet,

Thought that I would write and send you a few items that I had put aside.

Since you travel in England once in awhile..Mom gave me a name and address she found in a magazine.. the man is an antique dealer:
Herbert SUTCLIFFE Harle Syke Mill, Brier Cliffe, Burnley, England. Tel. Burnley(0282)24225,(0282) 31412 OT(0282) 31239.

Also will enclose a clipping from the Crescent News(which I forgot to date..must be 1981 or 1982...on Mary E.SLOAN.

Will include a copy of a letter dealing with SUTCLIFFE and DAMANT..don't know whether or not I ever sent it before.

What did you think of the SUTLIFFE who was involved in the murders in England?

Did you note that the pilot of the plane that went down into the Potomac River was named Larry WHEATON..is there anyway of checking through the airlines about him?

We have had a bad winter..my Dad had a bowel resection Feb.10, my Mom had a heart attack Feb.14 and my mother-in-law was hospitalized in Jan. All seem to be doing o.k. now. Defiance was also declared a disaster area due to flooding...before that we had lots of snow and also a train derailment. All in all, it was not a quiet winter.

Bet you are glad to be in Florida..away from the Chicago winters.

Do you have anything new on the WHEATONS or the HALLS? If you do, hope you won't mind sharing the information. With your retirement imagine you are finding more time to do genealogy.

Your "cousin",

Paul Custer Wheaton b. 9 Feb. 1901, Cadiz, Harrison County, Ohio.
m. 24 August 1929 Agnes Marie O'Dea, Cleveland, Cuyahoga, Ohio.
d. 27 November 1951 Cleveland, Cuyahoga County, Ohio

As you can see I don't know much but am enclosing a S.A.S.E. in case you can give me any leads.

I am a teacher and love to spend time on genealogy but can only afford to do so during summer and breaks. Your letter came during our Easter break so I am answering it immediately.

Dear Clerk of Probate Court:

I am seeking the death certificate of Sylvester WHEATON. Although I do not have the death date for Mr. Wheaton, I presume that he died between 1900 and 1909. He was 77 years old in 1900. He was born August 1823 in Ohio and last known residence was Fulton Township, Fulton County, Ohio.

Enclosed is a $2.00 check and a self-addressed envelope.

Thank you for your assistance. If in your searching for this particular certificate you find any other WHEATONS, please advise me.

Dear Mrs. Meyer,

Today, I stopped at the Putnam County Courthouse-Probate Court to look at birth, death and marriage records for Putnam County,Ohio in order to find the family name Wheaton.

Among the names I found were Ida Naomi Wheaton married in 1948 to Carl F. Meyer. One of the clerks in the office told me that you were the mother of Carl and might be able to give me some information.

Wheaton is my mother's maiden name and I have been doing family history for some time and have reason to believe that most of the Wheatons in the area are related. I did note that Ida's father was Irwin Wheaton and that she was born in Detroit,Mich. I would like to contact Ida if possible to see what her grandfather Wheaton's name was etc. Ida and I are close to the same age since I was born in 1933 and she must have been born about 1930.

Also would like to ask you if you ever knew of any other Wheatons in Putnam Co., particularly around Continental(Monroe Twp.) I have records of Anson J. Wheaton and Florence(Ducat) Wheaton living there 1900 and the names of ten children: Alice, David, Ada, Robert, Lucy, Hatta, James, Walter(who died at age 1), Arthur, and Luther. I assume that these Wheatons moved from Putnam Co. since there are no death records there.

Will enclose a self-addressed envelope for your reply, if you will be so kind. I would sincerely appreciate any help you can give.

I noticed that your maiden name was Seibenick. For many years I was the neighbor of Jerome Seibenick here in Defiance.

Sincerely,
Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Mrs. Weaver,
I received your letter from my mother-in-law and really don't think that my father was from the same Wheaton lineage but never can tell. I know very little about his family as he did not talk about them very much and also my father and mother did not live together when I was growing up. My mother was from Put. Co. Blanchard Twp. and her maiden name was Harman. We came to Put.Co. in 1942 to care for my grandfather. My mother met my father in Detroit where we lived until we came to Put, Co. He was born in Mercer Co. Penna. in the town of Greenville. He was born in 1901. His father was Warren W. Wheaton and his mother was Frances Rutter Wheaton. They had lived in Greenville since 1892. They were divorced in 1920 and at some date after that Frances married Ray or Roy Smith and moved to Oklahoma. I had corresponded with my grandmother Wheaton a few times after I had grown up. I do not know when she died as I was never notified except by a letter returned with the words deceased on it. There were 7 children in the family. Ida, who died as a young girl, Glenn, who died young but I do not know how long he lived, Robert, Twila, Irwin, my father, Dorothy and Victor. When my father passed away in 1955 we did talk to Victor's wife and at that time my grandmother was not well. My father had left Greenville at age 18 or 19 and came to Detroit to work. I believe he only returned once and never corresponded with any of his relatives. My son at one time had searched the Archives in Wash. D.C. and found that Warren W. father had lived in Kentucky. I cannot remember his name but we are going to Virginia this week and I will see if my son remembers anything else. He is graduating from the University of Va. this week. He and I have done quite a bit of research on the Harman's and a little on the Wheatons. We visited Mercer Co. and that is how we happen to know as much as we do. We had just about given up when we found the divorce proceedings for Warren and Frances. I never knew that anyone by the name of Wheaton lived in Put. Co. with the exception of my mother and I. Don't think this will help much but if you do find a connection let me know.

Very truly yours,

Ida N. Meyer

Dear Lucy,

I was glad to receive your letter containing the info on Jane Damant. I did not have it, but would rather have her maiden name to check he ancestry.

I was in England for 5 weeks last fall. One week of it was a genealogical tour conducted by Bill Linder, of our National Archives. The rest of the time we toured around on our own. One stop was Plimpton Hall, near Spofforth and Knaresborough, co. Yorkshire. This is supposed to be the ancestorial seat of the Plympton family. I did not get in but took pictures.

I have been in contact with a woman in Omaha, who beleives that she has a connection with our Halls. She is descended from a William Hall, who was listed just below my Reuben in the 1840 census and William's son is right above Reuben in the 1850. She feels strongly that Joseph is the father of William, Reuben, and Sarah. I need more proof of this. William died in Paulding Co., Ohio, on 14 Aug 1871. Do you know if they have death records of that time, in Paulding Co.? William did have a daughter by the name of Sarah and a son Reuben! So, there may be a connection. She is very strong in her beleif that they were brothers and sister. I'll let you know if anything new come up.

I sure do love this retirement. We have our own pool and swim every day (not from Dec. to Mar.) and would you beleive, I didn't have to shovel snow all last winter.

Sincerely,

Clet

Dear Chet,

Am sending you the certified copy of William Hall's death certificate which I sent to Paulding County for and received after I had your letter. I am keeping the copy of it.

William could very well be the brother of Reuben and Sarah. His birthdate is about right. Notice he was born in New York. Sarah was born in New Jersey..this maybe a help in tracing the Hall family. Too bad that more information wasn't given on the death certificates filed with Probate courts.

Also am enclosing the copy of the death certificate for Sylvester Wheaton..the son of Sarah Hall Wheaton. Also have written to National Archives for the Civil War Records for William Wheaton Jr.(Sarah's son) who was killed in Lebanon,Ky. during the Civil War. Will let you know what I find when I receive the records. Nat. Arch. said that it would take at least two months.

Am waiting for my husband's great grandmother's birth certificate from England. She was born in Constantine, Cornwall in 1846. They say that is a lovely area. Perhaps you have visited there.

Glad to hear that you enjoy Fla.

The typing isn't the best..since am hurriedly typing this over the lunch hour.

Sincerely,

Dear Chet,

Enclosed you will find a copy of the records of William Wheaton Jr...both pension and military. I copied the records on both sides to save room (some are upside down though..since I was in a hurry)!

William Wheaton Jr. was the son of Sarah Hall and William Wheaton Sr. He married Samantha Rogers(Rodgers) in 1858 in Seneca Co.O. and evidently they moved with his parents to Paulding County, about 1860. William enlisted in Aug. 1861 in the Union Army and died 2 March 1862 in a hospital of measles and possibly consumption(tb). He was buried in Lebanon, Ky. Samantha remarried in 1865 to Obed Hartman in Pauldin Co. and in 1872 to Jim Sloan(any relation ?) She filed her pension application in 1880 out in Kansas. Evidently she and William had no children.

Did you receive the Hall death certificate all right?

Finally obtained the birth certificate on my husband's great grandmother from Constantine, Cornwall, England. That was quite a process!

Will keep you posted if I unearth anything else.

Sincerely,

Lucy

Dear Chet,

Went to the Allen Co. Library in Ft. Wayne ,Ind. with my parents yesterday. While there, Dad read the 1870 Paulding Co.OH. census for Crane Township. Am enclosing a copy of the information from that census. It may help you to piece together some more on the Hall family. Let me know what you come up with. Was the lady who contacted you from out west a ###. ## William*s granddaughter?

Did the packet of Civil War materials on Wm. Wheaton Jr. arrive o.k.?

In re to EARLY BUSINESS query on pg. 46 in the Aug. 29 issue of Tri-State Trader: I, too, have a copy of the a [illegible] mentioned by D.B. of Silver Creek, N.Y. There is nothing on the back of the ad to indicate the locale. I have a feeling that the business was located in Ohio. The ad I have was among my maternal grandmother's things and her ancestors lived in Ohio since the early 1800's. Holmes County and Delaware County might be two good sources. Thanks for the idea of checking the census index for these names.

If I could have D.B.'s name and full address, perhaps we could exchange data on mutual locations of our ancestors and this would help identify the site of the Penrose and Alexander business.
I am a "semi" subscriber. My mother and I share the subscription price and the issue is mailed to her address.(Erma Kulman)

Dear Lucy, Your note to TST regarding "Early Business" arrived yesterday and I will try to answer right away. As yet my TST has not arrived, I get it in a bundle once a month.

Enclosed you will see 1820 + 1830 Census Index for Ohio. I have been unable to place Penrose & Alexander in Ohio although I do believe this is where they were located. I've also tried Penna - Maryland and S. Carolina

My ancestor Andrew Spence d. @ March 1830 and four of his children are mention in the estate settlement (Montgomery Co. Ohio) William, Samuel, Thomas and Mary Jane Spence were all married in Miami Co Ohio by J.P. David Jenkins.

I too have many surnames to search in Ohio. Some - Ellis, Madison Co, Cogan (I have all of this). Shaw, Mosier, Spence, Grandstaff, Waller, Shearman/Sherman, Ellsworth (N.Y.) My Shearman was in Delaware Co - 1820 Census. and 1830 in Marion Co Ohio and @ 1833 to Indiana - Carroll Co. Gerringer Glad to help - if I can.

Sincerely
Doris Brown

Dear Marthella,

Thought that I would write to you for a favor. I need a Knox County, Ohio map, which shows all of the townships. As you probably guessed, I need it for genealogical purposes. The man I am trying to locate was listed in the 1830 Ohio census as Knox Co., But. Twp. I presume that is Butler Twp. so I need to know if that particular township is located near the Holmes Co. border or near the Marion Co. border. Also need to know the towns located in that particular twp.

A lady in New York and I have been corresponding. It seems that we each have an old yellowed salesbill dated 17 August 1825, which lists a sale of merchandise by Samuel Alexander & Charles Penrose, who had just purchased the store of one George Gaullagher. No location is listed. Both of us found the salesbill among our "oldies" in trunks. We then tried to locate Penrose, Alexander or Gaullagher in the 1820 and 1830 censuses and found Samuel Alexander listed in four counties..one of which was Knox Co.

Since I know that most health departments have several copies of county maps...thought you might just have one laying around. If there is a charge, let me know...also will be glad to reimburse you for the postage.

As you can see, I'm writing this from home and the typing can't be blamed upon my secretary.....

Hope you had a great summer. Will plan to see you at the H.C. Conference in November.

Thanks.

Sincerely,
Lucy Weaver

Dear Lucy,
Enclosed is your map.
I checked an 1871 Atlas of Knox Co. but do not find any land owned in Butler Township by the gentlemen you mention.
Come to see me and we'll look again.
Summer was rough, but Jim and I had a super vacation Sept 1-26. Now
I can't seem to get back to work. Did you go to S.T.?
See you in Nov.

Dear Doris,

Thank you for replying to the letter that I sent to Tri-State Trader regarding the 1825 salesbill.

I looked over the 1820 and 1830 census indexes that you sent. I did find a Samuel Alexander on pg. 11 of the 1830 index: Huron Co.; Knox Co.; Warren Co. Hocking Co. One theory: Knox Co. is adjacent to Holmes Co.O. and could have been But Twp location accessible to my ancestors in Holmes ~~Co.~~ I will have to look at a Knox Co. map and find out where But (probably Butler Twp. is.,if it is in the Eastern part of Knox..then I would bet heavily on the Knox Co.Holmes Co. theory. I also (when I get a chance, will look at the Knox Co. History in the Fort Wayne, Ind. Library.

In rechecking my yellowed crumbly salesbill, I found that George GAULLAGHER'S name was spelled with the U,,the census list shows only the Gallaghers...could this be a chance that he was overlooked due to the spelling?

As far as Charles Penrose goes, I find that many people were not counted on the census..so maybe he was overlooked..two years in a row !!

Do you want the census indexes back?

The salesbill I have was in a trunk given to me by my grandmother Daisy Wheaton..so the items in it could have been either from her side of the family or my grandpa's. My gt.gt. grandfather William Wheaton was living in Holmes Co.O.(Millersburg area) in 1825. You mentioned Delaware Co.O. in your letter. Marion Co. & Delaware co. were intermingled way back when..so my Foust ancestors lived in both counties in the 1825 era. Delaware and Marion Cos. are also adjacent to Knox... so locating the Butler Twp. in Knox Co. should help us.

I have a friend in Knox Co.(she's the health commissioner there) Mount Vernon...and ask her to send me a Knox County map.. that might be valuable.

You can't imagine my surprise when I saw your letter in TST! For years, I've wondered about the salesbill, but I had never (SalesBill) done much about trying to locate where the store had been. The next problem is how to preserve the doggone thing.

Will let you know about Knox Co.

Sincerely,

Lucy

Dear Lucy,

Perhaps you could have the old Sales Bill laminated, that would preserve it and you could keep it that way. Mine is a little stained around the edges but very good other wise.

Butler township Knox Co is about 22 miles from center of Millersburg Holmes Co. I have a map I find very helpfull for my Ohio Research will send you a Copy

No do not send the index back.

I wanted to send that letter to TST for a long time and had it started three years ago, finally finished and mailed it to them. Also fun to find your questions written up and printed. Ive enjoyed my TST for nearly four years and pass it on to other researchers in this area. the Registrar for the DAR chapter here gets a lot of help out of it too.

I was in Albany NY recently and some of the very old and worn books are being laminated and they are holding up much better. I was amazed at the number of books they have, also how poorly the conditions of these books. I feel really bad when I see books like that. Some are very old and pages crumble. Many of them have notices they are not to be photocopied because of there condition. Its too bad they could not have been taken care of a long time ago.

I need help. Would you know of a History of Delaware Co. Ohio. I am interested in Sherman family of Delaware Co. + Marion Co.
I found my Stephen Sherman 1820 Census Harlem township, Delaware Co.
than 1830 Stephen, Amasa and Delano Shearman / Sherman are in Marion Co.
Our library at Buffalo is very good on New England etc. But the selection for Ohio is poor. If you could check for me I would appreciate your help.

Must close for now.

Thank you for your letter

Sincerely

Doris Brown

Dec. 6, 1983

Dear Judith,

Noticed your ad on page 41 of the Nov. Dec. 1983 Genealogical Helper re: WHEATON, HALL families. Don"t know if we are researching the same families..but thought I would drop you a line. WHEATON is not too common a name, but the HALL is.

My lineage:

Thomas & Anne Harvey Wheadon New Haven,Ct.

Thomas Wheadon & Hannah Sutliffe Branford,Ct.

John Wheadon & Mary Crowfoot Branford & Wethersfield, Ct.

Jonathan Wheadon & Anna Cook Branford & Wallingford, Ct.

Jonathan Wheaton & Penelope Lacey Branford,Ct.(later Millersburg,Oh.)

William Anson Wheaton & Sarah Hall(b.1802 N. Jersey) Holmes Co.O. to Seneca Co.O...then Paulding Co.O.

Anson William Wheaton & Amanda Jane Smith..Paulding Co.O. then Defiance,Co.O.

Elmer Anson Wheaton & Daisy Hemlinger..Def.Co.O.

Erma Arvilla Wheaton & Harold Rulman Def.Co.O.

Lucy Marlnne Weaver & Gerald Weaver Def.Co.O.

Believe that Sarah Hall's father was James Hall who settled in Coshocton Co.O...later Holmes Co.O. James later lived in Seneca Co.O. in Reed Twp.

Will enclose a S.A.S.E. for your reply.

Sincerely,
Lucy Weaver

Dear Mary,

Noticed your Penelope Wheaton in the Computerized Roots Cellar of the Nov/Dec issue of Genealogical Helper and decided to write. Are you Mary Wheaton, dtr. of Alice Boyd and Weldon Wheaton, who was married to Phillip Leppla in 1940? I too, am a descendant of Penelope & Jonathan Wheaton. Over the years, I have visited and corresponded with Ralph Wheaton of Millersburg. He has given me some information and I have some from other correspondents. I was delighted to find someone from the Millersburg-Wooster area who is also interested in genealogy.

My WHEATON lineage is as follows:

Dear Cousin,

Yes, you've contacted another Wheaton cousin! I must confess that I've "known about" you for some time. My uncle, Ralph Wheaton in Millersburg, told me that you had contacted him some time ago. I've thought of writing to you, but I'm a poor excuse of a letter writer, procrastinating miserably. I decided to answer your letter immediately, for a change of pattern.

The enclosed article about Uncle Ralph was the front page feature in honor of Veterans' Day recently for a small publication that goes out to Millersburg residents. The parent newspaper is the New Philadelphia Times, I believe.

My husband and I grew up in the Millersburg area. My home was on a farm along Ohio 39, just west of town. (You may have passed it if you drove from Loudonville to Mbg.) We have lived in Wooster for the past twenty years. Phillip had a mobile feed grinding service and could move his base of operations when I transferred from the Millersburg schools to Wooster City Schools as a librarian. I retired in 1982 as an educational media specialist.

Without a long breath, I became involved in genealogy, and you know the rest of the story. Like so many others, I wonder how I ever had time to go to work. My training as a librarian has been of value to me, but I'm woefully inexperienced as a genealogist. I enjoy going to libraries, of course, and I've been fortunate in my initial searches. The public library here in Wooster serves not only Wayne County genealogy patrons, but visitors from many other places. Before Holmes County was established in 1825, part of its townships were in Wayne County. Consequently, the Wayne County library has a lot of Holmes County resources, as you may know.

I was able to find my Wheaton lineage easily here. I also used the Barbour Index of early Connecticut vital statistics in the library at the Western Reserve Historical Society in Cleveland. (Ft. Wayne has it, too, I found.) Last summer I attended the national conference of genealogists in Hartford, Connecticut, and stopped at New Milford to get certified copies of Penelope's Lacey family. However, I have not found where Penelope and Jonathan Wheaton were married. (I didn't need it for my DAR application because his military record showed her as his wife.) The Barbour Index didn't show a record of their marriage (and I looked at the original records in New Milford to see if it had been omitted from Barbour.) Where did you find it?

I had checked the OGS library in Mansfield and photocopied your (or your mother's) papers there. Thank you! I also copied the papers of Chester Dart, from Holmes Beach, Florida. (He is descended from Jonathan's daughter Almira, as you probably know.) I met Mr. Dart (and his first cousin from the Toledo area) at OGS in Columbus last year. They seemed so pleased to become acquainted with another Wheaton cousin. I plan to go again this spring. Perhaps I could meet you there. I think my cousin, Ruth Maple Sautter, from Columbus Grove, Ohio, will be attending this year. We would enjoy getting to know you, as would Uncle Ralph. At 89, he's "quite a guy," and a favorite of all of us.

Thank you so much for writing. Happy hunting! M.E.

P.S. My name is Mary Elizabeth. I'll get back to you about Crowfoot, et al. M.E.L.

Dear Lucy,

Thank you for your response to my ad. My Wheatons were just north of Defiance in Michigan. As you will see by my enclosed chart, I am very short on information but offer the following:

1. Peter Montgomery Wheaton: Death certificate states that he was born in Utica, N.Y. 1831. 1880 and 1900 census material states he was born in Michigan in 1834.

2. Celuvia Conklin: I have located Celuvia with her family on the 1850 census of Macomb Co. Michigan. Peter Wheaton was her second husband. She had a first husband and three children between the years of 1850 and 1856. First husband's name, unknown.

3. Burton & Mellia Wheaton: They had four children, two of which were sons. These sons both married but neither ever had any children so my Wheaton line has come to an end.

4. The 1880 census locates these Wheatons in Monterey Co. California and I believe they came to Montana about 1885 where they settled in Sweetgrass County.

5. Susannah Hall: I have no information on this person except approx. year and place of birth extracted from census material. I have no idea who her parents were.

I would appreciate any information you can give me regarding any of the above. Perhaps Peter was a cousin of your line? I am enclosing a SASE for your reply. Thanks again for your response.

Dear Cousins,

I thought I would bring those interested in the Wheaton Family up to date on what I have found in the last 6 months or so.

I do as much genealogy as I can with my golf 2 or 3 times a week, swimming in our pool, and gardening (retirement is rough). The libraries around here have small genealogical collections so my research is somewhat limited, here. I try to get to Salt Lake City 2 or 3 times a year and make Fort Wayne and some court houses each summer when we come north.

I beleive I have solved the question of Sarah Wheaton's marriages raised by Earnest Wheaton in his Wheaton Genealogy, page 64. Sarah married John Hum on 16 Jan 1823 (Holmes Co. marr rec). On 15 May 1826 Sarah Hum filed for divorce from John Hum on the grounds of "wilful absence for 3 Years" (Supreme Court Rec of Holmes Co., Vol I, page 2). This was probably the first divorce in Holmes Co. On 26 Nov 1826, Sarah Hum married Bartholomew Husted (Holmes Co. marr rec). In Jonathon Wheaton's will he mentioned his daughter, "now Sarah Hustead" and her husband Bartholomew. Bartholomew had previosly been married to Ruee Babcock on 31 Aug 1820 (Coshocton Co. marr rec), who probably died. Bartholomew died before 1841, when his estate papers were filed. According to the census records, it appears that Sarah had no more than 2 children - a son and daughter. From the 1850 census, it looks like she was living with her son, Ransom, and his wife Sarah. Sarah and Bartholomew lived in Killbuck Twp., Holmes Co., where there were a number of Husteds living but by 1860, they all appear to have moved on to parts unknown. I'll check the estate records of Holmes Co., next summer and maybe that will tell the names of the children.

I also beleive I have found what happened to Jonathan's son David after his marriage to Sarah Nowles on 2 Mar 1820. By 1825 David moved to Indiana and was living in Lawrence Co. in 1830. The 1830 census listed a David Wheaton age 40-50 (actual 45), his wife age 30-40 (actual about 29), 2 male children (1 under 5 and 1 5-10). In the 1840 census of Washington Co., IN, Davids age is 50-60, his wifes 30-40, 2 males 15-20, and 4 females (1 under 5, 2 5-10, 1 10-15, and 1 15-20) for a total of 7 children. Sometime before 1850, David moved his family back to Wayne Co., OH and was shown in the 1850 census with 4 children at home: Russel age 25, Anna M. age 20, Rebecca age 16, and Lovica age 10. David appeared in the 1860 Holmes Co. census but may have died before 1870, as he has not been found in that census. His son Russell appeared with his wife Elizabeth, in the 1870-80-1900 census. It looks like Russell had at least 5 children.

This means that, of Jonathan's children, only Anna, born 4 May 1781, and Jonathan Schuyler, born 24 Jun 1788 are unaccounted for at this time. They may have died young or married in the east an never came to Ohio.

If anyone can find anything wrong with my above research or can add anything, please let me know. We can all make mistakes, even though I tell my wife that I seldom do.

Sincerely,

Chet

Dear Chet,

Received your letter dated 23 Jan. 1984 re: Sarah Hum Husted and David Wheaton. Your research sounds very plausible. I believe you have located the elusive David .

On my list of soundex 1900 Ohio Wheatons I have:
Russel V 81 Ed 24 Sh. 7 Line 37
white born June 1823 Indiana age 76
Holmes Co. Hardy Twp.
Elizabeth wife born March 1831 age 69 b.p. OH.
(This is probably the son of David that you mentioned in your letter)

I was in Millersburg Jan. 27 for a meeting. Stopped at Ralph Wheaton's. Also met Mary Elizabeth Leppla there. She said she had met you & Jana Broglin at the last OGS convention.

Mary Elizabeth was an interesting lady to talk to. She has done a lot with genealogy for the short time that she has worked on it. She told me that the land that Jonathan Wheaton had in Holmes Co. is now the county landfill!

I haven't anything new to add to the Wheaton line. We have been busy attending antique auctions and remodeling an 1870 house for an antique shop. We plan to get into the business after retirement.

Our daughter Ann is remarrying on May 18 this year, a young accountant named Scott Shevin of Southfield,Mich. Ann was divorced July 1, 1983 . Her husband decided that he didn't want the responsibilities of being married.

We are planning a trip to Denver in June to visit Jerry's sister and her family. Hopefully I can get over to Salt Lake City while we are there.

Your sunny warm weather sounds great. We just had another major snowstorm with almost blizzard like conditions. Had to close the health dept.(the second time in the 29 years that I've been there).

Thanks for the new information. It really is great for you to pass along the fruits of your research. Will send along anything else that I find.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Henderson:

In the September-October 1986 issue of the GENEALOGICAL HELPER, I noticed that you had submitted the name of Ephraim WHEELER in the computerized "Roots" Cellar. Since I have an Ephraim Wheeler as an ancestor, thought that I would write to you.

My notes say: Ephraim Wheeler married Ann Turney. He may be the brother of Thomas. Referred to as Sergeant. It is thought that he came from England with Rev. John Jones' Company in the Ship "Defiance" October 3, 1635. He was made "freeman" at Concord, Mass. March 13, 1639. In 1644 he joined the portion of the Concord population that followed Mr. Jones to Fairfield, Conn., taking with him his wife and one or two children, and was granted a homelot at Pequonnock. He became a large landowner and was a leading citizen, and was one of the wealthiest citizens of that county. His will dated Sept. 22, 1669, mentions his wife Ann and his children as follows: bequeaths "lands and housings" to 3 sons, Samuel, Timothy, and EPHRAIM; and to Isaac, Mary, and Ruth 10 shillings each, they previously had their share; to Hannah L15; to Rebecca, Judith and Abigail L30, each. The inventory taken Oct.28, 1670, amounted to L1026-18-6. His widow in 1681 paid tax on 706 acres of land. One of his daughters married Samuel Treadwell.
Children:
Isaac Wheeler, born abt. 1638, d. soon.
Isaac Wheeler, born Dec. 23, 1642 at Concord, Mass.
Mary Wheeler
Ruth Wheeler
Hannah Wheeler
REBECCA WHEELER MARRIED SAMUEL GREGORY (My line of descent)
Judith Wheeler
Abigail Wheeler died Feb. 7, 1712, prob. unmarried.
Samuel Wheeler
Timothy Wheeler born 1660
Ephraim Wheeler(Could be the Ephraim who died 1685 New Haven)

Ephraim & Ann Turney Wheeler resided at Fairfield, Conn.

Unfortunately, I don't have recorded at the bottom of these notes where I obtained these.

Perhaps the above information will tie in with what you have.
My maternal ancestry all dates back to New Haven, Conn. and other towns in New England. Other names are WHEATON, SUTCLIFFE, LACEY, GREGORY, JACKSON, HALL, CANFIELD, CROWFOOT, BALDWIN, CAMP, BASSETT, HINE, HILL,

Also am descended from Ephraim & Ann through their son Isaac,whose daughter Mary married Henry Hackson. (Those notes say taken from "History of the Wheeler Family In America".

Would like to hear from you. Will enclose a S.A.S.E. for your reply.

Dear Lucy:

Thank you for the information on your Wheeler ancestors. I have recently received information on my Wheeler line from the book "History Of The Wheeler Family In America". I have received enough responses to know that there is still some debate as to my Thomas Wheeler's ancestors. He married Joan Bryan in England and settled in Milford, CT. He had a Brother named William.

I also have a number of families from New England: Callender, Adams, Shepard, Hard, Harmon, Hills, Tomlinson, Kimberly, Parsons, Austin, Filley, Clark, Smith, Hawkins, Brinsmade, Holbrook, Munsee (Mansee), Huggins, Green, Greene, Newton, Welles, Plumb, Fitch, Goodrich, Marvin, Phelps, and Hooker. The only one that is common to both of our lists is Hill(s). My ancestor was Mary Sophia Hill(s) born in Harford, CT. on 15 Oct. 1828, a daughter of Walter Hill(s)? Maybe we can make a connection.

Dear Ms. Weaver:

Mr. William T. Henderson forwarded a copy of your 11 November 1986 letter concerning the Wheeler family. I can add a little to your information on Ephraim Wheeler:

Sergeant EPHRAIM^{1} WHEELER was baptised at Cranfield, Bedfordshire, 16 March 1618/9 (Cranfield PR, 3), and died at Fairfield, Conn., before 1708 (Donald Lines Jacobus, Families of Old Fairfield, 1:665).

He married ANN TURNEY, as you have indicated.

Ephraim Wheeler, yeoman, and his brothers Timothy and Joseph Wheeler, sold two and a half acres of "Ferry Field" at Cranfield on 19 February 1637/8 to Edward Odell of the Ash, for twelve pounds (TAG, 28(1952):259). He was made freeman at Massachusetts on 13 March 1638/9 (Register, 3(1849):96) and was of Concord on 1 September 1640, Letchford so entered in his notebook (Letchford (1885):305).

Two years ago I had the opportunity of visiting the locale at Cranfield where Ephraim grew up. I hope this is of interest and help.

Sincerely,

Dear Lolita,

When we talked on the telephone recently, I mentioned the ROBINSON Family in Wood County, that I believe is related to my WHEATON Family. Since you do so much research in Wood Co. records, thought I would send along to you some materials just in case you run into any clues that might help me.

Ran across an article in the Wood County History (think it was 1897) that mentions a NANCY WHEATON, who was married to William Jordan ROBINSON. They apparently lived in Liberty Twp. and related names of their chn. are: MERCER, MCCRORY and CURTIS. Have reason to believe that NANCY WHEATON ROBINSON was the oldest sister of my great grandfather. My NANCY was born 24 Sept. 1821 in Ohio, making her about the right age to be the wife of Wm. J. ROBINSON. She apparently died between 1867 & 1897 in Wood Co. Have not tried for a death record through the courthouse, but Probate Records usually do not list the names of parents(probably would have the birthdate, though) Do you know if your courthouse has a good index to their death records...hate to write and ask them to search a thirty year period, if you know what I mean.

My mother remembers a lady coming to the WHEATON Reunion who was named MCCRORY . Her son brought her and he was an official in a Bowling Green Bank. Mom remembers that they were well dressed and had a nice car. Looked in the WHEATON Reunion book and found Mr. and Mrs. P. McCrory 507 Euclid Ave. Toledo,O. This was around 1930. No Bowling Green address.....

Am enclosing copies of the Wood Co. Hist. and also of the family group sheets..in case any of the names ring a bell. Perhaps there is a McCrory descendant living in your area.

Also have on the back of the group sheets census data that I found.

How was your trip to Florida? Hope it was nice and warm.

Just looked in a 1926 Bowling Green Directory that I have... thought maybe the McCrory would be listed with a bank..but am wondering..found under MERCER ...JACKSON D. MERCER..v-pres. Commercial Bank & Savings Co. home 122 Byall Ave...also found LORENZO D. MERCER cashier Commercial Bank & Savings Co...home 316 N. Church.

If you run across anything..would appreciate hearing from you. Isn't Liberty Twp..Rudolph,O.? Know Wood Co. has lots of villages.

Sincerely,

Lucy

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

Do you have any information of Jonathan Hall's children?

We found your family group sheet at the Mansfield OGS library, and wonder if your Jonathan Hall, 1651 New Haven #7 could be the ancestor of #12 on my ancestor chart which I am enclosing.

If you have any information on my Jonathan Hall, I will be glad to reimburse you for any expense you have in forwarding it.

We have traced the Fahnestock line to Dietrick, well documented in the history of Ephrata, Pa. and are now eligible for DAR.

I would like very much to be a member of First Families of Ohio, and may now be close on my #16 John Gray, as we found his gravestone in McCoy's cemetery in Londonderry, Guernsey County.

Am enclosing a self addressed envelope hoping to hear from you.

Yours truly,

Gladys Wilson

Dear Gladys,

Sorry to be so late in answering your letter re JONATHAN HALL.

My information from the HALL FAMILY OF WALLINGFORD HAS A SMALL EXCERPT WHICH STATES:

Jonathan Hall born in New Haven April 5, 1651. He "exchanged accommodations in New Haven in 1677 for those of John Stevens of New London."

You may wish to check the Barbour Collection of records for New Haven, Conn. and other towns.

If you have a chance..visit the Fort Wayne,Ind. Public Library Genealogy Section on the second floor. It would be worth the trip this summer. They have many records there.

Will keep your letter on file for future reference.

Sincerely, Lucy

January 9, 1993

Dear Lucy,   (Greetings to Jerry!)

At the moment, I'm at home - but not for long. January 31st I am scheduled to fly to Salt Lake City for 18 days. Before Thanksgiving I was there for an Elderhostel devoted to intensive study of English records for genealogical research. On the roster of participants in this group, I found the name Bette Cameron, from Delavan, Wisconsin, a Chicago suburb. I recognized her name as a researcher of our Millersburg Wheatons. In the past, I had encountered her name in the list of sources of Wheaton data in the files of the Family History Center in Salt Lake City. She had no reason to recognize my name, but we were both excited to meet each other. She had become interested in our Wheatons because her father-in-law, Anson Cameron, had traced his ancestors to Jonathan Wheaton, through Anson and his daughter Sarah (Wheaton) Mayers. Mr. Cameron grew up in Millersburg and returned around 1946 to identify the markers of his ancestors as the oldest stones in Oak Hill Cemetery. Later he replaced the obliterated and broken markers with appropriate replicas. Perhaps you've seen them when you were in Millersburg. They are located near the Mound.

Bette Cameron had participated in past years in genealogical research tours to SLC under the leadership of Bill Linder of Arlington, VA and had made arrangements to go on his tour again in February, 1993. She suggested that I join her so we could concentrate together on trying to untangle some Wheaton snags. We're going a week before the tour begins and I'm staying four days after the group leaves. (This isn't actually a "tour," as I see it; everyone arrives independently, for a week together, with seminars related to our research interests. With Mr. Linder, we'll have the concentrated assistance of Nettie Segraves, executive director of the archives in Philadelphia, PA, of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania and councilor of The National Genealogical Society. (I rechecked to ascertain her proper credits.)

I had met Mrs. Segraves in Cleveland when she spoke at a conference at the Western Reserve Historical Society. She makes everything seem very clear (for the moment, until you run into trouble with your own research.) By chance, I encountered her later in her own facility and found her suggestions most helpful, although she wasn't actually "working" that day - just doing her own "thing." I'm hopeful that she'll be able to help us locate that pesky record of the marriage of Jonathan Wheaton and Penelope Lacy in February, 1778, right after that miserable winter at Valley Forge. I know his regiment continued on to the battle of Monmouth (N.J.) the following June. But where were those two married? Because of the geographical proximity to Philadelphia, I hope Mrs. Segraves can suggest some possible source of that record. I've always believed that they were really married because of their strong church connections as they moved from place to place on their way to Ohio. Besides, I have a marriage date from a family Bible given by their son Russell (the brother of our Anson) to his son. (The Bible is currently in the possession of a descendant in Georgia.) I know about the reluctance of professional researchers to accept the validity of entries in family Bibles, but you'd think a couple's son would know when his parents were married, wouldn't you?

In your letter you asked about some other problems I've encountered in my Wheaton-tracking. The spelling of the name appears to me to be altered one way or another, in the manner typical of an era when people weren't really sure how names were spelled. They seemed to just write what they thought they heard. The earliest spelling I've seen for the name of our immigrant ancestor was Thomas Whedon. This also appeared in variations such as Wheadon, Wheaton, Weeden, etc. (In the 1820 census in Ohio, it's spelled Whitton.) I, too, have noted the comment by some historian that "about 1755," the spelling seemed to have been accepted as Wheaton. Maybe spelling customs, and education of the populace, just "matured" — or something.

As far as I know, Thomas Whedon came more or less directly to Connecticut. However, related lines lived first in Massachusetts. For example, the Lacy-Lacey family was involved in the witch trials in Salem, MA. The Sutliffs, Burts, Plymptons, and numerous other lines among our antecedants were in Massachusetts communities, some remaining there, while our direct line ancestor migrated to Connecticut. Have you ever seen a reference to the county in England where our Wheatons originated? I have spent literally days at Salt Lake, trying to prove that point of origin. There were Wheatons in several English counties, but I have no solid proof as which were ours. This is something else for Bette Cameron and yours truly to attack — again! (I think she said that she had not gone beyond the Atlantic in her Wheaton research efforts.)

You asked about Carmi Crawford's line. I have not traced that line, but a Millersburg classmate has done a thorough job with them, as it was her husband's line. I can get whatever you want from her. (She's Dori McClelland, wife of Rollin, the immediate past president of the Ohio Rotarians, in case Jerry belongs to that service organization.)

Another project I have planned for my stay in SLC in February is trying to learn more about Anna (Wheaton) Porter. I've probably told you all I know on that subject. At the historical society in Montrose, PA, in Susquehanna County, I read references in several local histories that mentioned Wheatons. One place, she was identified as the daughter of Jonathan Wheaton when she was referred to as Mrs. Porter, first teacher of the children in the earliest school there. In another segment, about early members of a church founded by Jonatha (among others) she was listed as Anna Porter.

Putting together "Mrs. Porter, daughter of Jonathan Wheaton" and "Anna Porter", I have deduced that "Anna Porter" was probably "Anna Wheaton," our long-lost cousin. What still baffles me is why there's no reference to her in Jonathan's will. Frequently, even though nothing was to be willed to an adult child, that person is identified by name. Of course she might have died in the intervening 20 years, between the time the Wheatons lived in Montrose and the date of his death at Millersburg.

I know nothing about the Porter name. I didn't find anything about a Mr. Porter at Montrose. Going back to New York state, I found several Porters. In fact, one was named Anna Porter, but she turned out to be a spinster by that name, probably a sister of other Porter men I found there.

Another Wheaton research problem centers on the residence of the Wheatons in eastern New York state. Two sons were born in Schoharie County, according to family records. But their baptisms were in a church in Montgomery County. What's more, in a Montrose history of the founding of a Baptist Church there, Jonathan Wheaton is identified as "from Otsego County, N.Y." These three counties adjoin each other at one point. The county seat of Otsego is at Cooperstown, where there is a very attractive library. (I've been there, as well as in Fonda, and Schoharie, the other two county seats, doing Wheaton research.)

We were in Cooperstown on our way to a national conference of Palatines to America at Cobleskill, near Schoharie, so our time was somewhat limited. I didn't get to the courthouse in Cooperstown on that trip. This summer I have hopes of getting back there. I'll let you know if I learn anything about our Wheatons there. I've found several other Wheaton families in that vicinity at that time. It might be worthwhile to try to untangle them to see if they were relatives of Jonathan Wheaton. Perhaps correspondence with New York cousins was what ~~let~~ led him to leave Vermont and head in that direction.

You referred to the late Chet Dart. I h d met him on several occasions at state conferences of the Ohio Genealogical Society in Columbus (I remember when his wife Violet was accepted as a member of First Families of Ohio.) I believe that I told Chet about David Wheaton's return to Ohio, first to Wayne County and then to Holmes. I remember when I found a younger Wheaton in Holmes County whose birthplace was given as Indiana. Recalling Jonathan's will had referred to his son David who had gone to Indiana, I identified the young man as David's son. I believe that his parents showed up later in Holmes County.

Do you know what Violet Dart did with Chet's computer records? I thought maybe his cousin Jana Broglin, of Swanton, had offered to continue his intended Wheaton family history. (He had told me that his ambition was to follow the descendants of Jonathan and Penelope.) If no one wants to compile that proposed history, I would like to see his accumulated material donated to the Family History Center in Salt Lake City. They need Wheaton data. I think I have more than they have and Chester Dart would have been able to update our line and make a real contribution to their files. Maybe you will complete his history.

You expressed concern about the possibility that we were linking our Wheaton lineage to the wrong line. I may be proved wrong, of course, but I've re-read the sources cited by other researchers and I'm satisfied with their determination of lineage. I've been in the historical society libraries in various Connecticut towns and checked on "other" Wheatons without discovering disagreements about the early ancestors of our line in Colonial America. There was an earlier Robert Wheaton in Massachusetts but I don't think our line is connected with him, directly. I haven't been able to trace him to a specific county in England, either, so there may have been some connection back there. I know that part of his line was in New Jersey and later in Ohio, farther south than Holmes County.

There were other Wheatons in New Milford, CT, at the time the Lacy family was there. I found their names — along with the Lacy family — on the rolls of a Congregational church being founded there. I've always imagined that Jonathan Wheaton may have traveled as a young man from his home in Branford, CT, along the coast near the Connecticut River, to New Milford, farther west and north in the state, to visit cousins there - and so meet Penelope Lacy, possibly at church. Romantic idea, don't you think?

Uncle Ralph is quite well. For his birthday in October, Ruth Braunagel came to visit. We took him to Newark, Ohio, to visit his cousin Albert Wheaton (age 90, at least.) Ralph decided to sell his car when it was time to buy a new set of plates. He decided that owning that car wasn't worth the [illegible] of license plates and insurance. He had kept track of the miles he had driven in the past year and found the per-mile cost to be exorbitant. After all, his son Harold takes him to the market every ~~well~~ week and to church, etc., in the wintertime. At 98 years of age, Ralph is really quite well. We can control his myasthenia gravis with medication. He knows that he won't be abl to chew his food if he misses that medicin He still prepares dinner for Harold each weekday; on Sunday, they eat at Harold's.

Today is the funeral of one of Ralph's Uhl-connected Cousins, age 90. That kind of event always upsets him a little as knows his days are numbered. His nephe Paul Wheaton, son of Charlie, died Oct. 31, 199 (1910-1992). Charlie died at 99+. Bye. Love,
Mary Elizabeth

Dear Chuck,

Received your packet of materials on the Blair and Hughes Families, and your letter. Have read your letter twice and gone over your family sheets and was very excited to discover that your Wheadon links up with mine. I think that I can give you data on the Wheadon(Wheaton) Family that you don't have. Also I think your Betsey Wheadon Hughes is an ancestor of a friend of mine: Pat Kreischer Cochran. I tried to call her, but she is on vacation for a week or so.

Next, I went to the Defiance Library and copied the Blair Cemetery Records for you, and searched the Defiance County Early Birth and Death Records for Blair information.

Dear Mickey,
No, I haven't forgotten our telephone conversation and my promise to send you copies of my WHEATON information. I'm working on it.

I will be in Toledo on Tuesday, June 7th. I have an appointment with Dr. Neisler at MacIntosh Towers that day at 8:45 a.m. Would you happen to be working at Toledo Hospital on that day? The reason I am asking is that I should have most of my copies made by then and it will be a BIG bundle to send through the mail. I could bring it over to Toledo Hospital since I will be right next door or if you aren't working, do you have a mailbox at the hospital? Hopefully, I will have the copies done by then or at least can give you what I have done.

Can't believe how busy I am since retirement. Of course, now that it is warm weather, my time is spent in the flower garden. Also volunteer for the Hospice program and Bloodbank. We have antique shops in two malls and six rental units.

Am so glad you called. Am anxious to share data and to have someone to work on the WHEATON family with me.

Am enclosing an ancestor chart for your husband. It's nice that his name is Thomas, the same as our direct ancestor.

Let me know if you will be working or if you have a mailbox.....

Cordially Yours,
Lucy

Dear Mickey,

Thought that I would get back with you before this. It was so nice meeting you! We enjoyed visiting with you so much.

Hope you receive this before your trip out East.

I copied a few of the branches of the Wheatons: COOK CANFIELD JACKSON(ABBOTT) for you. Hopefully, you will get a chance to look in some of the towns that I've mentioned on the notes attached to the group sheets. If you find any of the gravestones, I would appreciate a photo. Especially am interested in having a photo of the town of Branford, CT.

You will notice on all the group sheets that I have  in front of the direct ancestor so that you can pick that out of the list of children.

Will send you more later on, butwanted to get this into the mail.

Safe trip!!

Fondly,

Lucy Weaver

Dear Lucy and Jerry,

Although your Wheaton branch doesn't include an Uhl ancestor, we would be happy to have you join the "Wheaton table" for a chance to catch up on news from your family.

Ralph is alert, living alone and preparing his own meals. His myasthenia gravis is controlled by medication. Arthritic knees and loss of hearing don't keep him from walking uptown—

Please keep in touch - Love, M.E.L.

Dear Cousins,

Thank you so much for spending part of your weekend with me. Breakfast at the Stagecoach was nice, I thought. I hope you had a good visit with Uncle Ralph.

The enclosed news release relates to your Kidron trip. Paul Locher is a Wooster newspaper columnist; Stan Kaufman owns and operates Pomerene House, at the Y in Berlin, a bed and breakfast / museum and center for display of arts and crafts created by Amish and Mennonite artisans and author of several books on related subjects.

Some time, when you return to Wooster, I'll try to remember to show you my prized fraktur recording the baptism of one of my ancestors in the Uhl line. It was "salvaged" and framed by a professional art framing ~~for~~ company — Bonfoey's — in Cleveland. The ink had "eaten" out parts of the larger headline letters, so their artist reconstructed the letter shapes, having placed the original over a matching paper, upon which the missing parts of letters were drawn in. Unless you examine it very closely, you do not readily discern these tiny "fill-ins" of missing lettering. I appreciate having such a keepsake.

What a week I've had with my spouting problems! Today a roofing-spouting contractor was up behind my big chimney to locate the source of the major leak which allowed rain to get into the bookcase beside the fireplace in the living room. His verdict: Better just remove the two layers of roofing and start over. Thank goodness I'm not sending anyone to college! (Or paying the fees for my poor Alzheimer's sister-in-law.)

Palatines to America will hold their Ohio conference at Pemberville this Fall, but I doubt if I'll be able to attend as the date is Oct. 8, when guests will be arriving in Holmes County for the Uhl Event honoring Ralph's 100th birthday. Ruth keeps saying, "Come over!" Who knows when?

ROSE

Watercolor by Laura Yurkowski

Roses grow throughout the northern hemisphere. Roses are widely cultivated, and cross planting has given us many of the varieties of roses that we enjoy today. The rose is the state flower of New York.

Thank you again for sharing your time with me. I hope I can be included when you next track antiques in this area.

Love,

Mary Elizabeth

Dear Mrs. Weaver,

I recently received my Jan-Feb issue of the Genealogical Helper and saw your inquiry regarding the WHEADON line.

My maiden name was WHEADON, so I am interesed in what information you have.

My grandfather Alma WHEADON came to the United States, with his parents, JOHN C. WHEADON and JANE SEAL, from Broadwindsor, Dorsetshire, England, in about 1876. They settled in South Jordan, Utah.

I have information on the WHEADON line dating back to 1590, if you are interested. Also, the FOWLER name seems familiar, but I would have to check that out. It could be on one of of my husband's lines.

My brother is trying to locate some WHEADON'S, I believe three, who arrived in Florida in the mid to late 1800's. Do you have any information on these people?

If you are interested in what information I have, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Jerry Burns

Dear Jerry,
Your letter arrived today concerning the WHEADONS. Originally my ancestor spelled the name WHEADON, but through the years the name was changed to WHEATON. My data goes back to Thomas WHEADON circa 1628 to 1691, who immigrated from England to New Haven, CT...eventually one of his descendants Jonathan WHEATON(who served in the Revolutionary War) received land in OH. and moved to Holmes Co., OH. about 1820. I do not know of a connection in Utah or Florida, but one never knows. Also there is a WHEADON-WHEATON line descended from a Robert who came to Rehoboth, Mass. in the 1600s.
I would be interested in seeing your data which dates back to 1590. You mentioned Dorsetshire, Eng. I have a questionmark on my Somersetshire, Eng. because I don't have documentation on from where the information came. My earliest genealogy attempts were very haphazard to say the least. Since WHEADON-WHEATON is not a very common name, there must be a connection. Will enclose my Family Group Sheet on Thomas and if you send your Group Sheet(s) will keep on file for future reference.

Thanks for writing.

Sincerely,

Lucy M. Weaver

Dear Ms. Weaver,

I saw your message in Genealogical Helper. I have been doing research on Wheatons in NY state. My grandmother on my fathers side is Winona Wheaton. I have only recently started.

My grandmothers parents were Howard Wheaton and Edith Briglin Howards parents were Isaac Rapralle Wheaton and Jennie Sarah Everett

Isaac was born 8/9/1847 he had 13 nine full brothers and sisters and four half from a previous marriage of his father.
Isaac's parents were Samuel Wheaton b. 11/5/1798 and Sarah Ann Stewart b. 6/9/1813.

Samuel's parents were Samuel Wheaton b. 9/27/1767 and Charity Wicoff. I have more detailed information and am still gathering information. These Wheatons apparently came from NJ with the first Samuel and then to Yates County, NY Branchport.

I found several IGI indexed information on Isaac and his brothers and sisters. Apparently baptized by LDS.

If this is of interest to you, please get back to me and I will send more. I am also on-line at mwburne@aol.com. Good luck in your search. I am also looking for Burnett Murphy Steen Kelly Davis Carr Drake Decker.

Sincerely

Mike Burnett

Dear Jerry & Lucy,

I drove home from Millersburg today - rain & heavy traffic so happy to be home "safe & sound" as Mom always said. Mary & I told Harold we would send the obits and funeral bulletins to those we felt would be glad to see them. Harold made it pretty good through all the funeral stuff - had a tough time going back into the house (Ralph's) with him gone. Ralph's pastor had a very comforting message at the service - shared some amusing things Ralph had told him.

Harold's 2 stepchildren & families (Andy & wife brought their 3 boys (- they were very good) because they live in W. Va. & didn't want to leave them that long) were there. Lynne & her hubby came just on Thu.

for service as they had to work Wed. & just live in Canton. They were very good morale boosters for Harold. They also helped Mary & I & my brother Bob up & down the hilly terrain at the cemetery. (Gettin' old!).

The Lutheran ladies had a super lunch for us - about 30 stayed for that so we had a chance to chat & catch up.

Mary is still lightheaded nd uses a cane outside the home, but much improved over last winter's problems with hearing, shingles, Bell's Palsy & losing her voice - a nasty virus. She has been to NUMEROUS specialists besides her own doctor.

I'm battling rhematoid artritis & 2 bum knees - no cartilege so I'm walking bone on bone - ouch!

Hope to see you before 1996 leaves.

Fondly, Ruth Braungel

Our Wheaton name was changed from Wheadon about 1755. It is like any other name...chnaged in many different ways. On Jonathan Wheaton"s pension from Rev. War...it was Wheten, or Weeten...on one census it was Whitten...so I'm sure the Wheadons and Wheatons are from the same family tree.

Would be interested to know about your line and who was the original progenitor of your branch. I us~~s~~ually write whenever the name Wheaton is mentioned, since it is so unusual.
In the Indiana-Ohio area, Wheaton Van Lines, Inc. is often seen on trucks. The owner lives in Indianapolis (in his nineties) and is related to my line. Another relative recently died in Millersburg, OH. (Ralph Uhl Wheaton) at the age of 101 and 1/2...lived by himself and cooked dinner every Sunday for his son(who is in his seventies). Good genes!

Would like to hear from you. Will enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Dear Gerald & Lucy

We belong to Paulding County Genealogy Society too and noted in the last bulletin you were working on the Wheaton family.

My husband Don has a great Aunt Elizabeth nee Hasselschwert that was married to a Samuel Wheaton. But I have been unable to find any-info on them. Are they by any chance among your research?

Would appreciate hearing from you. Our niece Sharon Ricker lives just down the street from you.

Subject: WHEATONs in Ohio

Dear Lucy,

It was good to hear from you. There is a great deal I do not know about my WHEATONs unfortunately. My GG grandmother Margaret Ann WHEATON was born 25 Sep 1823 in Piqua, Miami, Ohio. She married John Lehre DOOWNS 21 Oct 1845 in Tiffin, Seneca, Ohio durning the time your WHEATONs were in Seneca Co. Ohio. It could be that Margaret's dad Jehosaphat WHEATON was a brother of William. He and his wife Lydia HOLMAN are listed on Margaret's death certificate. The location of their births are not given except for America.

Will be going to the National Archieves Monday, February 23rd. Will look to see if Jehosapat lived in the same township or near William. To determine if we are related guess more research is required.

I'm descended from John Wheaton who married Mary Frost. John's grandson, John, was born in Southington, CT in 1727 or 1728, had son Oliver. Moved to Stockbridge or Lenox, MA, then migrated to Killawog, NY in 1800. His son Oliver II had a son Charles Pinckney Wheaton, who was my grandfather's grandfather. These Wheatons lived in Richford and Harford, NY, north of Binghamton.

This is pretty sketchy, but I don't have this on the computer yet. I have a pretty good chart of early Wheatons starting with Thomas Whedon of Branford, CT. that was prepared probably 60 years ago.

I'll get this into my Reunion software soon, and will be able to share it easily.

Subject: Re: Somerset Directory 1626-

Wendy, Am wondering if there are any WHEADONS in the Somerset Directory.
Variant spellings: WHEDON, WHEATON. I have a Thomas WHEADON b. prehaps 1628 in England, was apprenticed to a John Meigs as a tanner and came to New Haven, CT. where he was married in 1661.
Someone had suggested that he was born in Somersetshire and that his father's name was Varient. Any assistance that you can give would be greatly appreciated. Lucy Weaver north@defnet.com

Hello,
Here are the names ofall Wheddon and var. who signed the Protestation Returns in Somerset in 1641 (loyalty to king and church.)

Ilminster
William Wheadon
Withycombe
William Wheddon
Wooton Courtenay
THOMAS WHEDDON
Crewkerne
Henry and John Wheadon
Winsham
John Wheadon
THOMAS WHEDIN
Watchet
Richard Wheddon

1641 Subsidy Roll (taxes)
Wooton Courtenay
John and THOMAS WHEDON (John was a collector)
Minehead
Gyles Wheddon
Yeovil
William Wheadon, assessor
Williton
Richard Wheadon
Watchet
Richard Wheadon.

The Hearth Tax exemptions on which the Directory is based, are later in the 1660s so Thomas wouldn't be there. However, from the 1641 returns you can see that there is a possibility that Thomas Wheddon was a Somerset man, and there are parishes you could research to see whether any of these had a son Thomas. If I were you I'd start with Wooton Courteney!

All the best

Wendy.

Hi, Timothy, Saw your chart on Family Tree Maker.I am a descendant of Thomas Wheadon. Have been searching for years for parents of Thomas. I see you have his father listed as Varient..also that Thomas was born in New Haven. I had always thought Thomas was born in Eng. and came over as an apprentice to John Meigs, tanner. Also only have Ann Small, not Mary Ann. Do you have a reference source for your data? Would appreciate any assistance you can give me. My descent is through Thomas & Hannah Sutliffe..then John who marr. Mary Crowfoot..then Jonathan who marr. Anna Cook..Jonathan b. 1755 marr. Dear Jerry + Lucy,

Have not heard from you for awhile. I have been staying close to home since I have this house for sale. It does make one sad to leave here but it is far too much to keep up. One young couple are going to the bank today to see about a loan. It is hard today to get one. I applied Oct 1st + still have not closed on the small condo I am buying.

Yesterday I had a mass said in Harms memory. It was 4 years ago. The time goes by so fast.

Hope you can get to see the Manor House this year. I believe it will be all of Dec. This will probably be my last Xmas in this house.

We managed to get our condo again in Florida for the month of March. I feel lucky to have my sister + husband to go with.

wondered if you have taken any trips lately? You have to do these things while you are still able. Glad we were able to go on the cruise. Hope your arm has been alright.

Come see me anytime

Love
Joyce

Hi Lucy, was glad to find your message today. I always have a problem figuring out these family lines so I will go thru mine and maybe you can figure it out. My great grandfather was William Henry Harrison Wheaton- His Parents were Jacob R. Wheaton and Sarah (Sally)Ann Butler--- Jacob R.Wheaton's parents were William Wheaton and Orpha Brooks-----William Wheaton's parents were William Wheaton(wedon) and Abigail Page.----William Wheaton(Wedon)'s parents were Abraham Wheadon/Wheaton and Hannah Plant ----Abraham Wheadon/Wheaton's parents were John Wheaton and Mary Frost. After that it gets very confusing to me. There is a Hannah Wheaton b 1685 Branford, New Haven Conn married to John Plant. I can't figure out how Hannah is related to me unless she married John Plant after she was married to Abraham Wheadon/Wheaton. I am taking this from an ancestor report I got thru the mail from a relative I found on genforum so it is all new to me. Does it mean anything to you? If you want, I will send you a copy of this report via U.S. mail, maybe you can figure it out. My family nad I live in southern Illinois. I have been working on my family history for a few years since I retired. I am always very glad to get more/new information. Let me know if you want to send the ancestor report. Dear Lucy + Jerry,

Glad to hear from you. The Manor house is open from 12-6 to the 13th. Would love to see you, if you can make it.

Sounds like that is quite a house that Ann has. Kids sure are lucky today to get these places so young. My sisters children also have these great places. I went to visit Jean for five days. We did go see three of her nine children. She will have twenty five grand children soon. Having Dr. Kevorkian for a neighbor may come in handy some day if he is still around.

Don't blame you for wanting to get out of the antique business. It is nice not to have so much stress. I still just volunteer at the Franciscan Center.

I enjoy seeing the shows.

I lucked out + sold my house myself. It was only in the paper three times. They want to move in by Jan 21st. Sure hope I can get everything out of here. I tire so easy + only can take one trip a day to the condo. It is right around the corner. I am anxious for you to see it. It is no fun doing this alone, but will get it done.

Theresa + family are coming for Xmas so it is hard selling my furniture before but will anyway. I pray it does not snow much before I get settled.

Butch has surgery Friday. Sure hope it helps to let him sleep at night. He has tried several things. His business is not too good. Krystyn is doing better as they have her on medication. She never stops talking.

Thanks for the picture

Love Joyce

Nice to hear from you. It is hard getting back to the real world. We had a very pretty condo. He even offered us a few extra days, but Jean had a shower for one of her twins. The one also had her baby when we were at Marco. Theresa has a cute little one. She has black hair. They paid us a surprise visit for a day. Subject: Re: Are you home yet?

Hi, Lucy, Isn't Bob great? I just wish he lived a bit closer so he could provide hands-on help for me. My Web TV is new to him but he can figure out how it works. He hooked up my set for me. At Salt Lake City one of my Elderhostel classes had us in a lab on the the SLC branch campus of Brigham Young University where each had the use of a computer that had internet connections. I located a query in Devonshire in England where I found the names of a couple of persons who iindicated an interest in WHEATON family research. I hope to find someone there who may lead me to a WHEATON family who had a son about the time our Thomas would have been born. So far I have not located a clue as to his age when he came to America in 1653 (as he testified in a court case in New Haven Colony in 1658.) Last week I examined a few church records, without success. Unfortunately the Devon church authorities have not given permission for the Latter Day Saints staff to photocopy their old records, so genealogists must go there to read whatever is available. When I was there , I was not on a research trip so there was no opportunity for perusing birth or other data. My only hope lies in locating local assistance. I don't have to go on-line to find people who have forgotten how to spell! Just read any newspaper! My personal problem is typing; I never learned to operate one of these devices. That's my excuse for coscientiously avoiding the computer all these years. Did you find out how Jim Sherlock happened to include our WHEATON surname in his of names for study? He thought that I should be included in the world of net researchers so he that round-about way to involve me. Alice Wheaton Smith is an example of how his system works. I was as excited as she was to uncover our two generations of WHEATONs in common. In our Linder Research Group in SLC last month I also discovered a retired Vermont surgeon who had those same two generations of WHEATONs . Small world, indeed!

Subject: Harvey query

Researching Thomas Wheadon/Anne Harvey family history, I have seen children listed as: Thomas, Sarah, Esther, John, and Hannah. From a volume of town records of New Haven colony , within the year prior to the marriage of Thomas and Anne, there is a record of the appearance before the court of a Francis Harvey and Anne Small, requesting permission to marry. (Permision denied.) I have seen no record of a later marriage of these two persons. Some time later the Wheadon/Harvey marriage is recorded. Do you think that Mr. Harvey's involvement in her life might explain the use of his surname when she was married? In further study of descendants of Thomas Wheadon, I have found that the various spellings of that surname finally settled down as Wheaton "around 1755', according to one genealogist. Back in England (where Thomas came from about 1653), that surname appears most often as Wheaton. By the way, in a different volume of New Haven town records, Thomas Wheadon was the plaintiff in a civil suit in 1658. At that time he told the court that he had come "from England" about five years previously. I am willing to share the results of my research in the Family History Center in Salt Lake City. My personal line of descent is through the male line of the Wheaton family, via the second Thomas who was married to Hannah Sutliffe. My line of Wheatons settled in northeastern Ohio prior to 1820, in the community where I grew up, several generations later. Mary Elizabeth (Wheaton) Leppla

Lucy, I recently lost my genealogy program files when our hard drive crashed. I did have a back up but it was not current. I have been restoring information and I came across what I believe is more accurate than what I have previously sent to you. My Wheatons are as follows:

1. Jehoida Wheaton: Jehoida was born in England after 1726. he married unknown person about 1750. Jehoida died 1832 to 1836 in Vermont? He reported for active duty in Vermont? about 1777?

>From another relatives genealogy: Jehoida Wheaton was a surgeon in General Thomas Wolfe's army. He placed his head on the rock when he cried, 'how goes the battle?' He lived to be 106 years old. He came from England.

2. Colinor Wheaton: Colinor was born about 1775. He married Rachel Rhodes about 1800.

3. Polly Wheaton: Polly was born in Vermont? Nov. 7, 1807. She married Asher Conger in Vermont? Sept 19, 1823. Polly died Feb 13, 1902 in Canton, NY at 94.

Thank you Lucy, I appreciate your help. Julie

Hello Lucy
I am trying to research my aunt May Wheaton. She was born in Ohio to Martin Luther Wheaton and Martha Walgamont. I am not sure of the spelling for Walgamont. On her marriage application to Joseph Faser it stated that her parents were born in Wittenburg Ohio. I am not sure of that spelling either. May was born in 1893. She was married in Rochester, Pa. in 1914. If you have any information on this family please write.

Hello Lucy
That sure sounds like my May. She was 21yrs old at the time of her marriages. I just received a copy of her marriage application so I haven't had a chance to check out the census. Here is what was on the application.
May R, Weaton White.Occupation Works in factory, Homes Ville, Ohio residence Rochester, Pa. age 21yrs. father Martin Lutther, Mother's maiden name Walgamot, fathers residence Deforestwhite, birthplace of father Wittenburg, Ohio or Motlmburg. Mother place of birth same.
As I said it is hard to read the handwriting. I thing the person writing the appliction mispeled the names. They spelled Wolgamott with one T.
May married my uncle in Rochester Pa. in 1914 at the age of 21. My uncle worked for a glass company at that time. He later owned a gas station and store on Sun Flower Road in back of Rochester. He died in 1948. May latter remarried to a farmer in Ohio. She never had any children.
I have a social security death records CD. It list a lot of Ohio Wheatons. Let me know if you want me to do any look ups for you.
Thank you for the information you sent me that will be helpful. I am going to request the marriage article from the news paper. Our Beaver County library has the news paper on microfilm. I just found the date of their mariage so I wasn't able to get that before. I will let you know if I find anything. Please let me know if you find any more information when you get your computer up.

Hello, Lucy, These days I am spending most of my time in Canton with a friend whom I've known since graduate school days. You can usually reach me through her at (330)493-1090. To answer questions in your latest E-mail, I think that a genealogical use of the word "inmate" would refer to a renter as opposed to an owner of real estate. Unless I am mistaken, Jonathan Wheaton's son Russell (married to Abigail Martin) had a son Edward (spouse; Margaret Wolgamott). Their son Martin Luther Wheaton married Martha Wolgamott in Holmes County in 1879. Ohio census records show a Martin L in the home of Edward in Prairie Township in Holmes County prior to that marriage date. There were about a half dozen Wheaton-Wolgamott marriages in this area back through the years. I recall a query from a researcher in the vicinity of Salt Lake City that led me into more Wolgamott information than I thought I'd ever use. Eventually I passed it along to a Wolgamott researcher in this county. I remember attending an annual Wheaton-Wolgamott family reunion in Wooster when I was a girl. Once I asked my father who those Wolgamotts were. His reply was, "Oh some kind of cousins." All I knew was that they weren't in my list of first cousins,but they were related somehow. Where does your Don Fraser correspondent live? Hope you are both well enough to be on the go. Mary Elizabeth.

Hello Lucy
I think you are correct about the term [inmate]. I sure appreciated the information you gave me. I never expected that you would have so much inbformation on the Wheatons. Lucky for me that you did.

I don't know how she ended up in Rochester. Her marriage application said that she was employed at a factory in Holmesville, Ohio. I found that on the map last night it is near Beaver Falls, Pa. I think that was probably her last job. She might have gone to Rochester to work at Fry Glass. That is all their was in Rochester. After looking at the application better I think it says Residence of father Deforest. Residence of mother ?Sh???. That may be Shrene. He started to write a Cs after that he wrote Sh- trailed off scrible. Their is a Deforest a little south of East Liverpool. I don't know why the father would be living seperatly.

I checked the on-line White pages and found a Marilyn Wheaton living in Woster. You probaly know her.

If you want me to do any Social Security Look ups for you let me know. The date of death is helpful to get obiutiries from your county History Library.

Thanks again for your help. I am now able to fill in a lot of gaps in May's file.

Below are a few Wheaton names you may be able to use. They are all from Ohio.

Hello Lucy,
I apologize for taking so long to get back to you regarding the Wheaton's of Susquehanna Co.. I have really just begun the search of my Wheaton family tree and have managed to get it back to Nathan Wheaton of Salt Springs, PA born sometime before 1810. We still have Wheatons there and all around the Montrose and Factoryville area. We even all get together every summer and each year the crowd gets bigger and bigger. This has been a great source of information for me. I was born and raised in New Jersey most of my life and had little contact with all of my Pennsyvania relatives. I have been unable to make any connections with the names that you mentioned in your e-mails. I am sorry, but hopefully as I find time to dig a little further, we will be able to make a connection. I wish you luck in your search and if I come across any information that may be of help to you, I will gladly pass it on. It was nice to hear from you.

Lucy,
I found a letter today while I was looking through some papers of the Hall's. It was written May 31, 1910, which is 89 years ago, exactly.
It is to Dan Hall and is from Charity Fisher. She was Charity Bills, and she married John Fisher, October 11, 1846 in Seneca county. She is a sister of Nelson Bills who married Esther Wheaton.
The letter was found in the old J.D. Hall house, in Highland Twsp.a few years ago.
She writes from South Whitley, IN. She writes to My dear nephew and wife and children. Lydia Franklin Bills was JD Hall's mother.
Another clue!!! I did not know where she lived so I can do a check on her now. I thought you would be interested, with the Wheaton connection.

Hi, how are you? Been busy working all kinds of shifts (the new kid on the block) and in my spare time (ha) doing research. I'm fine. Am in remission - hope to stay that way. Have been doing a lot of research on the Hall's. Am now going thru the newspaper of the little town where they lived to gather any data. Interesting stuff in the 20's - hadn't realized all the historical data that occurred in this time frame- i.e. prohibition, Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Pancho Villa. So find myself "reading" the newspaper instead of looking for what I'm working on. But all the same interesting. Which branch is Mary related to? Wish I had a person like her on my side of the family. Went to my family reunion...the closest we could stay was two hours away from the place.....came in the night before..did the cemetery thing...next day drove two hours to the park - sat for two more hours waiting for someone to show...then drove home 6 hours....to get a phone message on the answering machine that the reunion was cancelled at 8:00 a.m. that morning. (Even with the fastest driving wouldn't have been able to receive that phone call in time) Cannot begin to tell you how I felt. I had updated our 'roots', made copies of it and had copies of pictures to give out. Had bought presents for the silent auction and...poof - nobody showed but me and Tom. So we played cards, ate our lunch, took pictures of ourselves and then left Pennsylvania to come home. Well, I digress. Genealogy is exciting stuff - wish more of my family thought so. Oh, well. Hi Lucy ,

Sorry it's been so long since I connected with you . Things have been very busy and my computer was taken over by my husband . LOL

I am still trying to verify if my Daniel Wheaton is related to yours . I have a feeling he is . I have a birth date on a census from Davis County Iowa as 1821 but it doesn't match the birth date on his pension papers but then again neither did his name . I have surmised that Daniel did not know how to write since his mark was always an x instead of a signature so of coarse his birth date may have been a mix up also . His paper says he had dark hair , tan complexion and blue eyes and was 5' 8" . I sure wish I had a picture of him . Does this sound like anyone from your Wheaton's ?

Any way I will try to get some more information about him and may contact you later . If you find anything please let me know .

I do have a new email address it's

Lucy ,
On my Daniel Wheaton's military papers he was listed as David Wheaton and at his time of enlistment in 1863 was age 44 years old , that would mean he was born in 1819. It says he was born in Holmes County Ohio . When Daniel died he was living in Ottumwa Iowa which is in the southern part . When he came back from serving he doctored in Bloomfield Iowa also in the southern part .
I wish I had more information to go on . I keep going over the pension papers trying to find anything I've missed . Hopefully someday I'll find the key to all his history .

I ran across a sored message from you from last April about the use of the given name Anson by various WHEATONs in our assorted lines. To answer your question---No, I have no idea where the name originated, but it seems to have been around for quite a while.
To correct one item: My line from Jonathan and Penelope should read as follows__Son, Anson Melvin WHEATON (spouse, Rebecca COOK) Grandson,Charles Miller WHEATON, named for his father's friend, the founder of the village of Millersburg, Ohio (spouse, Rosanah UHL) Next, my grandfather, William Anson WHEATON (spouse, Lizzie CHAPMAN.) My father's name was Weldon WHEATON,no middle name. (Family joke: They just called him "Well done" and let it go at that.) My mother's name was Alice BOYD. I was named for two grandmothers: Mary BOYD and Elizabeth CHAPMAN. With that precedent, my brother was christened Anson Boyd WHEATON. End of story. Thanks for listening! PS My husband was named for his grandfather, Phillip, and called Junior until he went to school. As a classmate , I knew him only as Phillip. That continued until he met Uncle Sam's rule-followers in the Air Force. Their rules required at least a middle initial so he arbitrarily added the middle initial J.(for Junior). Forever more he was known as Phillip (J.,initial-only) LEPPLA. Well, THAT won't be repeated for generations!) Love, MEL

Hi, One mystery solved! John Lacy WHEATON (1825-1883) was a son of Russel WHEATON. Sorry that I wasted your time. I should have dug a little deeper before I "spoke;" but I still don't know who Jonathan Lacey WHEATON was. Can you clear him up for me? MEL

Hello, Lucy, Belatedly I am reviewing items long buried in my E-mail storage. One from you originated with a WHEATON researcher named Betty Woollums, in search of informatiom about David WHEATON. I haven't done much about his family as a whole, but I do know something about a daughter named Anna Marie, born in 1823 (according to a family Bible entry.) Her first husband was Robert Enos Horner--known as Enos--who died in the Civil War. I was able to learn something about her from a guardian's account for her two children who were regularly receiving a check from the US Govt. It turned out to be a dependants' pension check from the military service of their deceased father. Their widowed mother later married a Mr. Robinson. Her third husband was A. W. Adams who died in Akron and was buried in the Holmesville Cemetery, located north of that town. (I'll bet you didn't really need to know all of those details.) Speaking of cemeteries reminds me to ask about another person mentioned in your reply to Betty Woollums. I'm not acquainted with the name Jonathan Lacey WHEATON. The brother of David WHEATON , son of Jonathan and Penelope , was Jonathan Schuyler WHEATON, born in 1788 in Vershire, VT. According to a record of WHEATONs in Oakhill Cemetery in Millersburg, there is a John L. WHEATON, 1825-1883, buried there. Could that be the Jonathan Lacey WHEATON? Those dates would put him in the next generation after David. Who were his parents? What do you know about Jonathan Lacey WHEATON's dates or burial? There may be no close connection between these two persons (although the Lacey second name definitely looks like some family tie.) He could be a son of David rather than a brother, couldn't he? I'll see if I can learn anything more about the illusive David WHEATON. After all I'm nearer the source of some of the records of his middle years; maybe I can tie together the bits and pieces. I'd like to be able to put him to rest and answer questions for his descendants who need to know his history. I am acquainted with a relative of David's wife, Sarah Nowles, but he isn't into genealogy just yet, so he couldn't give me much information about persons living that long ago. He knew his family was related but that was all. He knew me by my maiden name so the WHEATON surname was famuliar. Bye for now. Love, Mary Elizabeth Leppla

Hello, Lucy, Thank you for the clarification about Jonathan Lacey WHEATON. I have looked up the 1850 Wayne County, OH, census. Besides David and wife Sarah WHEATON, it shows children: Russel,age 25, Anna M.,20. Rebecca J., and a 10-year old girl whose name I take to be Lovina A. I'll try to read the Holmes Co. censuses for later years when I can get to them. Mary Elizabeth

Hi, Lucy, Thank you for the muster information. Evidently no one paid much attention to our soldier. If he was married when the Bible said he was, you would expect to have some kind of pay adjustment, wouldn't you? Maybe that little detail didn't exist in those days. I'll have to research that small item. How did you locate that kind of information on the Internet? I am always amazed at what you come up with. Hope both of you are maintaining your customary state of health. I'm fine! Love,

St. Raphael has experienced structural changes during the past 150 years. The current church building was completed in 1894. At age 102, Estelle Sweeney is the oldest living parishioner and she recalls, "My husband was one of the first babies to be baptized in this building after it was finished."

The first school of the parish was in the church basement. In 1987, there was a consolidation of elementary schools at St. Raphael, St. Mary and St. Joseph churches to form Holy Trinity School.

St. Raphael underwent a revitalization in the 1980s. By 1988, a $1 million renovation had been completed to bring the worship space into line with the Second Vatican Council.

Deacon Horstman believes the renovation was the biggest transition the parish experienced. It strengthened the community and became the "fruition of Vatican II," he said.

Along with the school consolidation and church-building renovation, there was a dramatic increase in the ministries of the parish and in the religious education offered to children and adults. It was during this period that Frank Laengle was ordained one of the first permanent deacons in the archdiocese. He ministered to the elderly and homebound of the parish for 15 years until his death.

In the mid-1980s, Horstman joined the staff as pastoral associate and later was ordained a deacon

Father Hoff credited XU theology professor Paul Knitter, a member of the board of trustees of the International Peace Council, with helping XU arrange this event.

"He was instrumental in helping us," Father Hoff said.

Beyond the week-long event, XU announced the creation of the Brueggeman Center for Religious Dialogue, named to honor the memory of the late Jesuit Father Ed Brueggeman, a long-time local champion of interfaith discussions, to continue the important work of interfaith understanding. He was the host for several years of Dialogue, a local television show that promoted interfaith discussion. He died in 1995.

"I feel honored, but also challenged to make this center a real focal point for interreligious activity and dialogue in the tri-state area," Father Bracken said.

The Brueggeman Center will promote interfaith dialogue, especially regarding how people of different faiths can work cooperatively on issues such as global violence and ecological concerns. Jesuit Father Joseph Bracken was named the director of the center. He is a professor of theology who has been at XU for 18 years. A location for the center has not yet been designated.

Hello,
Wheadon:
In the list of Somerset Probate Inventories there are two Wheadon wills mentioned:
Attowill Wheadon, senior, of Wootton Courtney, Tanner, died 1721
John Wheadon of Spaxton died 1681.
I can give you the reference numbers if you're interested - the wills are held at Somerset record Office.
The Somerset Wills Index also lists the will of John Wheadon, thatcher, of Chard, died 1593,
There are more Wheddons - this could be a variant.

The Hearth Tax for 1664 has John Wheadon with a house with two hearths at Merridge.

1670 Hearth tax Exemptions:
Crewkerne, Edith and Robert Wheadon

Chard, Joseph
Yeovilton, Alice
West Camel and Downhead, Peter Whedon
Cricket Thomas, Thomas
Winsham , William

Hill farrance , Peter
Crewkerne, Edith and Robert

I think you are right to look for your Wheadons in Somerset. I haven't any parish register transcripts which might help , but I'm sure you now have new angles to consider!

All the best

Subject: Wheaton's in Holmes County Ohio

Hi Lucy ,

I was searching Holmes County Ohio for the Wheaton surname and found your 1998 queries about some Wheaton's .

I have pension records for my gr.gr.grandfather Daniel Wheaton and they say he was born in Holmes County Ohio . In the records for the 7th Iowa Cavalry he is listed as David Wheaton .

I have his papers for his oath of identity as Daniel . According to the records he was 44 years old when he joined making his birth date abt. 1819 . if my math is right .

I am hoping maybe you may have some information on him or his parents . I haven't been able to find their names yet .

I would appreciate any information or help you might be able to give me .

Yesterday I sent a request for information on Lawrence J. Wheaton. I have since come to believe that Lawrence J. Wheaton, Paul J. Wheaton and Paul Custer Wheaton are the same person. If anyone has info on any of these name variations, please let me know.

Lawrence/Paul married Agnes O'Dea and had two daughters, one of which became a nun. His parents were Jasper E. Wheaton (or Joseph Jasper) and Anna A. Custer.

Thanks!

Dear Mrs. Weaver:

As we promised in our letter of December 15, we are sending you copies of our records of the early WHEATON family, down through the children of Jonathon Wheaton and Penelope Lacy.

As we explained, our book is about two inches thick, but we are sending you copies of Pages 1 through 65, pages 122 and 123, and 175 through 192. A copy of the index is also enclosed for your ready reference.

Our WEAVER family history is far from complete, but we are sending you a copyoof pages 1 through 34 which includes all of our information down to Isaac Weaver who married Catherine Shively. They were the great-grandparents of Mrs. Wheaton. From that point on, we have quite a bit of information, but we have had difficulty tracing the family back to Maryland or Pennsylvania.

If you can add anything to what we already have on either the WHEATON or WEAVER families, we would certainly appreciate hearing from you.

The material is being sent to you via United Parcel Service, and you should receive it in just a few days.

"The study of family origins and histories of past and present events are indeed a great tribute and worthwhile memorial to our loved ones to be past on to our children and theirs.

How very proud we are of our heritage, which we can tract back for years.

My sisters and I dearly loved our grand-parents, autns, uncles, cousins. We have only wonderful memories of them and the wonderful, kind, thoughtful things we shared together and the stories or grandmother Kidd used to tell us of her younger years.

Our beloved dear mother, Ida Mae Kidd Stonebrook's memory is with us each day. We loved her so very much. May God bless all our ancestors.

Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in christian love
The fellowship of kindred minds is like to that above Before our Father's throne
 we pour our ardent prayers our fears, our hopes, our aims are one our comforts and our cares,

We share our mutual woes
 our mutual burdens bear and often for eachother flows the sympathizing tear when we asunder part it gives us inward pain but we shall still be joined in heart and hope to meet again

This beautiful poem says all. It was found on small piece of typed clipping in Family Bible.

Dear Mr. Wheaton:

Your letter addressed to my husband arrived yesterday and I am also interested in the Wheaton family. Although I do have a copy of the manuscript you mentioned in your letter, I doubt that it contains much beyond what Mr. Crawford gave you. However, I will gladly share it with you.

You were correct in assumming that there is a connection between the Cameron and Wheaton lines - and the many Camerons living here at Delavan are all related. Our line is as follows:

Jonathan Wheaton & Penelope Lacy
Anson Wheaton & Rebecca Cook
Sarah Wheaton b. 6 Oct. 1822 m. 26 Sept. 1841 Louis Mayers
Rachel R. Mayers b. 2 July 1842 m. 31 July 1862 Robert Matthews Cameron
This couple had six children - one was my husband's father

I could supply you with further details if it would be of interest. We would be interested in your line, too.

Genealogy has been my hobby for a number of years and I have been in contact with the Crawfords for some time. I presume that they sent you the information they have collected on the line. You did say that you are the great grandson of Russell Wheaton and I do not know how interested you are in the people who are not in his line of descent so will not go further at this time.

This happens to be a very busy week for me so I do not have time to copy the material that you desire but felt you would like a speedy answer to your letter anyway. I will certainly copy it just as quickly as I can and send it to you, however. I understand how it is to write letters and wait for an answer so I did want to let you know that your letter had reached the proper person. My maiden name was Claypool which no doubt caused the error in the initial. I will hope to hear more about your line as I am interested.

Sincerely,

Bette C. Cameron

Bette C. Cameron (Mrs. Charles S.)

P.S. Have you been to Millersberg and visited the graves there? I have not had the opportunity but do have pictures taken by others.

you do not have to send addressed/stamped envelopes again.

Dear Mr. Wheaton,

Your letter and many sheets of information arrived today just before I was leaving to mail the copy of the manuscript you had asked about in your previous letter. As I mentioned in my letter, I am sorry that I have no real information to add to what you already know, but I am sending the copy - for what it is worth. I tried to make the copy as much like the one I have as possible. Incidentally, there is a notation that the spectacles of Rebecca Cook Wheaton having been left to Anson Wheaton Cameron for a daughter. Anson (known to us as Scottie) is my husband's brother and his wife does have these spectacles but they didn't name their only daughter Rebecca, though they are pleased to have and treasure them.

Because you have a sheet (family) for Lewis Mayers, I am sending you one as it contains a bit more information. The date of marriage you had questioned so can correct as I take my date from both the wedding certificate as well as pages in an old family Bible. I understand that this part of the family is remote to yours so not of great interest, but felt you would perhaps like full information on sheets you do have.

I want to thank you very much for all you sent. I did have the information in general but in some cases it helps substantiate what I do have. It did add one important fact that was unknown - the year of death of Rebecca Cook Wheaton (wife of Anson). Her stone is turned over and I had not been able to get that date before, though should have thought to check lineage papers. I am delighted to add this to my records!

If there is anything further I can do to help, please let me know. I will certainly let you know if anything turns up. Since you said that you have the information from Mr. Crawford, I will not bother to send anything on Henry Burt, Samuel Gregery, etc. as no doubt he gave you that information.

Very best regards - and happy hunting!

Sincerely,

Bette Cameron

Sacred To the Memory

of

My Grandmother Rebecca Cook Wheaton

Dedicated as a loving tribute to

My mother, Margaret Ester Wheaton Kimerer

by her daughter

Mary Louise

The ancestors of our Grandmother Rebecca Cook Wheaton came over in the Mayflower. In after years an elder brother and Rebecca's father who bought with him his English bride, came to America and settled near Petersburg, Virginia. They were men of fine educational talents: - surveyors by vocation, and did surverying for the Government, receiving land in payment for their services. After living here a number of years, the brothers returned to England and made settlement of estate interests. On the return voyage to America, they became ill*, but sucedded in reaching Boston, Massachusetts, and were taken to an Inn or Tavern, in which they both died. At that time all their money and valuables with them were taken by unknown persons. Previous to their going to the Old Country, the Government had confiscated, for war purposes, alltheir money possessed by them at that time, to be used in building the great Gunpowder and Saltpeter Works on the Potomac River.

In those days, the women were taken advantage of by men Sharks who came to them and fraudulently took over their lands. This left the widow with her family of five little ones "homeless and penniless", nor was she ever reimbursed by the Government for confiscated holdings.

On an adjoining plantation lived a good man, Van Meter, by name, who came to the widow and offerred her a cabin on his land. He also gave her a large tract of land to be used as a truck patch and allowed her to have as many cows as she wished. From these and the food she raised on this land, she was able to maintain her little family up to the time when they were able to take care of themselves.

Three sons working in the mountains were killed by a falling tree - two instantly and one died later from injury. This left the mother and two little girls alone.

In the long autum days, they spent their time gathering cones from the mountain sides - these were stored in a log shed near the house and were used evenings for heat and light by burning them in the large frreplace.

The little children were never allowed to play up oon the mountain side or near them at eve'n tide, owing to the much feared bull snakes, which made such mournful sounds and slso the dreaded hoop snakes which came rolling down the mountain sides to seek their hiding places.

I never remember having heard their Christen neames of either father or mother of Rebecca, nor did I ever hear what became of the sister.

I do know that Grandmother's mother had a very rich friend, childless, who begged her for Rebecca when she was about twelve years old, and she always regretted not being able to go, but her mother could not part with her.

When Rebecca was a young lady of seventeen, she came with her mother and other emigrants to Ohio. I never heard just where she located but it must have been up near where the old Wheaton families lived, as it was there she met and married Anson Wheaton, a fine young man and a school teacher by profession. He was also an engravor of steel, did surveying, and was one of Holmes County's earliest educators.

From earliest childhood, it was my delight to listen to the tales of Grandmother Wheaton's early history - to me it was an ever interesting story. My mother knew I loved these and never tired of telling them, and talked more of them to me than to any other.

In Grandmother's girlhood was a sad little "Romance". At the age of sixteen she became separated from the love of her youth - Howard Payne, who left Virginia for an Ohio home, expecting her to follow. They never found each other and it was said by many who knew her that she never ceased to mourn her "boyhood lover".

I was given her spectacles in my childhood and I have always considered them by rarest treasure, but now give them to her Great Grandson who bears his Grandfather's name, "Anson Wheaton Cameron" for a little daughter, Rebecca Cook Cameron. In the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia, Gathering cones of Pine -
Roamed little Rebecca Cook,
Your Grandmother - and - mine.

From the breasts of little wild birds
She made a nest of her own
And brought it with her o'er the mountains
For use in her cabin home.

And, today, on my bed, in my own home -
Is this nest of little brown feathers,
That she gave to my mother, for her home -
For use in the cold, cold weather.

And sacred to me is this heirloom,
Made sacred by her little hands
That toiled and picked them from the breasts of these birds
In Virginia - her own home land.

Yes, I do remember this "Loved One",
Whose light went out in Our Home -
Where I, her youngest Granddaughter,
Slept on her dear old arm.

Mrs. Mary K. Rudy,

As you request, I will write you some of my personal memories of the Wheaton family of Holmes County.

Anson Wheaton was an accomplished surveyor and a teacher of very impressive intelligence. His knowledge of educational subjects and text books gave him great prominence in the community, and his assistance was greatly sought after by the various school teachers of the country, to whom he imparted valuable information at that period of the county's history. He was universally respected for his talents and for his kindness to his fellow men, and the name of Anson Wheaton was a household word among the good people of Holmes County, so greatly was he revered and esteemed.

Russell Wheaton was a prominent farmer and successful man in business affairs. He was a substantial and active member of the Disciple Church and a very liberal supporter of the cause of Religion. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him and his neighbors loved his generosity and splendid traits of character. In the promotion of the welfare of the community, Russell Wheaton was universally esteemed as a man of invaluable merit, possessing abilities unusual among the men of his day, and bestowing his energies for the betterment of his fellows.

Washington Wheaton was an experienced and accomplished printer. I was brought up with him in the office of the Holmes County Farmer, which my father purchased in the year 1854. Washington Wheaton was the foreman of the office and I learned the printers trade under his tuition and supervision. His health failed him and I prevailed upon him to become a candidate for the office of County Recorder, in order that he might continue, in consequence of his declining health, to earn a competent support of himself and family. I took an active part in supporting him for the Democratic nomination for the office. He was so timid and reluctant about personally soliciting the support that was necessary in those days to attain success, that I felt it a duty to employ my best efforts and resources to marshal supporters in his befalf, and had the good fortune to see his triumph in securing a majority vote at the Democratic primaries of that year, which was the equivalent to election in Holmes County politics. He was elected to the office and took charge of its duties, and though his feeble health continued, he was eminently successful in discharging those duties to the entire satisfaction of the community. After all these years of varied experiences with men of all ranks in life, I look back upon my personal relations with Washington Wheaton with the fondest of memories. His strict integrity, righteous daily conduct, and uniform kindness to his fellow man, were traits of character that amply justified the high esteem in which he was held by all who knew him.

(Sixth child of Jonatha and Penelope Wheaton)

Our beloved Russel Wheaton who was born in Schoharrie County, New York, was a man of most excellent reputation and standing in the County of Holmes, State of Ohio. He was very active in everything pertaining to the welfare of "This New Country".

Russel Wheaton, as Colonel Russel, was given the title of Colonel by the people of the community - not by any war achievement. At this time recruits were being prepared for service and the Gala Day at that period of the County was known as General Muster Day, when all the people turned out en masse; tents were peitched in the large pasture field adjoining Oak Hill Cemetery at the County seat - here all were housed and fed - by its good people. Colonel Russel Wheaton mounted on his beautiful white horse wearing a colonel's uniform with a marked resemblance and appearance to that of General Washington, gave his military commands from the highest point on Main street - on the land now owned by James Mitchell (1928) to the willing recruits who were in line before the Old Court House.

Colonel Russell Wheaton's wife, Abagail, was the daughter of the famous Neddy Martin, one of the county's early pioneers and one of the great friends of the Indians, who came to his house frequently for counsel - this land known as the old Neddy Martin farm is situated north east of the County Infirmary; here all emigrants receive a warm welcome and were given aid until land was purchased and taken by them. His father, Jonathan, was man of wealth, owning hundreds of acres of land. He gave to each child a farm.

During his life, Russell lived on the farm given him by his father, and which was afterwards owned by the daughter, Catherine Anne Wheaton, who married Armstrong Walgamot. This was the old Russell Wheaton farm. Here he and his dear old wife, Abagail Martin Wheaton raised their family - it was here that many charitable deeds prevailed.

He gave his daughters a very fine seminary education - clothed them as few girls of that day were clad. He was a prosperous and wealthy farmer, made so by his good judgement and frugality. He was prominent in all the higher things of the age - owning much land and was associated with the large "Iron Foundry" at Massillon, Ohio; among whose members were Angus McDonald - father of Mrs. Albert Adams, nee Flora McDonald, also, Mr. Saxon, father of Ida Saxon - wife of our beloved President McKinley.

Russell Wheaton's life was a pattern, meaning, Citizenship, Christian, Scholar, and a gentleman of highest type, dressed at all times in an immaculate manner and style of that period. He had a commanding appearance at all times and was an English aristocrat. (As a very little girl I remember his now white hair and his tall commanding appearance when he came to meet my dear mother and her little ones, bringing us large pound apples tied up in a black and white large plaid silky gingham handkerchief, and carried on his cane over his shoulder. I remember the large pocket knife he would take to pare those wonderful yellow apples.)

He was endeared to the people and his county, but most of all do I, his descendent, revere and love his memory.

After the death of my Grandfather, John Kimerer and his wife, Naomy Martin, they took the little family of three boys and a little daughter to rear - but in a short time they both passed away and the little ones were left again without a home. They were taken in by Catherine Martin Painter, known as Aunt Katy Painter - she was a widow of ___ Painter, on her farm home in Benton, Holmes County, Ohio - just across the road from the Harry Olgamot home, now occupied by himself, his wife, who was Mame Painter, and her father, Sample Painter, who was the son of Bruce Painter. Here the little boys lived but a few years when the house was burned to the ground, the little boys - sleeping in the loft above the main part of the house escaped by climbing out on the limbs of an old peach tree - in the cold and snow - the old Aunt Katy Martin Painter was found by her son, Bruce, where she had returned for valuables and money, (burned so badly that afterwards she died). This left the little boys for the third time homeless, and they were taken in and were raised to manhood by Bruce Painter and his wife, who was ___ Snyder.

Russell and Abagail Wheaton

As a last beautiful tribute to their plans for the orphan boys entrusted to their keeping, I may add that after rearing and educating their own family, their future plans were to make of these boys Professional men. The little girl, Catherine, would no doubt have been college bred. Peace to the ashes of our noble ancestors.

Mary Louise Kimerer Rudy

Note: The little girl, Catherine, was taken by a family named Power at Nashville, Ohio; there she lived for over sixteen years and on March 17, 1853 in Fredricksburg, Ohio she married Cornelius Albertson of Millersburg, Ohio. They were married by ... S. McCullah Anderson.

After the death of Abagail Wheaton, the same family of Powers, who had taken the little girl Catherine, also gave the boy Jesse Kimerer a home. It was here he learned the trade of carriage trimming and upholstering. Here he met and married Sarah Longshore of Nashville, Ohio.

Russell Wheaton, son of Jonathan and Penelope Wheaton, was married to Abagail Martin, April 11, 1822. The names and dates of births of children to this union were as follows:

George Washington Wheaton born in Prairie Twp., Holmes County, Ohio April 2, 1823

Source of following information not known.

Thomas Whaadon, who died in 1691, was another early Colonial Settler of the general era of Henry Burt and Edward Lacy. This family name of Wheadon was changed to Wheaton later, about 1755. As Connecticut was first settled in 1632 to 1635, and had a population of only 3,000 as late as 1643 it is apparent that he was one of the early settlers.

He settled in Branford, Conn. shortly after it was founded in 1644. Branford was and is closely associated with the town of New Haven. Despite ambitions of its founders the towns of the New Haven jurisdiction were never more than small agricultural communities in a region not well adapted for agricultural purposes. There were tanneries and one iron works, but most manufacturing was done in the barns of the workmen. A man named Davenport remarked at a town meeting in 1662 that unless the town could do something to increase shipping "and so rayse manafacture" its inhabitants could not long subsist. He can see they worried about the balance of trade even in 1662.

Other notes on the life at that time indicate that drunkenness and sexual misdemeanors were not unknown. Smoking was allowed but not in public. Ordinary misdemeanors were punished by stocks pillories, fines, whipping and imprisonment and by such humiliating public penances as the wearing of a halter for a given time.

CERTIFICATION OF BIRTH

In accordance with Sec. 84g of the Public Acts of 1943, this Certification of Birth, when signed by the proper authority and bearing his seal of official authentication, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts contained herein.

THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN THAT Jonathon Wheadon was born Jan. 26, 1755

in Branford, New Haven County Sex: Male

This certificate upon which this certification of birth is issued was placed on file on the __ day of ________, 1755.

Dated at Branford, Connecticut this 26th day of August, 1946.

Attest: Hazel M. Van Wise, Asst. Registrar

August 27, 1946

Mr. Earnest S. Wheaton
5696 Washington Blvd.
Indianapolis 5, Indiana

Dear Sir:

The enclosed Certificate of Birth was prepared from the following entry in Town Records 1691 - 1788, Town of Branford:

> "Jonathon son of Jonathan Wheadon and Anna his wife > was born at Branford January y^e 26: 1755"

I have never heard of a Connecticut town called Bradford.

I checked at our local library concerning a history of the Wheaton, or Wheadon, family. Our librarian has been unable to locate any reference to such a history and is certain that there is none at the library.

There is here at the Town Clerk's office an alphabetically arranged index of all births, marriages and deaths between the years 1644 and 1850. This index has a great many entries under the name of Wheaton.

The fee for the preparation of the enclosed certificate is fifty cents.

Town Clerk

Dear Sir:

The County Clerk sent your letter over to me and I have made a careful search for you. I fail to find any birth records but many of our earliest records were destroyed by fire and you might possibly find something by writing Vital Statistic Dept., State House, Montpelier, Vt. All vital statistics are kept on file there.

I do find the following land records:

(In the membership lists there is in addition to Jonathon Wheaton, one other member with the first name of Jonathan, so this may not be a reference to Jonathon Wheaton).

Two sons, Russel and William, were born in Schoharie County, New York, which is adjacent to Montgomery County where we found the church membership of Jonathon and Penelope Wheaton. We have been unable to find any birth records in Schoharie County.

Their daughter, Almira, was born October 29, 1801, in Bridgewater, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, but birth records are not available in that county.

We have not yet located the 1800 Census record of the Jonathon Wheaton family. They were not in Schoharie County, New York, when that census was taken.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter in which you request the Revolutionary War records of Ebenezer Whedon and Jonathan Wheaton.

Revolutionary War data furnished by this office are obtained from claims made to the United States for pension and bounty land based upon military service of soldiers in that war.

A search of the records fails to show such claims on file on account of the Revolutionary War service of Ebenezer Whedon; the surname has been searched under similar spellings.

The data which follow were obtained from the papers on file in pension claim No. 40687, based upon the Revolutionary War service of Jonathon Wheaton, as his signature is found in the claim.

The date and place of birth of this soldier are not shown in the claim, nor are the names of his parents given.

Jonathon Wheaten enlised in Litchfield County, Connecticut, in 1775, served eight months as private in Captain John Sedgwick's Connecticut Company. He enlisted in February 1776, served one year in Captain Titus Watson's company, Colonel Burrall's Connecticut regiment. He enlisted in April, 1777, served in Captain Titus Watson's Company, Colonel Heman Swift's Connecticut regiment, after serving four months he reenlisted in Captain Albert Chapman's company in same regiment, was in the battles of Germantown and Monmouth, served one year and six months, when he hired a substitute for three months, but stayed away three months over his time and was reported a deserter; he sent to his regiment and got a permit to return to duty, which he did and served twelve months and was honorably discharged in August, 1780.

The solder, Jonathan Wheaten, was allowed pension on his application, executed April 14, 1818, then a resident of Pultenecy, Steuben County, New York.

He was residing on October 14, 1820 in Hardy Township, Coshocton County, Ohio and then aged sixty-five years, eight months and nineteen days. In 1820, his wife, Penelope, was sixty-four years of age.

There are no further data in this claim concerning the family of Jonathan Wheaten.

Very truly yours

JONATHON WHEATON born January 26, 1755 at Branford, Conn., married Penelope Lacy and thus united the two major branches of our early family. Jonathon was the first Wheaton to serve the country as a solder. He served in the Continental Line of Conn. from August 15, 1777 to August 4, 1780 in the 1st Co. of Col. Himmans Fourth Reg. This regiment was raised on the first call for troops during April - May of 1775. Upon surprise of Fort Ticondoroga, Gov. Trumbell ordered this regiment to march as soon as possible to secure that post and Crown Point, against recapture. The regiment reached Ticondoroga in June and later took part in the operation of the Northern Dept until expiration of the term in December 1775.

Jonathon Wheaton died April 23, 1828, at Millersburg, Holmes County, Ohio. It is said that his is the only grave of a Revolutionary soldier to be found in Ohio.

The information about David's birth was taken from Wheaton Family Bible records. We have been unable to find an actual birth record in Egremeont, Massachusetts.

If the marriage record in Coshocton County, Ohio, is for this particular David Wheaton, he would have been about 36 years old at time of marriage.

The next mention of David was in his father's will, dated September 23, 1828. David, at that time, lived at Orleans, Indiana.

A search was made of all available records in Orange County, Indiana, by a researcher in Paoli, Indiana. The only reference to David Wheaton found was a deed dated January 9, 1824, when he sold a lot of land in Orleans, Indiana. The deed has been copied. The lot was No. 101 or 191 in the town of Orleans.

Six volumes of Genealogical Records of Orange County, prepared by the Lost River Chapter DAR, were searched for reference to David Wheaton, without success.

MILLERSBURG HISTORY

The Old Town of Millersburg

"The old town of Millersburg" was laid out by Johnson and Miller in 1815, but was not acknowledged before a Justice of the Peace until March 26, 1819. The present generation knows little about the old town of Millersburg, except that it was located at what is now known as Walkup's addition in the north part of the present town. The Wooster and Coshocton road and the Berlin-Loudonville road intersected at the old town not far from where Walnut Street is now located. The Berlin road ran east over the hill.

Thomas Hoskins kept the first tavern, a hewed log cabin at the cross roads. South of this tavern was a hewed log building used as a store room by Charles Miller of Coshocton, who laid out the town. James Witherow had a cabin west of this store. Jonathan Korn and Isaac Fairchild were among the first settlers in the old town. Zibe Davis built his cabin east of the cross roads. Still farther east on this road was a cabin built by Jeff Bull, in which was a store conducted by Charles Kinney who came here from New Philadelphia.

Still further east on the Berlin road stood the hewed log school house. ANSON WHEATON and Joseph Edgar taught school here in 1822-23-23. WHEATON built a house on the road between the cross roads and school house. North of the school house was a large spring where John Foster, a gun smith, built a cabin and shop. He worked there for several years and also served as constable.

There was no regular burying ground here at that time, and when Thomas Hoskins and wife, an aged couple living north of the old town, died, they were buried on the first bench of the hill just east of the old town, south of the Berlin road, in the woods.

There was great excitement at the time the organization of the county was before the legislature, also when the commissioners came to locate the county seat. Miller and Johnson succeeded in locating it, however, right in the woods where Millersburg now stands.

There was no church building here at this time, but services were held at the school house or private dwellings. The Methodists held some meetings as the town was in the circuit of a Rev. Peter Stevens. There was also some preaching about Bell's Flats, near Holmesville, when a man by the name of Sechrist, a follower of Campbell, delivered an occasional sermon. There was Methodist preaching at Elliott's in Mechanic Township before either of the above mentioned places. Some Baptists, too, held meetings at or near the old town, just before the new town was laid out.

In Coshocton County, Ohio, there is a record of the marriage of Sarah Wheaton and John Hum on January 16, 1823. In Jonathon Wheaton's will, written in September 1828, he refers to his daughter as Sarah Hustead.

There is nothing in the marriage record to identify this Sarah Wheaton as the daughter of Jonathon and Penelope Wheaton. The Coshocton County marriage records include the marriage of her brother, William, sister Almira, and possibly that of her older brother David.

HISTORY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

1. RICHARD DUMMER was one of the principal men of the Massachusetts Colony. He was born at Bishop Stoke, England, and came to New England in 1632, resided first at Roxbury from whence he soon removed to Newberry where he died 14 December 1679, aged 88. He was elected an assistant in 1635 and 1636, and representative in 1640, and from 1645 to 1647.

CROWFOOT AND HILLIARD FAMILIES

by Homer W. Brainard, A.B., of Amherst, Mass.

The name is always Crowfoot or Crowfoote in the old records. Some say that it became Crawford in the later records, but this I doubt. The modern spelling is Crofut and Croffut. Here is given an example of a family which, beginning with very small resources, gradually came to occupy a respectable, but by no means a prominent or spectacular, position. Wealth was not to be theirs. An honest but very moderate living was their portion. No official positions were to come their way. Patriotic they were. Service in the colonial wars up to 1763 was among their offerings to their country, a service that they could not well avoid, living as they did in the upper Connecticut valley in Massachusetts, which was the theatre of nearly a century of warfare from 1673 to 1763, when England drove the French from Canada. There were intervals of peace, to be sure, but they were not long. The Crowfoots had their full share in the ruin and tragedy wrought by the savage allies of the French during the early part of the period of which mention has been made.

1. JOSEPH CROWFOOT, born between 1630 and 1635, probably in England, since there is no mention of his parents in NewEngland. He was probably of the servant class. The first we hear of him is his marriage at Windsor, Conn. April 15, 1658, to Mary Hilliard (Hillier, Hilliour, Hillyer), daughter of John Hilliard of Windsor, and Ann his wife, who married John Fitch of Windsor on Dec. 9, 1656 her husband having died in 1655.

Joseph and Mary soon settled in Springfield, Mass., which then extended much further south than now, on both sides of the Connecticut River. Joseph died in Springfield, April 8, 1678, but the date of Mary's death is unknown. We now proceed to give from the ancient records of Springfield, as printed in Burt's "First Century of Springfield" all the items relating to Joseph Crowfoot.

May, 19, 1676. Joseph Crowfoot was one of a force of one hundred and sixty men under Capt. William Turner in the Falls Fight, so called, from which comes the name Turners Falls, a place upon the Connecticut River, not far from the Vermont line, where Capt. Turner fell. This little force started out from Hatfield the day before. As I write I see the tower of Hatfield church through a gap in the hills, but the road they followed was lower down. The garrisons at Springfield and Westfield furnished twenty-two men and there were twenty-three volunteers from Springfield. Joseph Crowfoot was one of these.

Each man was furnished with provision for three meals. Nearly all were mounted, but there were a few footmen. They wended their way along the Pocumtuck path, with fearful glances through the swamp, now in South Deerfield, for the event still called Bloody Brook, where Capt. Lothrop's force had been wiped out eight months before.

Tall Wequamps (now called Sugarloaf) loomed to the northward of them. As they left the gloomy spot the stoutest must have quailed at the uncertainty beyond. Was their leader wise? Did he consider the danger? Was it prudent to neglect precautions against surprise? At any moment the warwhoop of savages arising from ambush might be heard. With sinking hearts they made their way to Pocumtuck (Old Deerfield), where were the cellars and charred timbers of the once flourishing village. To the north they went, barely escaping discovery at the passage of a stream. The glare of lightning and the growl of thunder added to their nervousness. At the break of day, tired and drenched by a shower, they reached their goal. Leaving his horses under a small guard, Turner led his men through Fall River, now Miller's river, up a steep ascent and came out on a slope in the rear of the Indian camp. The English had not been discovered. With break of day the crack of a hundred shots aroused the stupefied sleepers. Many were killed at the first shot. The survivors in panic jumped for their canoes. Many were swept over the falls and drowned. One English man, being mistaken for an Indian, was shot dead, and another was wounded. The resistance was slight. Wigwams, provisions and ammunition of the Indians were destroyed. Two forges, at which the Indians mended their arms, were demolished and two great pigs of lead, intended for bullets, were thrown into the river. The English delayed too long upon the scene and Capt. Turner being enfeebled by sickness, could not command his men any longer. The English retreated in considerable disorder. Of the heroism of this move there is not space to give details. Then came a report that Philip was at hand with a thousand Indians. The retreat became a rout, Breaking up into small parties many were lost. Capt. Turner fell, mortally wounded. Capt. Holyoke by his courage saved the day. The force, closely pursued by the Indians, reached Hatfield at last. Forty five men were missing and two mortally wounded. Six came in later. The total loss was thirty nine men. Joseph Crowfoot seems not to have been even wounded, but he must have been thoroughly exhausted when he at last reached safety. (Abridged from History of Deerfield, by George Sheldon, Vol. 1, who gives a list of the names of the men in Turner's force).

In 1734, Samuel Hunt petitioned the General Court for a grant of land to the survivors and their heirs. Only nine veterans of the Fight were living in 1735. The number of claimants in 1736 was about one hundred. A plot about six miles square was granted to them north of Deerfield. At first it was called Fall Town, but after 1762 Bernardston. The expedition was rash in the extreme, but it accomplished its purpose. About four hundred Indians of all sexes and ages were killed. The power of several tribes was utterly broken and warfare receded to the eastward again. In August, King Philip was captured or killed and the war ended. But it had been at terrible cost to the colonists in men and money. Two years later Joseph Crowfoot was in his grave, aged about forty years or a little more. We do not know that he was wounded, but the strain of that night march, the battle and the retreat must have been very great. It is possible that then he contracted disabilities which were the contributing cause of his death two years later. If that be true, he gave his life for his country just as truly as if he had fallen from an Indian's bullet. However, there is evidence that he was in active life after the Falls Fight.

pp 46 and 162. Tax rates. Goodman Crowfoot's rates last year 1,1,0 and 0,3,2. Total £2, 19sh. 11d. Probably 1676 and 1678.

In 1677 Joseph Crowfoot was appointed Keeper of the prison (county jail) in Springfield (Burt, vol. 1, p. 192)

Joseph Crowfoot left a will which is recorded in vol. 2, p. 12 of the Old Hampshire Probate records at Northampton, Mass. It follows:

The last will and Testmt of Joseph Crowfoot of Springfield,

> I, Joseph Crowfoot being by Gods providence under much bodily weaknes, but yet haveing my reason & understanding, being apprehensive that I ow a debt to nature, Do here declare (being willing to settle my estate, tho smal) this is my mind and wil, That just debts being paid, I make my wife Mary Crowfoot sole executor, onely I give to my son Joseph twenty shillings, al the rest I leave to my wife to bring up the children, but If she marry againe, then what remaneth, let it be equally devided amongst the children, onely Joseph to have a double portion, also my mind is my wife shall havea third during her life, as concerning my two sons Samuel and Daniel, I was to have ten pounds, for each of them five pounds apiece, when halfe their time is out, my mind is that this money may be for these children. (The original will and inventory are now now in the files of the Probate Registry at Northampton).

Witnesses to the will. Jonathan Burt Senior, Benjamin Parsons. The witnesses to this Last wil & testmt of Joseph Crowfoot deceased vizt Jonathon Burt & Benjamin Parsons appeared in the Cort Sept. 29, 1678 & made oath that this is the Wil & Testamt of Joseph Crowfoot of Springfield made, signed and declared to be his last wil, He then being of sound mind as attests Jno Holyoke Recorder. This entered from the original on file per Jno Holyoke Recorder.

An Inventory of the estate of Joseph Crowfoot deceased taken the 22d of May 1678 by us Samuel Marshfield, Jonathan Burt. (It totalled £57.14.00.)

As for Land there is a parcel, but the widow doth not know which is hers & yrfore we do not know how to prize it.

Mary Crowfoot the wife of Joseph Crowfoot of Springfield, deceased, presented this Inventory of the estate of her deceased Husband as a true & ful Inventory thereof & made oath to it in Corte Sept. 29, 1678 accordingly.

This entered from the original on file as attests Jno Holyoke Recorder per Jno Holyoke, recorder.

The widow Mary Crowfoot was living in 1680 as shown by this suit recorded in folio 204 of Vol. 1 of the Hampshire County Court at Northampton:

Isaac Morgan of Springfield Plt contra widdow Crowfoot of ye same Town deffendt for not performing coepartnership in partnership with ye sd Isaac Morgan about fenceing in a meadow of of Goodman Ashleys to his ye sd Morgans damage, viz five pounds with all other due damages & all according to attachment.

The widow Mary Crowfoot married second, int. March 8, 1739/40, Deacon Nathaniel Burt of Springfield. Some writers state that she was Mary (Hilliard) widow of the first Joseph Crowfoot of Windsor and Springfield, but this seems impossible, for if then living, Joseph's widow would have been near the century mark. Possibly she was widow of John^{2} Crowfoot (Joseph^{1}).

Whereas there hath been no settlement as yet of ye Estate ofJos. Crowfoot Senr ofSpringfield & John Crowfoot son of Joseph Crowfoot above named did present to this Corte his desire to have ye estate settled that he might have his portion, & so have land to improve his tyme about & there being seven sons and one daughter to have their portions of sd estate, which daughter hath already received her full portionout of ye moveables, the remainder of the moveables being wasted & spent as was alledged & the lands being valued at 50 L, this corte do determine for ye eldest son a double portion, viz. 12 L 10 sh & for John Crowfoot 6 L 5sh, for Samuel Crowfoot 6 L 5sh, for James Crowfoot 6 L 5 sh. for Danll Crowfoot 6 L 5 sh. for Mathew Crowfoot, 6 L 5sh. for David Crowfoot 6 L 5 sh. And thiscorte doth determine & order that the Land being little to have soe many small portions taken out of it, be devided equally to Joseph and John to receive their own portions out of it and to make payment to ye other brothers their portions, viz. 6 L 5sh. apiece according to ye Lands they receive. Corte of Sept. 30, 1684 held at Springfield. (Old Hampshire Probate records at Northamtpon, folios 239 and 240 verso of Vol. 1.)

JOSEPH CROWFOOT, born in Springfield, Mass., June 29, 1660; died in Wethersfield, Conn. about 1722; married Dec. 30, 1686, Margaret ----, who died at Wethersfield between March 14 and March 27, 1733.

John Pyncheon and Henry Chapin sold land to Joseph Crowfoot in 1679 or thereabout, and John Stedman in1685. He soon removed to Wethersfield, was certainly there Feb. 5,1686/7 whenhe made a conveyance of land as Joseph Crowfoot of Wethersfield to John Crowfoot of Springfield: "Whereas my father Joseph Crowfoot of Springfield, deceased, by his last will, willed to mehis eldest son, a double portion of his estate in Springfield aforesd, and whereas the County Court at Springfield Sept. 30, 1684 did consider and determine that this land was little for the seven sons of our father to have all of us our porions, did order that I Joseph Crowfoot and my brother Jon Crowfoot, the second son, shall have the land equally divided between us and to make payment to our other brothers, Joseph, conveys to John his brother land on both sides of the Chicopee River in Springfield Feb. 5, 1686-7; acknowledged Feb. 6, 1686-7 and recorded Jan. 9,1717-8 (Old Hampshire County Deeds at Springfield, Bk C, p 378). Joseph Crowfoot signed this conveyance with his mark, showing that he had never learned to write.

Joseph Crowfoot, Jr. was tithingman at Wethersfield in 1694; drewland in that year. He was granted 20 acres of land on the north side of the road leading from the north end of Josiah Gilbert's lot at Dividend to the Connecticut River, March 26, 1697. This was in the present town of Rocky Hill, near the Middletown line. His taxes were abated in 1717 (Stiles, Hist. of Ancient Wethersfield, vol. 1, p. 263). He sold land in Wethersfield to George Stillman (Manwaring Digest of Hartford County Probate Records, Vol. 2, p. 581.) Joseph Crowfoot, Jr., had been steadily going down in his fortunes. This sale was probably obligatory on the part of Crowfoot. George Stillman, who died in Wethersfield in December, 1728, was one of the richest residents in Wethersfield.

The will of Joseph Crowfoot's widow, Margaret, is found in Manwaring's Digest, Vol. 3, p. 34, and reads as follows:

> I Margaret Crowfoot, widow, of Wethersfield, do make this my last will and testament; I dgive unto my son Joseph the sum of 2 shillings current money. I give all my moveable estate whatsoever to my son Ephriam and daughters Elizabeth, Mehitable and Sarah and to Margaret and Mary, my granddaughters to be equally divided amongst them. I appoint Elizabeth and Mehitabel, mydaughters, to be executrixes. Witnesses Samuel Deming, Timothy Baxter, April 3,

The widow Margaret seems to have been in Branford, Conn., in February 1727-8. Joseph and Margaret left very small estates, personal property only. But he seems to have inherited his father's right in the land given to the soldiers in the Turners Falls fight.

History of Wallingford, Conn. by Charles HenryStanley Davis, M.D.
Pages 712 and 713

HENRY COOK, a brother of Samuel, came into Wallingford about 1674, and I suppose he married his wife Mary there, but at what date does not appear. Of his history little can be learned, except that he was a farmer, and was frequently elected to offices of trust and responsibility by his townsmen. That he was a brother of the first Samuel there is no doubt, as it is clearly shown by the records of Wallingford. He died in 1705, æ 51 years. His widow Mary died October 31, 1718.

Dear Chuck,

Received your letter and data yesterday on Amanda Jane Smith & Joseph Blair. I appreciate your sending me a copy of this data.

If I had known you were going to be in the Northwest Ohio area this past summer, would have extended an invitation for you to stop and visit our home.

Yes, I know what you mean about Blair Cemetery. I believe it has been vandalized over the years, especially since it is in such an isolated area. A murderer brought a body from another county and dumped it in the woods near there several years ago. I get there so seldom because I always want to have someone with me when I go.

I believe my mother told me that was Joseph Blair 's gravesite, but not sure if she knew positively or just assumed. The tombstone data matches the Civil War Pension data.
I never knew him to be referred to as Joseph Blair, Jr. Still haven't found the notes I took one time on him from a source at the Allen Co. IN. Library..am sure it listed his parents, etc. Still hope to uncover it. Guess at the time since he wasn't my direct ancestor, not to file it in my Smith or Wheaton data.(Have learned since that time that these sidebits of information can prove to be extremely important. No there is no Kings Co. in Ohio. I looked through my listing of counties which shows original counties of formation and cannot find any reference to it. Somehow Carroll Co. or Tuscarawas Co. seem to ring a bell as the two counties mentioned in that article I once read on Joseph . These are adjacent counties, by the way.

Isn't it ironic that the pension decision was reversed on the same day that Amanda chose to leave this world? It would have been a nice Christmas present for her, although I doubt that the pension was very much.

I also checked the mortality records of Paulding Co. and did not find Joseph Blair listed. The variation in ages on the census is exasperating, isn't it. Most likely he was born in the 1820s and was much older than my Amanda. When Amanda married my gt. grandfather Wheaton, he was a widower with children and then they had children. She always looks so sad in her pictures, as if life had not been too good to her.

Wanted to get your letter answered right away to let you know I do appreciate your correspondence. Have had health problems and may have to have surgery or additional treatments, so didn't want to let your letter get lost on my desk.......

My best wishes for Happy Holidays and a great New Year.

Sincerely,

Lucy Weaver

Subject: Hi Lucy

Hi Lucy,
I have been thinking about you and haven't had the time to sit down and write you. How are you and Jerry doing? Part of us out here are getting along pretty good. Grandma Muse is having a heck of a bout with her Parkinson's. Does Jerry hallucinate? Grandma sees people and they are starting to get distructive. They had her cut up her bedspread into little pieces. We are afraid that if they can't find out what is causing this that she is going to have to be put in a home. With Dad's health not good and I have Gus, someone needs to be with her now all the time. She has been staying with Mom, but Mom needs to go with Dad part of the time, so here we are walking in a great big circle. As far as Dad, he just can't do much of anything anymore, but he keeps on trying. Tony follows him everywhere he goes. I think that if he didn't have Tony, he would have given up a long time ago. He still goes to the farm and piddles around a bit, then he comes home a sleeps. Anyway, that is the just on the ailings of this part of the family.

Now for the good news, we have a grandbaby. Her name is Jozie Christine Schilke she was born on the 15th of May. She weighed almost 6# and was 21" long. She, of course, is one of the cutest babies I have seen. Actually, she is really a pretty baby.

Well, I just wanted to say hi. I have an Alumni lunch to go to.

Will talk to you soon
Love Kris

WOOD COUNTY: A LOT MORE THAN FARMS

It's a place where men wearing three-piece business suits mix well with others who wear bib overalls and green John Deere hats, and with students in jeans and T-shirts

By MIKE BARTELL

IT REPRESENTS an interesting mix. It is primarily rural with large, neat farms set along its miles and miles of perfectly straight roads. But it is decidedly urban at its northern tier where, due to its proximity to Toledo, industrial complexes, trucking terminals, and bedroom communities dot the landscape.

It is a place where men in three-piece business suits carrying attache cases mix well with others who wear bib overalls and green John Deere baseball hats.

Few among those who pass through on the 25-minute north-south trip down Interstate 75, which divides it east and west, realize that the fertile, loamy soil which annually produces bumper crops of corn, soybeans and wheat, is among the most productive farmland in the area.

And even fewer know that its entire flat, virtually featureless 621 square miles once was covered by heavily forested, forbidding marshland known as the Black Swamp. Or of its all too brief notoriety in the late 19th century as a major oil-producing region.

It is an area where oil derricks once reached toward the sky, but now, the 135-foot-high minarets of a gleaming white mosque, the Islamic Center of Greater Toledo, fashioned in traditional Islamic architecture, dominate the countryside. It is one of only two traditionally designed mosques in the United States.

It is a place where the merging of technologies can be seen. In the backyard of a home in a Perrysburg Township subdivision, a satellite dish which pulls television signals from the heavens sits next to a windmill once used to pump water from the earth.

It is a place as complex as its history, as simple as the pride of a community which placed signs at its corporation boundaries announcing proudly that it is the home of the 1980 state high school championship golf team — a pride every bit as heartfelt as another county community which boasts of Scott Hamilton, figure-skating world champion and Olympic gold medalist, as its native son.

It is a plaque, affixed to a wall at the entrance of its modern, five-story government office building, that represents a ship, one of the fastest tank-landing vessels ever built for the U.S. Navy. The ship bore the county's name during her 13 years of active service in the Atlantic and Mediterranean until she was decommissioned in 1972.

It is people who offer a friendly wave or a pleasant greeting even though they don't know you.

People like Jim Turley, of Perry Township, whose family came during the oil boom and who now farms 555 acres, is president of the fair board, restores antique tractors in his spare time, and acts as midwife at the birth of some lambs — part of his sons' 4-H project.

Or Jasmin Ashakih, who came to this country five years ago when her family fled the political uncertainties of her native Ethiopia, who is now a senior-year language major at Bowling Green State University, and who works the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift at a Bowling Green nursing home and wants to become a therapeutic masseuse and continue her work with the elderly.

And Jim Schirm, of Perrysburg, who lives in a new home in a nice housing development. Like a lot of the other suburbanites in his area, he crosses the Maumee River to Toledo each day to work in one of the downtown office buildings — in his case, as production planning manager of Owens-Corning Fiberglas' insulation operating division. He relaxes by playing bridge or raquetball, and closely monitors the progress of the education of his sons.

It is 107,373 people living in five cities, 21 villages, 19 townships, and 18 school systems, the university, and Owens Technical College, with a total tax value of slightly more than $1 billion.

It is Wood County, 164 years old, the sixth largest of Ohio's 88 counties, with a history as rich as its fields are fertile.

PEOPLE flocked to Wood County beginning in 1886 with the discovery of oil and natural gas in the southern part of the county.

The real boom would last only several decades, although there are still about 100 active wells in the county which produce up to 8 to 10 gallons daily.

Cygnet became the oil capital of the nation. Derricks dotted the countryside. Thousands of "go-getters" flocked to the fields. At the time, more gushers and oil were produced than in any other part of the nation.

It brought Mr. Turley's ancestors to the area.

He recalls that his mother came to the area from Pennsylvania with her parents at the time of the boom.

His father, whose family already was settled in the area, was an oil field worker.

The land in the area where Mr. Turley farms was oil territory.

He remembers his father telling him of the time a well was drilled next to the house. "When it shot, it put oil on the house for three days." The 100-year-old house has been in the Turley family for decades. It is the only home Mr. Turley has ever known.

He said the search for oil near his home continues even today. "About three years ago, they drilled two wells. They were both dry."

The house contains reminders throughout of the bygone era. A cast-iron stove, for example, takes up one corner of an addition recently built to provide office space.

Mr. Turley, 41, lives in the house with his wife, Barbara, 37, a reading teacher at St. Wendelin Elementary School in Fostoria. The couple have two sons, Matt, 11, and Chris, 8, both pupils at Bloomdale Elementary School and both of whom, Mr. Turley relates with pride, are interested in county, Ohio, where he was married, December 6, 1839, to Eliza Jane Moore. They became the parents of five children, viz.: Estella (Mrs. Hartman); Leuthera (Mrs. James Mann), of Plain township; Dalinda (Mrs. Frederick Hartman), who died in 1873; Alice J. (Mrs. Dr. Manville), of Bowling Green; and Frank, on the old homestead. Alva Sholes came to Wood county in 1848, settling on a farm in Plain township, where he died in January, 1892. Politically he was a Republican. Mrs. Hartman's great-grandfather, John Moore, came from Germany to the United States with Lafayette, under whom he served as a soldier in the Revolutionary war.

Four children have blessed the union of Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, namely: (1) Josephine is the wife of J. W. Underwood, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Bowling Green; they have two children—Estella and Esther. (2) Ernest is a graduate of the Cincinnati College of Pharmacy, and is a druggist at Weston, Ohio. (3) Eugene, born April 17, 1869, was educated at Fayette and Wauseon Normal Schools, and was a teacher in the public schools one term; he is now farming at home. (4) Winifred, born March 14, 1877, lives at home with her parents. Mr. Hartman is a Republican in political belief; has served as township trustee and as school director of his district, but he is no office seeker, preferring to devote his attention to his private interests.

John Layman, a pioneer agriculturist and lumberman of Webster township, was born November 1, 1839, in Berne, Switzerland. His parents, John and Martha (Jacobs) Layman, were both natives of that place, and were married there. In 1849 they came to Wood county, and purchased eighty acres of unimproved land in Webster township. Our subject's father was a man of great energy and practical ability, a Democrat in politics, and a consistent member of the Lutheran Church. He died in August, 1872, and his wife survived him until August 13, 1893. Their children were as follows: Barbara; Peter, a farmer in Webster township; Chris; William; John, our subject; and Anne.

Mr. Layman was ten years old when he came to America, and he remembers well the scenes and experiences of pioneer times, when Indians, wolves and mosquitoes kept the settlers in constant dread and discomfort. The first home of the family was a little log cabin, and they nearly starved at times. Their wheat had to be carried thirty miles to mill. When he reached the age of twenty-two, Mr. Layman enlisted in Company I, 111th O. V. I. (Capts. Yeager and Norris commanding). He took part in thirty-two hard-fought engagements, the principal ones being Stone River, Allatoona, Resaca, Lost Mountain, siege of Knoxville, Chattanooga, Cedar Rapids, Utoy Creek, Fort Anderson, Raleigh, and Atlanta. He was discharged at Salisbury, N. C., June 27, 1865. Returning home, he bought eighty acres of forest land near Luckey, and erected a sawmill, which he operated for twenty years. In 1873, he was married to Miss Mary Smith, also a native of Berne, Switzerland. They have four children: Frank, Fred, Mary and Edward. In politics, Mr. Layman is a Republican, and he belongs to Benedict Post, G. A. R., of Pemberville. He and his wife are prominent members of the Evangelical Church at Luckey.

James S. Salsberry, who is numbered among "the boys in blue" of the Civil war, and now follows farming in Milton township, was born in Liberty township, Wood county, November 28, 1838. Jonathan Salsberry, his father, a miller by trade, was born in Coshocton county, Ohio, in May, 1786. He learned his trade in Pennsylvania, and was there married to Catherine Plott, a native of the Keystone State. They afterward removed to Ohio, locating on a tract of wild land in Liberty township, Wood county, where they lived until 1864, when the father purchased eighty acres of land in Milton township, and continued its cultivation until his death in 1883. His wife passed away several years previous. Their children were: Sibylina, wife of W. H. Cotton, of Milton; Salinda Ann, wife of Jonathan L. Wheaton, of Nebraska; Salathiel Edwin, of San Antonio, Texas; Cinderella Phœbe, deceased wife of Langdon C. Hubbard; Stanilaus Rudolph, late farmer of Milton township (now deceased); James S., our subject; Sabina I., deceased wife of Edward Remington; Samaria, wife of Thomas Hill, of Milton township; Samaritan Mortimer, of Norwalk, Huron Co., Ohio; and Salva, who died in infancy.

On the old family homestead our subject was reared. While in Liberty township he acquired his education in the old-fashioned log school house, with its fireplace and other primitive furnishings. In July, 1862, he enlisted in the Union army, becoming a member of Company B, 111th O. V. I. Going to the front soon after, his command was engaged in chasing Buell in Kentucky, and on November 16, 1863, he was taken prisoner and sent to Atlanta, afterward to Savannah, and thence to Richmond, where he remained until released, January 1, 1864. He then joined his regiment at Big Shanty, Ga. He took part in the battle of Kenesaw Mountain, the Atlanta campaign, also the siege of the city, and was once wounded by a minie ball in the right knee. He was discharged at Salisbury, N. C., and while at Cleveland, Ohio, June 27, 1865, he was mustered out. At once returning home, he resumed farming.

On November 11, 1866, in Milton township, Mr. Salsberry was married to Susan D. Castle, who was born near Sandusky, Erie Co., Ohio, August 31, 1847, and is a daughter of Thomas Castle, a farmer, who was born in Greene county, N. Y., in 1818. When a young man Mr. Castle went to Wyoming county, Penn., where he wedded Elizabeth Philo, who was born in that county, March 26, 1821. A year later they came to Ohio, locating on a farm near Sandusky, and in 1855 they arrived in Wood county, making their home in Milton township, where Mr. Castle died July 26, 1892. His widow is still living in Custar. Their children were: Anna, deceased wife of Stanley O. Shaw; Malbon W., who entered the army, and died at Graysville, Ga.; Mrs. Salsberry; Isaac, deceased; Sarah J., deceased wife of Barnett Older; David H., who was drowned at the age of seventeen months; Caroline, deceased wife of David Bredbinner; John F., a farmer of Jackson township; Alice C., wife of James Russell, of Isabel county, Mich.; and Henrietta, who died in infancy.

Upon their marriage, Mr. Salsberry and his wife located in Milton township. A year later they removed to Ironton, Mo., but after six months went to St. Francis county, Mo., where Mr. Salsberry purchased 100 acres of land, on which he lived for a year and a half. He then returned to Wood county, and after a short time took up his residence in Custar, where he engaged in clerking for two years. He next rented land for a few years, after which, in 1883, he purchased fifty acres, twelve of which were cleared. In 1892 he erected his present commodious and comfortable home, and in 1891 he built a large and substantial barn, which was destroyed by fire, August 26, 1895. To him and his wife have been born three children: (1) Elmo Earle, born April 27, 1868, in Missouri; he was married, October 19, 1891, to Fannie E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Fellers, farming people of Henry township, and to them was born, October 18, 1892, a daughter, named Pearl; Elmo E. Salsberry is now teaching school in North Baltimore. (2) Elda B. (also a school teacher), born November 5, 1871, in Milton township; he was married, September 11, 1890, to Nora B., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Barber, farming people of Milton township, and to them have been born three children, their names and dates of birth being as follows: James W., February 25, 1892; Opal M., April 12, 1893; Malbon E., February 5, 1894. (3) Roland was born November 26, 1880, and is attending school in Custar. The parents are active members of the Disciples Church, and in politics Mr. Salsberry was a Democrat until the breaking out of the Civil war, when he became a stanch Republican.

A. J. HARMAN, a straightforward and industrious farmer, is a descendant of one of the old and respected families of Montgomery township, where he was born in Section 30, September 7, 1868, and is the youngest child of William and Mary (Kyser) Harman. He acquired his education in the district schools of the neighborhood—his first teacher being Erasmus Musser—and received a careful home training, remaining a member of the parental household until he had attained the age of eighteen years, when he entered the stave mill at Prairie Depot belonging to Smith, Hathaway & Co., where he was employed as fireman and at running the engine.

In that village, April 21, 1888, Mr. Harman married Miss Amanda Amos, the ceremony being performed by Steve Angus. The lady is also descended from a respected pioneer family of Wood county, who were early settlers of Portage township, where she was born October 18, 1868. However, she accompanied her parents, George and Sarah A. (Jackson) Amos, to Montgomery township when a small child, and was there reared. Three children grace the union of our subject and his wife: Mabel M., born October 31, 1889; Hazel L., born February 27, 1891; and Pearly J., born February 3, 1895, and these compose an interesting little group.

After his marriage, Mr. Harman rented four lots of his father in Prairie Depot, where he resided until the fall of 1889, when he located upon the home farm in Montgomery township, and there continued until his present comfortable home was erected in 1893, where they removed on October 5. He has twenty acres of rich and productive land, upon which he has placed many substantial improvements, and no happier or pleasanter home can be found anywhere. For nearly two years he was a pumper for the Hazelwood Oil Company, in which position he remained until January 31, 1896, when he took charge of the oil property for the Stitts, Pool & Harris Oil Co. He is a steady-going young man, destined to become a substantial farmer, and

THE HOSPICE MOVEMENT
BY SANDOL
STODDARD

Dignity” is rather an unfortunate phrase, for what if a person isn’t dignified by nature, or does not wish to give a dignified performance at such a time? Are we not dignified in the true sense, merely by being human: that is, elevated in some mysterious manner, not of our own doing, to the charmed condition of consciousness? Must we be pompous about it and continent, and keep our teeth in straight at all times as well? Contact with the living is, of itself, contact with life which is already in the process of dying; but contact with those who are about to make the final passage is a privilege not to be judged in ordinary terms. Against the dark, these lives blaze when given a little space, held tenderly; and the people fortunate enough to be truly present for the event are illumined by it.

It was a dying man, in fact, who in giving publicly the gift of self—though he had never until that moment been a public sort of person—may have done more than any stack of statistical arguments, or any of the perfectly healthy individuals involved, to tip the balance for New Haven’s hospice when in 1976 they sought permission to build their inpatient unit in nearby Branford, Connecticut. The life and the death of Eugene Cote, U.S. Navy (retired), a quiet man, self-sufficient and independent by nature, will be remembered gratefully, as a result, by many who never knew him. Finding my way tonight over the parkway and down into the little town which is in so many ways still an eighteenth-century village, with crooked streets meandering and proudly floodlit, steepled churches, I see that I am, ten minutes away from New Haven’s noise and bustle, suddenly in the heart of old New England, in a solid community very much aware of its past. Yet these are the people who led Connecticut into the fray, when the computer in Washington denied funds for a new and innovative model of health care in America; they bombarded the Commerce Department with angry protests and pleas for reconsideration of the project. The people of Branford know what the hospice can do, and they want to have it, not tucked away behind a hospital in downtown New Haven, but here in their midst, on a residential street and across from a public grammar school.

Eugene Cote’s widow, Barbara, and their two teenage sons,

HENRY JACKSON

FAIRFIELD, CONNECTICUT

I. HENRY JACKSON[a]

HENRY^1 JACKSON, born in England, about 1606, died at Fairfield, Conn., in 1686; married ——— ———.

He came from London, aged 29, on the Elizabeth and Ann, 1635, and settled first at Watertown, Mass., where he was a lessee of fishing rights. He removed to Fairfield, Conn., where he made an agreement with the town about the tide mill, 2 Feb. 1648 [1648/9], and sold the mill to Thomas Morehouse in 1653. He bought land in Fairfield, 16 June 1650, from Thomas Wheeler, Jr., and became a large land-owner.

His will, dated 11 Nov. 1682, proved 22 Sept. 1686, gave to his son Moses his house at "Poquanocke"; son Samuel already had land; to grandchild Moses Jackson, land at Compo; son John; grandchild Samuel Jackson; wife; the old negro woman; sons John, Moses and Samuel, and daughter Hannah; Major Nathan Gold and Mr. Josiah Harvey, overseers; portion due to Estate of my son Joseph per her (sic) father (his father-in-law) Goodwin's will; five children of son Joseph. The inventory was taken 21 June 1686.

There were lands, probably rights in the common or undivided lands, not disposed of in the will, and many years later, on 13 Jan. 1718/19, administration was granted to Henry's grandsons John and Robert Jackson, and distribution was ordered to the legal representatives of the sons John (the eldest), Moses, Samuel and Joseph. The distribution, dated at Stratfield 3 Jan. 1720, named the heirs of Samuel Jackson as Daniel, Jonathan, Ebenezer, and Gabriel Jackson, Hannah Jennings, Deborah Fairchild, Rachel Lyon, and Abigail.

sor, Conn., and a soldier in the Revolution-var, removed to New York State in 1800, mpey, where he died in 1816, at the age of two.

avid F. Dodge, our subject's father, was at Windsor, Conn., September 8, 1787, when thirteen years old accompanied arents to their new home, where he spent emainder of his life, dying at eighty-two of age. He was a Whig until that party orn in 1797, and died in 1878. Our subject's ts were both Presbyterians in early life, but 38 they were converted to the Catholic faith, ich their surviving children adhered. They had three daughters and one son, our subject. Diane, deceased, was the wife of Francis Manahan, a hardware merchant of Utica, N. Y.; Mary, deceased, was the wife of Daniel G. Wheaton, a farmer of Pompey, N. Y.; and Cynthia became a sister of charity. She died in 1893 at Mount St. Vincent's Academy on the Hudson, in New York City, after more than forty years of devoted service. She was known as Sister Maria, and was one of the chief officers of the institution, performing the combined duties of secretary and treasurer for many years. For a few years before her death she held the arduous office of Prefect of studies in the school.

The Judge was educated in the old Pompey Academy, at Pompey Hill, until at the age of sixteen he was sent to St. John's College, New York City, where he was graduated in 1849. He spent the next two years working on his father's farm, and then began the study of law with Victory Birdseye, of Pompey. In the fall of 1852 he came to Perrysburg, Wood county, and finished his preparation for the bar in the office of Spink & Murray. After his admission in 1855, he went into partnership with James Murray, Mr. Spink having died, and continued in practice with him until Mr. Murray was elected Attorney-General of Ohio, in 1859. Our subject then formed a partnership with the late James R. Tyler, which lasted until 1869. Afterward he had as a partner, for a short time, Edson Goit, of Bowling Green, now deceased, and later was associated in the practice of law with Jasher Pillars. In 1877 he was elected Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. He was on the Bench for ten years, making an enviable record for judicial ability, and on his retirement in 1888 he resumed his law practice, taking as a partner John W. Canary.

In 1857 Judge Dodge married Sarah Wilkison, who was born December 20, 1837. Of their two children, the eldest, Mary, born in 1860, married Ernest G. Miller, and went to Creede, Col., where she died December 12, 1893, leaving two children, Hobart and Mary D., who now live with our subject. Frederick D., our subject's son, is the General Agent for Bloch Bros'. Tobacco Co., of Wheeling, W. Va. Judge Dodge is an influential member of the Democratic party, and has been a leader in many progressive movements in the community.

CAPTAIN DAVID WILKISON (deceased), of Perrysburg, was born at or near Buffalo, in February, 1800, and at an early age went on the Lake as a sailor. In 1815 he sailed up the Maumee river on the schooner "Blacksnake," commanded by

Town Talk

Business Has Gotten So Bad In Ai There Just Isn't One Left In Town

By DON WOLFE

Ai, a small settlement in Fulton County, is completely out of business places. It is impossible to buy bread, milk, or even a beer. This is a startling contrast to the days when there were two grocery stores, one with gasoline pumps; a mill for processing grain, and, in the long ago, several saloons.

Don Wolfe

The lack of business places is due to the fact that Ai is smaller than its unique name and hardly as big as its dot on the Ohio map. A strange thing about Ai is that most people do not know how to pronounce it. Sort of a phonetic phenomenon, Ai — big A, small i — is pronounced exactly as it is spelled, and spelled exactly as it is pronounced. Aye-eye, in other words. Also, some residents do not know where the unusual name came from.

There is a local gag that with the lack of commercial establishments, there are only two places that a person can go in Ai — the church and cemetery.

Arlene Stoup, office secretary in Fulton Township School, said that strangers, when the community's name is mentioned on the telephone, will ask: "What's that, again?" or "Could you please spell the name — slowly?"

As for mail, Mrs. Stoup said that although Ai has only two letters she has seen the name spelled several ways. Actually, the school and residents get their mail on rural delivery out of nearby Swanton.

Ai's last business place was a grocery store, a handy spot especially for the elderly unable to drive and shop in Swanton. The store owners, in need of more cash to keep the small business going, tried to get a beer and wine license for carryout privileges. Protests erupted, so the store operators gave up.

It is said that some who protested now regret it because of the loss of the store. There is a growing mobile home court, now with 140 units, operated by William and Lona Parker.

Two longtime residents are leaving. Pearl Smith, known to all as Aunt Pearl, sold her home two weeks ago. Her husband, Willie, died recently. L.D. Griesinger, who is called Jake by friends and neighbors and who once operated a grocery, is going to a nursing home.

Those long prominent in the community who still are active are Howard and Verna Shaver, Charles and Eleanor Elliott, Arby and Ruth Burkey, Zelva and Grace McQuillen, and the parents of Mrs. Stoup, Arvine and Gertrude Cook.

There is plenty of activity at the elementary school, with a regular enrollment of 260 students from kindergarten through fifth grade. Another pupils, children of migrant farm rkers, will be there until the harvest finishe Paul Cothrel, principal, re- lis the great sorrow when the high ool was closed in 1951, especially ter both men and women volunteered work long and hard to paint and epair everything in sight to impress e state education department.

The school closing was regarded as the biggest crisis in Ai since the turn of the century when the former New York Central System decided to go through Swanton instead of Ai, thus making that rival a "big town."

The name Ai (in Hebrew it means ruin) comes from biblical times. Ai, near Bethel, was said to be the target of Joshua's first lightning attack after the fall of Jericho. The Bible gives a clear account of Jericho's fate at Joshua's hands:

It is the story of how his army marched around the walls in total silence. Then, on the seventh day, Joshua suddenly gave the order for the trumpets to be sounded. Ar Jericho collapsed.

"Archaeology of t Mangus Magnosson Schuster), says that the been exhaustively excav major fortified city sto start of the Early Br BC). After a series of rebuildings, the city wa out by an unknown a 2400 BC.

Archaeologists are Joshua-at-Jericho story, that there should be vis confirm or disprove tha collapsed, whether by h pernatural agency.

In today's Ai, on Ang 22 miles west of Tole timers insist that the n "wicked city" in the I planation is that the Fu tlement had 11 saloons thieves, murderers, and ple into town.

Dear Lucy,

I received your name from William Henderson of Gridley, CA, whom you wrote to back in Nov. 1986 on the Wheeler family.

I recently picked up a Wheeler line, and from what William sent me, we seem to be from the same family.

I am enclosig my charts on the Wheelers and Gregories.

You also mentioned that you were interested in the Canfield family. We are trying to place Joseph Canfield who married in 1833 to Esther Starr. He states in 1850 that he was b. in NJ, his daughter in 1880 says her father was b. in NY, and he was md. in CT. Since we haven't been able to findhis ancestors, I have been looking in all three states. Since Joseph was about 13 years older than Esther, possibly he has a marriage before her. We were recently in the Elmira, NY library and I copied the 1800-1840 NY and CT Canfield census pages. There were a lot of Joseph's listed, but none using the initial of W. as he did in the marriage record. Anyhelp you might be able to give on this line would be greatly appreciated.

In your letter you stated that Ephraim might have come from England with Rev. John Jones. As it turns out he is also one of our new ancestors. I found a listing of ship Defence when Rev. John came over in July 1635, there were 50 passengers listed, no Wheelers among them.

I am enclosing one of my surname lists for you, just incase we have other names in common.

Sincerely,

Paula

Mrs. Ronald Radwanski

My big excitement in the family for the year was the birth of my new great-grandson on August 1st to Chris and Noelle and the wedding of Mike and Jenny on September 6th. Flora also changed jobs from the hospital after 18 years to become supervisor at a doctor's office.

The local excitement was the high school football team winning #1 in state with Phil as #22 on the team.

Ebenezer Lacey Jr., in his will of Dec.5,1807, bequeathed his daughter, Penelope, twenty shillings.

175. ANNA LACEY, (dau. of Ebenezer Lacey Jr., No.60, and Freelove (Canfield) Lacey); b.New Milford, Conn. June 23,1758;d.Watertown, gansett Bay and New Haven, Conn. On June 12,1779 he was serving there as a member of the Continental Guards under his father-in-law, Azariah Canfield (Conn. State Library, War,7,31).

One of his daughters married in the New Preston Church, and it is possible that he became a resident of that parish which was partly in New Milford and partly in Washington. Among the early settlers of New Preston were people who adhered to the Episcopal Church. Such was St. Andrew's Church. "At a meeting warned and held June 26,1784,the inhabitants of New Preston and East-wich (Warren) of the denomination of the Church of England so called parishes, having formed themselves into a lawful society according to the late act of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut: We, the subscribers whose names are underwritten,being desirous for the promoting religion and good order, do acknowledge ourselves to be and belong to the above said body,and do, by these presents form and incorporate into said Society, as witness our hands". (signatures were from the towns of New Milford, Twps. of Kent, Washington and Warren. Included in names from the Twp. of Washington were Ebenezer Lacey and Isaac Lacey, his son).

New York Land Grants show that between 1760 and 1763 he was interested in the purchase of lands there, his grant apparently being in Kingsbury (Washington Co. NY); but it was not until 1794,after his son Isaac had removed with his family from Tinmouth Vt. to Braintrim, Luzerne Co.Pa.(later, Laceyville, Wyoming Co.), that he removed to Pennsylvania to be with his son.

The American ancestry of Freelove Canfield, wife of Ebenezer Lacey Jr. follows:

Thomas Canfield, bapt. England, June 23,1623; d. Milford, Conn. 1687/8; m. Phoebe Crane, b. 1630, d.1690.
Jeremiah Canfield, son, bapt. Milford, Conn. Sept.28,1662; d.New Milford Mar.18,1739/40; m. 1687 Alice Hine, b.Dec.16,1667, d. Jan.4,1739/40, dau. of Thomas Hine, b. New Milford,1648 d. 1698, and Elizabeth (Lane?).
Azariah H. Canfield, son, bapt. Mar.24,1694; d.1769; m. Feb.27, 1719/1720, Mercey Bassett, bapt. Milford, Oct.24,1703; dau. of Thomas Bassett, b. 1660, d. by 1637, and Sarah Baldwin, b. Mar.29,1668. Mercey's grandfather was Thomas Bassett, b. 1598, who came to America on the "Christian" in 1635.
Freelove Canfield, dau. b. New Milford, Dec.29,1726; d. Laceyville,Pa.,Mar.5,1801; m. Ebenezer Lacey Jr., No.60.

The flyleaf of Ebenezer Lacey Jr's bible, in possession of Charles L. Sanford, gives the names of all of the children. All but Amatys are listed in New Milford Town Records with dates as given.

of Stratfield to be her guardian.

After Edward's marriage to his third wife, Rebecca Grey, and before 1756, he and she probably removed to New Fairfield with his son, Ebenezer; for "wife of Edward" was a member of the church there; but in 1760 he was "late of Fairfield, now of Danbury". The towns, (townships) of New Fairfield and Danbury adjoined each other, and they lived close to the town line between them.

Edward Lacy Jr. and his children and grandchildren were members of the Congregational Church in New Fairfield. The New Fairfield Congregational Church and Parish Records show the following:

" 1758 Communicants: Edward Lacy and wife"
" Dec.1,1756 Seth Lacy - Collector of Ministerial Rates" (he was the son of Ebenezer).
" Dec.1,1756 Ebenezer Lacy - Society's Committee"(s.of Edward Jr)
" Apr.21,1757 Ebenezer, Moderator"
" 1760 Ebenezer Lacy to represent Society as one of the arbitrators between Elnathan Hall and this Society."
"1759 Communicants: Hannah, wife of Seth Lacy."(Ebenezer's son)
"Born: Jan.22,1760, Seth Lacey's son."
"Born: Apr.20,1764, Isaac Lacey's daughter."(he was s.of Ebenezer)
"Born: Aug.7,1764, Seth Lacey's daughter."
"Bapt:Jan.27,1760, Chauncey Wheeler, son of Seth Lacy."
"Bapt: June 20,1762, Caroline, daughter of Seth Lacey."
"Bapt: May 13,1764, Lucena, daughter of Isaac Lacey."
"Bapt: Aug.27,1769, Isban, son of Seth Lacey."
"Bapt: Nov.5,1771, Ruth, daughter of Seth Lacey."
"Bapt: Jan.10,1773, Loame, child adopted by Seth Lacey."
"Died: Mar.14,1759, Lois, daughter of Seth Lacey,about 15 months old."
"Died: 1764, Isaac Lacey's daughter." (probably Lucena)
"Marriages: Sept.16,1759, Isaac Lacey and Lucy Brush." (there is some confusion regarding her maiden name. F.O.F. Vol.II,p.569, says,"Isaac, bapt.Mar.9,1735; m. at New Fairfield,1759, Lucy Bishop." But Danbury Probate Records, Vol.8,p 188 shows the probate of the will of Thomas Brush, dated Jan.15,1796, which mentions "Daughter Lucy, late wife of Isaac Lessey."
"1766 Isaac Lacy, appointed School Committee."
"1767 Isaac Lacy on Committee to divide Society into Districts for Schooling."

From the foregoing, it appears that the first Lacys to settle in New Fairfield came there about 1750 and were Congregationalists and communicants of the New Fairfield Church, and quite active in its affairs. The Gregorys who came to that vicinity were located mainly in the town of Danbury, and were mostly Baptists and members of the Danbury church.

These church records show that Seth and Isaac,sons of Ebenezer and grandsons of Edward Lacy Jr,began to adopt Lacey as their surname. Whether this was done by their intention, or if it was an error in spelling on the part of those who kept the church records, we have no means of knowing. However, most of the descendants of these two sons have followed the use of Lacey as their surnames. Most of the descendants of John Lacy, son of Edward Lacy Sr. have used the name of Lacy

He and his wife, Sarah, and their three sons and three daughters were living in Fairfield in 1694, for Sarah was admitted to full communion on Jan.13,1694/5 in the First Congregational Church of Christ in Fairfield, and all the children there baptized on Jan.20,1694/5. Oct.25,1682, and d. bef. 1748; m.(3) Greenfield, Fairfield Co., May 19,1748, Rebecca Grey, wid. of Isaac Grey. Rebecca's identity is not certain, but her branch of the Grey family lived in Greenfield, where she married, and she had a brother who settled in Danbury.

In 1701, Edward Jr. purchased land in Fairfield from Ephraim Wheeler. In 1704 he lived in Fairfield. He had but three children, all by his first marriage to Abigail Gregory. These births are recorded at Fairfield, but they were bapt. at Stratfield. Mar.7,32, Abiah Parruck, the dau. of his 2nd wife by 1st m.chose Edward Lacy

The ancestral background of Abigail Gregory, first wife of Edward Lacy Sr ., and mother of his three children listed below, is as follows: She was the daughter of Samuel Gregory, who was born about 1646, brobably in Stratford, Connecticut, died about 1702, and his wife, Rebecca (Wheeler) Gregory, who died Oct.26,1703.

Samuel Gregory lived and died in Stratfield, (the early name for Bridgeport), and he was the son of Judah Gregory (b. Eng. about 1618; d. bef.Sept.4,1649), and Sarah Burt (bapt., Jan.14,1620/21 in Harberton, County Devon, Eng.), she being the daughter of Henry Burt and Ulalia or Eulalia Marche, who married Dec.28,1619 in Dean Prior, Devon, she being the daughter of Richard and Joan Marche of Sherford, Devon.

Judah and Sarah (Burt) Gregory were married at Springfield, Mass. on June 20,1643. He was the son of Henry Gregory first American settler, who came to Boston, Mass. from Nottingham, England, in about 1636, removed to Springfield, Mass. by Jan.16,1638; to Stratford, Conn. bef. Dec.7,1647, where he died in 1655. His wife, Goody Gregory died bet. Feb.15,1640/41, and Jan.5,1641/2.

Note - The birth of only Ebenezer is recorded at Fairfield. No baptismal records in other churches relate to the children of Edward. Perhaps the three children were all he had. (Ackley-Bosworth Gen.).

4. JOHN LACY, (s.of Edward Lacy Sr., No.2, and Sarah (____) Lacy); b. ca. 1678, and, according to tradition, at or near Salem Mass. He came with his parents to Fairfield, Fairfield Co. Conn. in 1693. He was baptized with his two brothers and three sisters on Jan.20,1694/5 in the Congregational Church of Fairfield, this being the first extant record of the family in America. He died at Stratfield, Conn, in 1761, leaving a will dated May 31,1754, proved on Mar.3,1761, which mentioned his daughters Eunice Odell and Sarah Hodgedon, and his grand-daughter, Abigail Lacy, and his four sons, John, Edward, David and Ephraim Lacy.

He married Ruth (Wakelee) Treadwell, widow of Ephraim Treadwell, she being the daughter of Jacob and Hannah (Peet) Wakelee, and grand-daughter of Henry and Sarah Wakelee, who were among the first settlers of Stratfield.

This lack of knowledge concerning the beginnings of the family in this country is not without good reason. During the American Revolution the British in New York City conducted reprisal raids along the Connecticut coast, and in 1779 they burned Fairfield and other Connecticut towns. Most of the records of Fairfield before that date were destroyed.

The initial record of this family, which has been preserved to this day, is the record of the Congregational Church of Christ of Fairfield, Connecticut, of the admission into full communion on Jan.13,1694 of Sarah, wife of Edward Lacy Sr., John's son, and the baptism on Jan.20,1694 of Edward Sr's six children, Edward Jr, John, Sarah, Henry, Mary and Elizabeth.

The tradition which has been accepted, in general, by most genealogists , and which appeared in print as early as the latter part of the 19th century in an issue of "American Ancestry", (Vol.8 p. 115, 1893) reads in part as follows:

> " The family landed at Salem or on the coast of New Hampshire, and came into the vicinity of Boston about 1690; and while sojourning there, the aged parent, John Lacy, died suddenly at the age of 104 years; and it is probable that he may have been the progenitor of the Fairfield family, among whom the name John is of frequent occurence."

Again, De Lacy-Bellingari in his "Roll of the House of Lacy", (Appendix pp.363,364) states:

> " John Lacy of England, first settler in America, died near Boston, and was then aged 104 years; his son, Edward Sr. was born in 1655/6, and married Sarah."

The names that Edward Sr., son of John and Mary gave their six children, strongly corroborate the tradition that John and Mary Lacy were the parents of Edward Lacy Sr., and the grandparents of their children. For the names which were given the children followed in logical order: Edward Jr. for his father; John for his grandfather; Sarah for her mother and Mary for her grandmother - all in the order of birth and sex, parents first, grandparents following.

This coincidence could have occurred only by the most infinitesimal chance, had it not been their intention to honor their first two boys and first two girls with the names of their parents and grandparents.

THE LACY FAMILY
FROM FAIRFIELD CONNECTICUT

By: Philip S. Lacy
1973

1, JOHN LACY, first American settler, was born in England, probably in Nottingham. He came with his wife, Mary, to America, landing at Salem or on the coast of New Hampshire, in which vicinities they lived at unascertained places and periods. He died in 1690 at the age of 104 years. Due to lack of record proofs, the foregoing statement must rest on family tradition and such corroborating circumstantial evidence as is available ...

Fairfield Congregational Church. The date of her death is unknown and there is no further data concerning her.

9. EBENEZER LACY SR. (s. of Edward Lacy Jr. No.3 and Abigail (Gregory) Lacy); b. Mar.12,1703/4, recorded at Fairfield; bapt.at Stratfield, Conn., Mar.19,1703/4; m. by 1726 Jedidah Jackson,bapt. Apr.22,1705, d.after Jan.30,1775. She was the dau of Henry Jackson b. ca.1679, d. Stratfield Sept.15,1717,ae. 38 yrs. (g.s.). Her mother's name was Mary Wheeler, b. ca. 1683, d. Stratfield, Sept.18,1743.

Henry Jackson was the s. of Samuel Jackson, s. of Henry Jackson who came from London in 1635 when 29 years of age, and settled at Watertown, Mass.,later removed to Fairfield in 1648, where he had a mill which he sold in 1653 to Thomas Morehouse, and d.,1717/19. (for data regarding the Jackson family see F.O.F. Vol.I,p.319-27 , Vol.II,pp.522-529).

Mary Wheeler was the dau. of Isaac Wheeler, b. Concord, Mass., Dec.13,1642; d. Stratfield Apr.1712 (g.s.). He was deacon of the Stratfield Church, Deputy (Fairfield) in May and Sept.1693 Sessions, Ensign of the Stratfield Train Band, May 1697. He was the s. of Ephraim Wheeler, brother of Thomas Sr.,who d.1670, and Ann Wheeler who d.bef.1708. It was his dau. Rebecca Wheeler, aunt of the Mary Wheeler above, who m. Samuel Gregory. (Gregory Gen.p.62. For data regarding the Wheeler family see F.O.F. Vol.I pp. 662-684, Vol.II,pp.1012-1027).

Ebenezer Lacy Sr. and Jedidah, his wife of Stratfield Conn, sold, Dec.30,1726 to Daniel Comstock a right to land from their father, Henry Jackson; and Ebenezer and Jedidah of Fairfield on Nov.14, 1743 conveyed to their brother David Jackson Jr, a right in the dwelling house of their father, Mr Henry Jackson of Fairfield, deceased. (Fairfield Deeds 4:125; 8:83). They gave other deeds, but the above are enough to prove that Jedidah Jackson was Ebenezer's wife and that she must have been the mother of all the children of Ebenezer, b.bet. 1726 and 1743. (Ackley-Bosworth Gen).

In 1750 Ebenezer Lacy, then of Stratfield, conveyed land to Ebenezer Hall of Stratfield, but in Apr.1751, Fairfield deeds show he was of New Fairfield. "He was a householder in Stratford in 1730, but is supposed to have removed to Danbury."(F.O.F. Vol.II,p.569). The town of New Fairfield lay immediately north of Danbury. Beyond doubt, they removed from Stratfield to New Fairfield in 1750/51.

The New Fairfield Congregational Church and Parish Records show that on Dec.1,1756 Ebenezer Lacy was a member of the Society's Committee; on Apr.21,1757 he was Moderator; in 1760 he was appointed to represent the Society as one of the arbitrators between Elnathan Hall and the Society. His s. Seth also lived in New Fairfield and on Dec.1,1756 Seth was Collector of Ministerial Rates,and in 1759, Seth's wife Hannah was listed as communicant. These records show that Isaac Lacy,another s. of Ebenezer Sr.lived there,that his ch. were b. in New Fairfield and bapt.

60. EBENEZER LACEY JR. (s. of Ebenezer Lacey Sr., No.9, and Jedidah (Jackson) Lacy); b. Stratfield, Conn. Apr.19,1727;d.Laceyville, Pa. Dec.21,1807 (g.s.); m. New Milford, Litchfield Co.Conn. Dec.15,1748 to Freelove Canfield, b. New Milford Dec.29,1726, d. Laceyville Mar.5,1801 (g.s.); dau. of Azariah and Mercey (Bassett) Canfield of Milford, Conn. who were m. Feb.27,1719.Mercey Bassett was bapt.at Milford Oct.24,1703, and her parents were Thomas and Sarah (Baldwin) Bassett of Milford.

In 1750/51, Ebenezer's father, Ebenezer Sr. No.9 removed with part of his family to New Fairfield, but it is improbable that Ebenezer Jr. accompanied them; for he had married in New Milford two years before that time, and had purchased land there on Mar.14,1750. This document of land purchase, owned by Charles L. Sanford, No. 3569. a descendant, of 723 Congress St. Neenah, Wis. mentions "Ebenezer Lacey of said New Milford", and locates this property with reference to "said Lacey's dwelling house".

Quoting from Ackley-Bosworth Gen. "He established himself as a blacksmith near his father-in-law's home in Lower Merryall,on the west branch of the West Aspetuck, and afterwards apparently removed to New Milford village". New Milford was adjacent to Roxbury until 1856, when the part of New Milford nearest to Roxbury was established as the town of Bridgewater.

Ebenezer Lacey Jr. served from seven to fourteen days in Aug.1757 in the French and Indian War, in the Company of Capt.John Hitchcock of New Milford, in Col. Ebenezer Marsh's Regt. at the time of the Alarm for the relief of Ft. William Henry and places adjacent,-65 of those named in the muster rode horses from New Milford, 18 from New Fairfield. (Conn. Hist. Soc. Coll. 9:226).

He served in the Revolution as a sergeant in Capt.David Leavenworth's Company of Col. Increase Moseley's Regiment of Colonial Militia, guarding the coastal area between Horseneck near Narrain that church. It is clear that Ebenezer Lacy Sr. with his family with the exception of his son Ebenezer Lacy Jr., who married and resided in New Milford, Conn, removed to New Fairfield, and that his father, Edward Lacy Jr. No.3, and his third wife, Rebecca (Grey) Lacy also removed there, for in 1758 Edward Lacy and wife were recorded as communicants in that church.

It was about this time that Ebenezer Lacy Sr. No.9 and his descendants began to adopt the surname of LACEY. In the New Fairfield Church Records it is sometimes spelled LACY and sometimes LACEY. Most of his descendants have since continued the use of the name spelled LACEY.

10. ABIGAIL LACY, (dau. of Edward Lacy Jr, No.3, and Abigail (Gregory) Lacy); bapt. Stratfield, Fairfield Co. Conn. June 3,1705; d. after Mar.26,1773; m. New Fairfield by 1728 to Samuel Wheeler Jr., bapt. Stratfield, Apr.20,1701; d. 1773, his will being dated Mar.26,1773, mentioning his wife, Abigail, eldest dau. Jedidah, youngest son, Samuel, son Enoch and dau. Anne, wife of James Pardee.

Samuel Wheeler Jr. who m.Abigail Lacy above, and Jedidah Jackson who m. her brother, Ebenezer Lacy Sr. No.9,were first cousins, both being grandchildren of Isaac Wheeler. Samuel Wheeler Jr. was the son of Samuel Wheeler Sr., Sergt. of the Stratfield Train Band b. ca.1674/5, d. 1707/8, and Hannah (Wheeler) Wheeler, b. ca. 1676. She was the dau. of Sergt. John Wheeler, and after the death of her first husband, Samuel Wheeler Sr. she m.(2) Dr. John Wheeler on Aug.24,1708. Samuel Wheeler Sr. was head of what is known as the New Fairfield branch of the Wheeler family. On June 5,1712, Samuel Wheeler Jr., then a minor, chose his stepfather, Dr. John Wheeler as his guardian. (F.O.F. Vol.I, pp.673, 674; Vol.II,p.1012).

(Our daughter-in-law found this)

THE FOLLOWING IS TAKEN FROM THE COMMEMORATIVE RECORD AND BIOGRAPHIES AND PORTRAITS OF THE COUNTIES OF WAYNE AND HOLMES, OHIO. PUBLISHED BY J.H. BEERS & CO., 1889. OWNED BY GENEIVE B. MARK, KILLBUCK, OHIO.

CHARLES MILLER WHEATON (DECEASED) WAS BORN IN HARDY TWP., HOLMES CO., OHIO, IN 1824, A SON OF ANSON AND REBECCA E. (COOK) WHEATON, WHO WERE AMONG THE FIRST SETTLERS OF HOLMES COUNTY. HE WAS REARED ON HIS FATHER'S FARM AND IN HIS YOUTH LEARNED THE CARPENTER'S TRADE WHICH HE FOLLOWED THE REST OF HIS LIFE. HE WAS MARRIED IN 1848 TO ROSANNA, DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM AND MARY UHL, AND THEIR FAMILY NUMBERED FOUR CHILDREN: MARY ELLEN, AVERY, WILLIAM A. AND ALICE. OF THESE, MARY ELLEN IS DECEASED; AVERY LIVES IN KNOX COUNTY, OHIO, WHERE HE OWNS A FARM; ALICE ALSO RESIDES IN KNOX COUNTY, WHERE SHE OWNS A FARM; WILLIAM A. LIVES WITH HIS MOTHER ON THE FARM IN HARDY TOWNSHIP, HOLMES COUNTY. THE FATHER OF THESE CHILDREN DIED IN MARCH, 1859. HE WAS ONE OF THE ENERGETIC YOUNG MEN OF THE TOWNSHIP, AND TAKEN FROM HIS FAMILY IN THE PRIME OF EARLY MANHOOD. MRS. WHEATON IS A MEMBER OF THE DISCIPLES CHURCH, AN EARNEST CHRISTIAN WOMAN, WHO HAS LIVED FOR HER CHILDREN, AND HAS BEEN REWARDED BY SEEING HER SONS GROWN TO BE YOUNG MEN OF INTEGRITY, AND NUMBERED AMONG THE LEADING CITIZENS.

SARAH, DAUGHTER OF ANSON WHEATON, MARRIED LEWIS MAYERS, IN 1838. NO MAN IN HIS DAY WAS MORE PROMINENTLY IDENTIFIED WITH THE BUSINESS INTERESTS OF HOLMES COUNTY DURING ITS EARLY DAYS OF PROSPERITY, OR WAS MORE OF A PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT, THAN LEWIS MAYERS. HE WAS BORN ON THE RIVER RHINE, IN THE KINGDOM OF BAVARIA, GERMANY, IN OCTOBER 1811. HIS EARLY LIFE WAS SPENT IN HIS NATIVE COUNTRY AND HIS PARENTS BEING POOR, HIS ADVANTAGES WERE INDEED LIMITED. BUT HE HAD HEARD OF THE"LAND OF THE FREE" WHERE THE POOREST MIGHT LIVE IN ABUNDANCE, AND IN 1836 HE EMIGRATED TO AMERICA, LANDING AT NEW ORLEANS, WHERE HE REMAINED A SHORT TIME, WORKING AT WHATEVER EMPLOYMENT HE COULD FIND. FROM THERE HE WENT TO ILLINOIS WHERE HE WORKED AT FARM LABOR, AND IN 1837 CAME TO MILLERSBURGH WHERE HE BEGAN HIS BUSINESS CAREER IN A GROCERY STORE AND LATER ON IN 1844, EMBARKED IN THE DRY GOODS BUSINESS WHICH GRADUALLY GREW UNTIL IT BECAME THE LARGEST AND MOST PROMINENT BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT IN THE TOWN. MR. MAYERS WAS A MAN OF SOUND BUSINESS JUDGMENT, GREAT ENERGY, STRICT INTEGRITY, AND NO MAN IN THE PLACE HAD GREATER INFLUENCE OR WAS MORE UNIVERSALLY ESTEEMED THAN HE. IN 1875 HE WASSUCCEEDED IN BUSINESS BY HIS SONS, SAMUEL E. AND HORACE C. IN 1874 THE MAYERS EXCHANGE BANK WAS ORGANIZED ALTHOUGH FOR YEARS PREVIOUS TO THIS MR. MAYERS HAD DONE A PRIVATE BANKING BUSINESS AND TODAY, ALTHOUGH THE ORIGINAL FOUNDER HAS PASSED TO THE GREAT BEYOND, THE BANK STILL EXISTS AS PART OF THE ESTATE, AND IS RECOGNIZED, AS IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN, AS ONE OF THE SOUNDEST BUSINESS INSTITUTIONS IN THE TOWN. MR. MAYERS WAS SOLE PROPRIETOR UNTIL HIS DEATH, HIS SON, CHARLES BEING CASHIER.

ANSON WHEATON'S DAUGHTER SARAH: WHOSE ANCESTORS FOR SEVERAL GENERATIONS WERE NATIVES OF MASSACHUSETTS. THE WHEATONS WERE A PROMINET FAMILY, AND WERE AMONG THE PIONEERS OF HOLMES COUNTY. THEY HAVE BEEN PATRIOTS FROM AN EARLY DAY, THE GREAT-GRANDFATHER, GRANDFATHER AND FATHER OF MRS. SARAH MAYERS HAVING BEEN SOLDIERS IN THE WARS OF THE REVOLUTION, OF 1812, BAND OF THE REBELLION RESPECTIVELY.

CAPTAIN ROBERT TURNEY(1633-1690), eldest son of Benjamin Turney(15 -1648), of whom by his will of Dec. 31, 1689, and inventory taken Jan. 17, 1690, we learn that he had a wife Elizabeth and seven daughters, viz.: Elizabeth, Mary, Ruth, Martha, Rebecca, and the wives of Joseph Jennings(16 -16) and of Ephraim Wheeler (16 -16) called sons - in- law, while their wives were not mentioned, but undoubtedly these wives were daughters and probably were dead.

Proclamation Honors Ralph Wheaton's 100th Birthyday.

Holmes county Commissioners Leah Miller and Ben Bell presented an official resolution Sunday honoring the 100th birthday anniversary of lifelong Millersburg citizen Ralph Uhl Wheaton.

The setting for the proclamation was an Uhl\Wheaton family reunion at the Holmes County Senior Center. Approximately 70 relatives and friends of Wheaton had gathered for a dinner which was served by the commissioners. Guests were present from as far as London, England.

Prior to the dinner,. many of Wheaton's friends had shared in an informal reception in his horor following services at Faith Lutheran Church where Wheaton has maintained a lifetime of regular attendance. Of local interest was the presence of Dr. Ralph W. Loew of Buffalo, NY, whose first first pastoral charge was the Millersburg Lutheran Church. Mrs. Loew, the former Maxine Uhl, was a teacher at Millersburg High School.

The fifth of six children born to William Anson and Elizabeth (Chapman) Wheaton, Ralph Uhl Wheaton was named for his paternal great-grandfather, William Uhl Sr., who had settled southwest of Millersburg on Oct 9 1820. That farm was occupied by successive generations of the Uhl\Wheaton family.

A 1913 graduate of Millersburg High School, Wheaton had attended a neighborhood one-room school, Lowther's, where he later taught.

In 1921, as a veteran of World War I, Wheaton married Glaydis Smith at Killbuck and lived on the family farm after the birth of their only son, Harold Smith Wheaton.

In 1954, Wheaton retired after 34 years as a rural mail carrier. He has been honored by the American Legion for 75 years of continuous membership in Holmes Post No. 192. Millersburg Masonic Spartan Lodge No. 126 has noted his 60 years as an active member.

Postal Chief Appeals For More Federal Aid

L.A. Times - Washington Post
Special C-N Wire Service

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar warned Monday that the Postal Service could be "insolvent within a year," without massive new federal aid to stem rising debts — now estimated at nearly $3 billion.

Bailar also told the Senate Post Office Committee that some action is necessary within two to four months to prevent additional cutbacks in service. He also complained bitterly about the absence of White House response to his pleas for more aid.

In Washington and nine other East Coast cities, meanwhile, Postal Service deliveries in business districts were reduced Monday to once daily — causing disruptions in mail room scheduling at large-volume mail users and forcing some companies to consider picking up their own mail at local post offices.

Cutbacks in downtown mail delivery as well as closings of rural post offices prompted Monday's hearing. Post Office Committee chairman Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo.) said at the hearing that the recent cuts created "a resentful, rebellious state of mind" among the public and in Congress about postal problems. The cuts achieved on annual savings of $6 million.

Bailar conceded the savings involved were relatively small compared with an overall Postal Service budget of $14 billion a year, but he told McGee that management of the post office system has "no responsible choice" but to make every cutback that is possible.

Congress is considering legislation that would provide up to $1.5 billion a year of new aid to the Postal Service for a three-year period. During that time, a new commission would study the impact of an anticipated decline in mail business as well as necessary services for the public at large which the government should finance.

To date, the Ford Administration has opposed new postal subsidies, and Bailar revealed Monday that Office of Management and Budget Director James T. Lynn hasn't returned the Postmaster General's telephone calls and that the White House hasn't responded to a supplemental budget request two weeks ago.

"It appears that the administration is making a very studied effort to stay as far away from the problems of the Postal Service as possible," Bailar asserted.

Bailar pleaded with McGee and Sen. Hiram L. Fong (R-Hawaii) for help in getting together with the White House, but the senators said they had experienced the same problem. Later, Lynn said through a spokesman that his staff had been studying postal problems for some weeks, and in contact with some Postal Service, but "nevertheless the process has dragged on too long and I should have met with Ben (Bailar) before this."

According to Bailar, the Postal Service has been breaking even for the last two months, in the wake of mail rate increases at the beginning of 1976. But the Postal Service has not been able to trim its deficit, now at a record high level. New postal rate increases may be necessary next year, he added.

While nationwide postal service has not yet been damaged by recent cutbacks, Bailar declared, "we have moved closer to the point where it may be."

Witch Hunt Result Of LSD Poisoning?

L.A. Times - Washington Post
Special C-N Wire Service

WASHINGTON — A new study of the 1692 Salem witchcraft scare has concluded that those who saw "the devil at work" in the colonial Massachusetts village might have been on an LSD trip caused by contamination of their daily bread.

That's the theory developed by Linda R. Caporael, a graduate student in psychology from the University of California at Santa Barbara, and outlined by her in the April issue of Science magazine.

In her view, the villagers who swore to seeing "diabolical deeds and distempers" — testimony that caused 20 of their neighbors to be executed — might have been under the influence of a fungus parasite that scientists call Claviceps ("club-headed") purpura ("purple").

Its short name is ergot, and it can infect grains such as rye and some strains of wheat. Within the purple cockspurs of the ergot fungus are several alkaloid drugs, including one called ergotamine.

If ergotamine is accidentally baked in an oven with dough, it is transformed into lysergic acid dietthylamine, the hallucinogen commonly called LSD. In fact, the Swiss scientist who discovered and purified LSD in 1943 used as his raw material the ergot fungus.

Caporael thinks that what happened in Salem in 1692 might well have been an outbreak of ergotism (long-term ergot poisoning) caused by the fungus infecting the rye grown by Salem villagers and milled by them into flour.

She is not without precedent for her theory. There have been several recorded cases of villages in Europe suffering mass outbreaks of hysteria, and many scientists believe that some were due to ergot poisoning. Once ergotism possibly changed the course of European history.

That was in 1722 when Peter the Great of Russia marshalled his Cossack armies on the Volga delta to sweep through the Caucasus and drive the Ottoman Turks out of Europe. But, on the plains of Astrakhan in central Russia, an outbreak of ergotism — from infected rye flour supplied to the troops — paralyzed his armies with hallucinations and muscular convulsions, and resulted in approximately 20,000 deaths.

James Trager, in his book, "The Great Grain Robbery," claims that Soviet fear of ergotism caused them to refuse in 1972 to buy American spring wheat, because it is susceptible to ergot infestation. Instead, they insisted on purchasing far more expensive winter wheat, which is more resistant to ergot.

In applying the ergot-poisoning theory to Salem, Caporael relies primarily on circumstantial evidence. She begins by noting all the other explanations for the events that began when a group of young girls apparently became "bewitched," leading to the infamous "witch hunt"

Orta unanimous pick

Orta

Hurtig

By BRUCE HEFFLINGER
Sports Editor

Five players and one coach garnered top honors on the Northwest District football team for the 2003 season.

Defiance nose tackle Dan Orta was a unanimous selection as Division II Defensive Player of the Year by an eight-man panel of sportswriters.

Linebackers Eric Weber of Tinora and Brad Hurtig of Fairview shared the Division V Defensive Player of the Year honor. Also in Division V, Patrick Henry's Bill Inselmann was chosen Coach of the Year.

Columbus Grove took two of the top awards in Division VI, with Blaine Maag Offensive Player of the Year and Mike Young Lineman of the Year.

Orta, a second team all-district performer a year ago, leads a Defiance defense which finished first in the Western Buckeye League in rushing defense. Orta is tied for second on the team in tackles with 57 while adding eight quarterback pressures and three sacks for a defense which has given up just 13 points per game the past six weeks.

"Dan hasn't lost a battle in two years," DHS coach Jerry Buti said of his 340-pound senior. "He's a dominating performer inside. He's changed the whole way we play defense inside, he takes care of two gaps for us. He's the reason we've had success on defense with the young linebackers we have in there. He's able to cover up and allow them to get better as we've gone along.

"Everybody knows how strong and physical he is, but what they don't know is how quick he is on the first step. Another thing is he's also a very intelligent football player. In practice and games he will call out the team's next plays. He has a hand on the little things you don't get out of every football player."

Buti has seen one major area of improvement in his senior lineman.

"He's a 48-minute player," Buti noted. "Before he'd pick his times to play, but now he plays for 48 minutes. You can confirm that by asking every center he's played against the last two years."

Weber and Hurtig were two of the top tacklers in the six-county area. Weber, who started at defensive tackle as a freshman before moving to linebacker, led all area players in tackles with 169 in the regular season in helping the Rams to the playoffs for the second straight season.

"He's made a home there and excelled for us," Tinora coach Kenny Krouse said of his 6-2, 215-pound linebacker. "He's a great kid and a great student. He has just a tremendous nose for the football, he just loves to play.

"He's gotten bigger, faster and quicker along with being stronger after breaking his lower leg as a freshman. We always knew he was a special player, he's just continued to improve and take it one step farther each season."

Hurtig completed an amazing senior season with 111 tackles and one sack for the Apaches after missing most of his junior year losing parts of both arms in an industrial accident the previous summer.

"Any adjective you can use toward Brad Hurtig is warranted," said Fairview coach Bob Olwin. "He's such a fantastic indivdual. To do what he's been able to do is extremely gratifying to us as coaches but also a credit to him and everybody invovlved, his coaches and teammates for pushing him.

"What a great kid to overcome so many obstacles and adversities. To have 111 tackles playing with pads on your arms is amazing. Not being able to grab individuals, you've got to be able to make a solid hit with your shoulder pads, it makes it a lot harder to do."

Washington's Soldiers Survived Hard Winters In New Jersey Camps

George Washington's winter campaigns during the American Revolution can be traced at several historical sites in New Jersey, all of which are open during this season, so visitors can appreciate what Continental soldiers went through more than two centuries ago.

By the time the first American soldiers reached Morristown, N.J., in December 1779, one foot of snow covered the ground. In the bitter cold months that followed, there were 28 snowstorms, as the ragtag American army struggled to survive one of the worst winters in memory.

At Morristown, visitors can start their tour at a museum behind the Ford Mansion, which Washington used as his headquarters in 1779. The museum contains a collection of Revolutionary War weapons, uniforms and other artifacts from the colonial period.

In the Ford Mansion, costumed guides usher visitors through the house and explain in detail the use of each room during Washington's stay in New Jersey.

Ten minutes away by car is Jockey Hollow, site of the main encampment of 1779-80. A free map available at the museum can guide visitors there. A visitors center at Jockey Hollow shows the inside of a typical soldier's hut and maps explain the uses of various parts of the encampment.

Washington brought his army to Morristown in 1779 because of the strategic value he discovered during a previous encampment there in 1777. That campaign started in November 1776, when the American forces retreated from Fort Lee, following the Battle of Brooklyn Heights, near New York City.

At the Fort Lee Historic Park on Hudson Terrace, reconstructed gun batteries provide a view of the Hudson River, and a museum offers information on Washington's retreat across New Jersey. Washington followed a diagonal line across the state from Fort Lee to Trenton, where he crossed the Delaware River into Pennsylvania.

That retreat took the Continental Army about two weeks, despite the fact that British soldiers were in pursuit only about an hour behind them.

Washington crossed into Pennsylvania on Dec. 7, 1776, with an army whose morale was low and whose enlistments were about to expire.

"These are the times that try men's souls," Thomas Paine wrote on the day the army crossed into Pennsylvania. It was the low point of the Revolution, and Washington knew he had to do something to boost morale.

Less than three weeks later, on Christmas night, 1776, Washington and 2,400 men crossed the Delaware River and marched on Trenton, N.J. They attacked on the morning of Dec. 26, and captured the garrison in a battle that lasted less than an hour.

A state park now occupies the site in Titusville, N.J., where Washington landed, and the Trenton barracks, next to the state capitol, is open daily. Each year at Christmas, a group of military pageantry units recreates the Delaware River crossing.

Washington's military success in Trenton was followed by a victory in Princeton the next month, January 1777. Washington quickly led his troops to Morristown, where he established an encampment in a few buildings around the green and set up a headquarters in a tavern. A historical marker now stands on the site of the tavern, but Morristown and surrounding communities still retain this flavor of colonial times.

glass, Depression glass and decorative housewares; Studio Art glass, and glass of the high-tech 1970s and '80s, manufactured by lasers, including fiber optics.

The workers in the replica glass factory demonstrate glassmaking in many styles, including free-blown, mold-blown, mechanical pressing, paperweight making and various art glass techniques. Factory artifact exhibits include hundreds of wooden and iron molds, snap cases, mechanical presses, grinding and polishing equipment, and a wide variety of hand tools.

The replica glass factory is also used by the Creative Glass Center of America to provide fellowships to American glass artists.

Staff members take the glass seriously, many of them are descendants of 19th-century glassblowers. The grandson of T.C. Wheaton, in fact, was responsible for creating the village association to ensure the continuation of America's glass heritage. Today, Wheaton Industries employs more than 10,000 workers in the manufacture of glass products.

If the museum staff is unable to answer a question, or if the well-documented exhibits fail to touch upon a topic of particular interest, there is a 1,500-volume library of definitive glass books, as well as thousands of documents and related materials. It's proven to be an invaluable source of information for collectors.

The museum is open seven days a week, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., from April through December. The museum is closed Monday and Tuesday during January, February and March, with reduced rates. It is closed New Year's, Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas. The museum is located off Route 49 on Glasstown Road, about 35 miles west of Atlantic City.

Admission is $4 for adults, $3.50 for senior citizens, and $2 for students. Reduced rates are available for groups of 25 or more.

For more information phone the Museum of American Glass at (609) 825-6800.

MILLVILLE, N.J. — All that glitters is gold, or so the saying goes, but the precious metal can't outglimmer, outshimmer or outshine the vast collection of glassware in the Museum of American Glass at Wheaton Village.

More than 7,000 objects are showcased, from Mason jars to Tiffany masterpieces, some in room settings reflective of the period in which the particular glassware was in vogue. The 16,000-square-foot facility is a kaleidoscope of colorful shapes and forms, utilitarian and decorative.

As does any good museum, Wheaton Village has more in its inventory than it has room to display, with 5,000 pieces in storage. The collection also includes 1,000 glass molds and 500 glass tools.

This is a living museum complex sprawled across 88 pristine acres, with a total of 14 buildings serving as adjuncts to the glass museum. The Wheaton Historical Association oversees the operation, which also includes the T.C. Wheaton Glass Factory, a replica of an 1888 glass factory.

Craftsmen employ time-honored techniques for the benefit of visitors, who can watch the gaffers (glassblowers) create pitchers, bottles, vases and paperweights, most of which can be bought in the village's stores. Demonstrations take place three times a day, at 11 a.m., 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Visitors are also encouraged to enroll in a half-day glassmaking session, in which each participant makes a paperweight to take home. The cost of the workshop is $35.

The self-guided tours can last as long as three hours, although if you're like many visitors, you may take longer, since it is easy to become enraptured by the sparkling displays.

The Prince Maurice Pottery, one of several craft shops, operates daily, making traditional hand-thrown and decorated salt-glazed wares. Other crafts, including woodcarving, are demonstrated. There's also a tin shop, where a tinsmith demonstrates his craft.

Other structures include an original 1897 railroad station; an agriculture center, appropriate since New Jersey is known as The Garden State; an authentic 1876 schoolhouse, moved here from a site five miles away; a print shop; a bookstore crammed with out-of-print books on glass, crafts, and Victoriana; a gift shop; and a general store stocked with dry goods and fixtures dating from Victorian times.

There's also the T.C. Wheaton Pharmacy, Wheaton owned several drugstores, in addition to his other ventures in southern New Jersey. This store contains a fascinating collection of medicine bottles and apothecaries. There's also a turn-of-the-century ice cream parlor.

Finally, there's the Arthur Gorham Paperweight Shop, which boasts one of the most definitive and varied collections of glass paperweights in the world, from antiques to those made here daily.

It is fitting that the Museum of American Glass is located here, since southern New Jersey long ago earned the distinction of being the heart of America's glass-producing industry. Its primary raw material — sand — was and continues to be readily available, and its location was near the hub of activity in 18th-century colonial America, just 45 miles southeast of Philadelphia, and not far north of Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

The museum traces the development of the American glass industry, from Wistarberg, the first successful American glassworks in Salem County, N.J., which began production in 1739, right on through to modern-day technology.

Both exhibit and interpretive emphasis is placed on the history and techniques of glassmaking, tracing its development in America through early bottle and window light manufacture and free blowing, including samples of early South Jersey, Stiegel, and Amelung types; part-size molding and mold blowing, prevalent in New England and the Pittsburgh areas; pressing, including examples of Sandwichware, New England, Bakewell, Hobbs and U.S. Glass Co.; and cutting, samples of which include objects from Corning, N.Y.

Objects are also exhibited by type: historical flasks, figural bottles and patent medicines, including Dyott and Whitney; early art glass, including amberina, peachblow and burmese; utilitarian housewares, such as fruit jars; lighting devices, insulators, and items manufactured in southern New Jersey, including works by Whitall Tatum and T.C. Wheaton; paperweights, common to this region, from New England and Kaziun and Stankard; pattern glass, including Lacy and States patterns; cut glass, Early and Brilliant; Art Nouveau, including Tiffany, Steuben, and Quezal; early 20th century, including Carnival

Pilots joked about snow

The New York Times
Special C-N Wire Service

The two pilots of a jetliner that crashed in Washington talked repeatedly, often jokingly, about a snowstorm and the buildup of snow on the wings of their own plane and others as they waited to take off. And they differed over the significance of instrument readings even as the plane roared down the runway, only to fall, moments later, into the Potomac River.

The cockpit exchanges aboard Air Florida's Boeing 737 jet, which crashed near Washington National Airport Jan. 13, were made public Thursday by the National Transportation Safety Board.

The theory of most safety experts has been that accumulations of ice or snow led directly to the disaster, either by producing erroneous instrument readings or distorting the lifting characteristics of the wings, or both.

Just 63 seconds before the crash, the co-pilot, Alan Pettit, who was flying the plane, said to Capt. Larry Wheaton: "God, look at that thing. (pause) That don't seem right, does it? (pause) Ah, that's not right."

But the captain reassured him, saying: "Yes, it is, there's 80." Although safety experts believe Pettit was talking about the general picture presented by the instruments, Wheaton was apparently referring to the air speed indicator, showing the plane's acceleration toward the normal takeoff speed of about 140 knots.

"Naw," replied the copilot, "I don't think that's right. Ah, maybe it is."

The plane struggled into the air, and Wheaton cautioned Pettit to ease forward on the control yoke, to "just barely climb." But it was too late.

Moments later, after one of the two pilots said they were "stalling" or "falling" — it is not clear on the recorder tape — Pettit finally said: "Larry, we're going down, Larry."

"I know it," the captain replied, and almost immediately the recorder picked up the sound of impact.

Superintendent at Hicksville plans to leave

HICKSVILLE — Charles Koch, superintendent of the Hicksville Schools for the past three years, submitted his resignation during a meeting of the board of education Monday evening.

The resignation, effective July 31, was accepted with regret by the board. Koch, who was principal at Montpelier High School before succeeding Lester Latta as local superintendent, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Clear Fork Local Schools, Bellville, in Richland County.

The board also heard a request from a resident, Loren Smith, for time on the board agenda to discuss the situation of Jerry Balser. The board had reportedly requested the resignation of Balser as cross country coach, and Smith asked for an explanation of the board's action.

Balser and a representative of the Ohio Education Association met with the board in executive session on the matter for about half an hour. At the conclusion of that session, a letter from Balser, rescinding his previous resignation, was read.

The board accepted the letter with reservations, and said that members hoped what had been discussed during the executive session would be "taken care of" during the coming school year.

It was reported that the high school had been evaluated in March, the first evaluation in four years, and that the report was most favorable, but that improvements to library facilities are needed. The board was also informed that there would be no state aid for the purchase of a school bus during the coming year.

The board accepted the resignation of Dorothy Rohrs, junior high school English teacher. Also accepted was the resignation of Jean Bishop as ticket manager, although she will remain on the faculty. There was discussion on the condition of the elementary school roof and members were informed that it could be expected to last for another two years.

Membership in the Northwestern Ohio Educational Research Council was approved for the coming year, the list of graduates was accepted, and board members

Sharon Brown was employed as an assistant treasurer and secretary, and Lisa Nelson as a substitute teacher. Contract renewals, most for two years, were approved for Frances Pratt and Martha Ringenberg, bus drivers; Ann Sprow and Carol Early, secretaries; Hal Osmun, custodial; Kathy Schooley, Mary Neidhardt, and Louise Griffith, cooks, and Cheryl Hamilton, study hall monitor.

Evelyn Dowell Retires From Local Tax Office

Retiring as Village Tax Administrator after 7½ years on September 30 was Mrs. Evelyn Dowell, left. Mrs. Dowell welcomes Hicksville's new Tax Administrator Janis Caryer, right, who began her full-time duties on October 1.

After serving as Hicksville's Tax Administrator for the past seven and one-half years, Mrs. Evelyn Dowell has retired from the post effective September 30. Mrs. Janis Caryer assumed the duties of office on October 1.

Mrs. Dowell, who began her work in the Village Tax Department in 1976, notes that there are constant changes in the state tax laws so there have always been new regulations to keep up with in her years as Administrator.

Along with her husband, Robert Sr., who is retired from The Ohio Gas Company, Mrs. Dowell says she hopes her future plans will include some traveling, but they have no definite plans yet.

The Dowells have four children, Bob Jr. of Hicksville; Brenda Tunison, Champagne, Ill.; Steven, Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and Lisa, at home.

A parttime tax clerk for the past six years in the local tax office Janis Caryer is the new Hicksville Tax Administrator.

Mrs. Caryer says she plans no major changes in the office at the present and will be on duty in the City Building offices each Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Caryer and her husband Howard, who works at the Central Foundry, Defiance, have three children, Becky, at home and Steve and Ed, both of whom are married and reside in Hicksville. They have one granddaughter, Kacee, nine months old.

Every Halloween, as youngsters grow preoccupied with ghosties, ghoulies, long-legged beasties, and things that go bump in the night, the thoughts of many adults turn, however briefly, to America's most infamous and grisly encounter with witchcraft.

This, of course, was the well-known series of witch hunts and trials that terrorized Salem, Mass. during 1692.

By October of 1692, 19 apparently innocent men and women had been sent to the gallows as convicted witches, another man was pressed to death, and jails as far away as Boston about 15 miles from Salem, were packed with more than 150 other persons accused of witchcraft.

The causes for the Salem witchcraft crisis never have been confirmed, although a number of possible explanations have been proposed. These range from mass hysteria to the supposed existence of genuine witchcraft among the people of Salem.

Tainted Rye

But the most recent interpretation maintains that the witchcraft crisis was caused, quite literally, by a fungus in the rye.

More specifically, Linda Caporael, a psychologist at the University of California at Santa Barbara who developed the theory, says that ergotism was the satan loosed in Salem.

Ergotism is a chronic poisoning that results from eatingk grains — usually rye — contaminated with ergot, a fungus whose scientific names is Claviceps purpura. Many years ago, ergotism was a common affliction.

Ergot produces a number of potent pharmacologic agents, which are called the ergot alkaloids. One of the most powerful of these is isoergine, which has 10 per cent of the activity of the familiar illicit drug LSD (lysergic acoid diethylamide).

2 Types Of Poisoning

In an article in Science, the journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Caporael maintains that it was this LSD-like intoxication that triggered and sustained the Salem witch hunts.

There are two types of ergot poisoning. One, "gangrenous," involves dry gangrene of the fingers, toes, arms, and legs that ultimately leads to fingers and toes falling off the body. This form of the disease was epidemic in the Middle Ages, when it was called the "holy fire." The French called it "St. Anthony's Fire."

But the form of the disease that Dr. Caporael says may have struck Salem is convulsive ergotism. It produces symptoms such as crawling sensations in the skin, tingling of the fingers, vertigo, ringing sounds in the ears, headaches, hallucinations, painful muscle contractions, epileptic-like convulsions, vomiting, and diarrhea.

"All of these symptoms are alluded to in the Salem witchcraft records," Dr. Caporael notes.

Started With 8 Girls

The episode of supposed witchcraft in Salem began in late December of 1691 when about eight girls, including the daughter and niece of the minister, Samuel Parris, were struck, with "distempers" involving convulsive fits, odd postures, and gestures.

Physicians could not explain the illness, and finally suggested that the girls might be bewitched. Parris' Barbados slave, Tituba, concocted a "witch cake" to determine whether the girls were victims of witchcraft.

Shortly after eating the cake, the girls accused Tituba and two elderly village women of witchcraft. All were arrested. The girls then accused Martha Corey and Rebecca Nurse, and further accusations, and the trials, followed.

"The utmost caution is necessary in assessing the physical and mental states of people dead for hundreds of years," Dr. Caporael noted. "Only the sketchiest accounts of their lives remain in public records."

Circumstantial Case

ion Theory On 'Witches'

For example, growing conditions in 1692 were ideal for contamination of rye with the ergot fungus. Rye grown on the kind of low, wet ground most favored by the fungus was almost certainly available to the most notorious of the accusing children, as well as to the others. The witchcraft crisis began at about the time infected grain from the 1691 crop first would have been onsumed, and ended abruptly at about he time the rye crop would have been mpletely consumed.

Not everybody in the village was affect-by ergotism because the fungus typi-lly strikes in a spordic fashion, growing some rye fields and even parts of fields, t not others.

Dr. Caporael notes that accusations of round of accusations, trials and mass executions (19 by hanging and one with the victim being pressed to death between stones).

Caporael rejects the various explanations — ranging from simple fraud through allegations of political motives to mass hysteria — as inadequate. She then discusses the possibility of a physiological reason and concludes that, if that were the case, ergotism seems the most plausible answer.

To buttress her theory, she notes that the growing conditions for rye in the Salem area were of the type in which the ergot fungus flourishes, that early colonists reported that rye used for forage made cattle ill with unknown diseases and that several of the "betwitched" villagers owned or lived in proximity to growing fields, where the likelihood of fungus contamination was most acute.

Caporael's most intriguing piece of evidence is her assertion that the accusations of witchcraft broke out in earnest after a Barbados slave named Tituba was asked to concoct a "witch cake" to determine whether sinister forces were present in the neighborhood.

The cake was made from rye meal and the urine of the afflicted girls, and Caporael writes: "This concoction was fed to a dog, ostensibly in the belief that the dog's subsequent behavior would indicate the action of any malefic magic."

"The fate of the dog is unknown," she continues. "It is quite plausible that it did have convulsions, indicating to the observers that there was witchcraft involved in the girls' afflictions. Thus, the experiments with the witch cake initiated succeeding events ... Until the making of the cake, there was no suspicion of witchcraft and no reports of torturing apparitions."

"From these details," Caporael concludes, "a picture emerges of a community stricken with an unrecognized physiological disorder affecting their minds as well as their bodies ... Without knowledge of ergotism and confronted by convulsions, mental disturbances, and perceptual distortions, the New England Puritans seized upon witchcraft as the best explanation for the phenomena."

PAULDING COUNTY PEDIGREE

WHEATON FAMILY — JONATHAN LACY WHEATON was an older brother of ANSON WILLIAM WHEATON. He was named after his grandparents: JONATHAN AND PENELOPE LACEY WHEATON.

The grandfather Jonathan Wheaton was a Revolutionary War Patriot and a native of Connecticut and had received land in Holmes Co. Ohio from the government after the Rev. war.

Jonathan Laacey Wheaton was the fourth child of WILLIAM ANSON and SARAH (HALL) WHEATON's 13 children. They were early settlers of Crane Township. Jonathan was born May 16, 1827, in Prairie Twp., Holmes Co., Ohio.

In 1850 he was living in Reed Twp., Seneca Co., Ohio with his parents. On Aug. 24, 1851, in Wood Co., Ohio, he married SALINDA ANN SALSBERRY. It is thought that they came to Paulding Co. in the 1860's, because his parents were living here at that time. Jonathan was a veteran of the Civil War.

Jonathan and Salinda had six children: SARAH C. WHEATON (1852-1873); WILLIAM J. WHEATON (1853-1922); GEORGE W. WHEATON (1855-1911); PHOEBE ANN WHEATON(1858-?); ANISE SABINA (1860-1881); and JAMES E. WHEATON (1862-1935).

Sarah and Anise are buried in Colby Cemetery, Mark Twp., Defiance Co. on the Paulding-Defiance Co. Line Road not far from where they lived in Crane Twp.

Jonathan and his wife were still in Crane Twp. in 1880, but sometime after that they moved to Bloomington, Franklin Co., Neb, where Jonathan died March 19, 1909, of pneumonia and Salinda Ann died June 3, 1912.

There are descentants living in Nebraska on this family. Paulding Co. records include the birth of NETTIE WHEATON born May 20, 1873, in Brown Twp. (parents: ANSON P. and ELIZABETH (BAKER) WHEATON) and DAVID WHEATON born Oct. 7, 1874, in Brown Twp. with same parents.

QUERIES: Am wondering if there are any descendants in the area of ANN WHEATON and ALVA MORRIS, who married Oct. 22, 1885, in Paulding Co. Also, there was an ELMIRA WHEATON who married JACOB H. STALEY Nov. 21, 1882, in Paulding Co. Are there any Staley descendants that have info on this Elmira? Thanks for your help.

Gilbert battles past Wheaton to Cup final

Associated Press

Briefings

MUNICH, Germany — Brad Gilbert and David Wheaton nearly came to blows, before Gilbert won a five-set battle Saturday to reach the final of the Grand Slam Cup, where he will meet Pete Sampras.

Sampras, hitting winners from all over the court, beat Michael Chang 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 in the other semifinal of the $6 million Grand Slam Cup tennis tournament.

Sampras, the U.S. Open champion, beat Chang for the first time in six career meetings.

Gilbert won 6-3, 3-6, 7-6 (9-7), 2-6, 6-4.

The incident between Gilbert and Wheaton occurred after the tiebreak in the third set, following a dispute over a call that went against Gilbert, but had been overruled by the chair empire.

The call gave Gilbert a set point. He wasted it, but went on to win the tiebreak.

At the end of the changeover, the two players exchanged heated words and had to be separated by officials. Both were given warnings for unsportsmanlike conduct.

They shook hands after the match and there were no more incidents.

Superintendent At Nap Resigns

NAPOLEON—E. A. Wheaton, superintendent of the Napoleon City Schools the past six years, tendered his resignation during a meeting of the board of education Monday, to be effective Aug. 1.

Board members voted three to two to accept the resignation. Wheaton took over the head administrative post on Aug. 22, 1966 to succeed Robert J. Durbin, who left to assume the superintendency of the Four County Vocational School.

A native of Dayton, Wheaton came to Napoleon from Grafton, where he was superintendent of schools. He had previously held administrative posts in schools in Ottawa, Botkins, Alliance and Canal Fulton. He holds degrees from Wittenberg, Ohio State and Western Reserve Universities.

During his six years here, the new high school was constructed, the Four County School went into operation, two major local operating levies were passed, the McClure School District and part of the Ridgeville District were absorbed into the city district. Wheaton has declined to announce where he plans to go.

Nusbaum, Mrs. Martha Williams and Mrs. Joan Steed, elementary; Mrs. Peggy Blevins, special education, and John Huber, junior high industrial arts. The board approved eliminating the cafeteria supervisor post held by Mrs. Hildegard Reiser, who will be reassigned as a head cook. The cafeteria supervision will be taken over by the clerk-treasurer.

A summer school program in remedial reading and math for students in grades 2-7 was approved to be held June 19-July 17 in Napoleon High School. The high school summer classes will be held in the Four County School except for driver education, which will be taught here by Delbert Shinn and Fred Church. The cost will be $5 per student, Agassi, 21, and Wheaton, 21 were classmates at Bolletteri's. Andre turned pro at 16, to the shock of Wheaton's mother, Mary Jane.

"He didn't even have his high school diploma. He was geared to do one thing his whole life. Can you imagine if he didn't make it in tennis?"

He made it. Andre's earning some $3 million a year in purses and endorsements. Wheaton's going to make it. David stopped by Stanford for a year to help the Cardinal to the 1988 NCAA championship and then joined Agassi on tour.

"I DON'T KNOW if this is my biggest victory ever," said Wheaton about his win over Lendl, sending Ivan to his earliest Wimbledon departure in 10 years. "Beating Stefan Edberg at the Lipton in March, the world's No. 1, was pretty big. But this ranks up there among the top two or three."

Wheaton has a big serve, which gives him an advantage on grass. Agassi has a big forehand, which shouldn't be a disadvantage on grass.

"As the days go by, I'm starting to understand the concept of grass," said Agassi. "I'm feeling better as the matches go by."

The bookies in Britain are feeling wonderful now that June has gone by.

And as far as the page 3 girl? If they don't change the laws, the factory and office walls are going to be as bare as, well, she is.

The San Francisco Examiner

Everyone has own concerns as Wimbledon enters Week 2

WIMBLEDON — The bookies were worried about the rain. The tabloids were worried about a prohibition of pin-up photos. Andre Agassi was worried about darkness at noon. David Wheaton wasn't at all worried by Ivan Lendl.

Alfred E. Neuman? What, him worry? He wouldn't know a baseline from a fishing line.

Week two of the All England Championships began Monday with Agassi continuing to find splendor on the grass, and Lendl finding a dead end against Wheaton, another one of those young Americans who seemed to have spent their school years majoring in gamesmanship.

LONDON AWOKE TO discover the bookmakers didn't take a soaking because of a rare day in June, the 29th when, for the only time during a month as gray as Margaret Thatcher's hair, the country didn't take a soaking.

William Hill Ltd., the oddsmakers, had made it 100-1 at the beginning of June that it would not rain every day in the month or every day of Wimbledon. When it did rain the first 28 days, the company was in danger of losing 50,000 pounds, or about $83,000.

But Saturday, not a drop fell over the official gauge at the air traffic center, so the bookies didn't do bonkers.

WHICH IS MORE than you can say for The Sun, that tabloid of 3.6 million circulation which features on page 3, a young lady attired in only herself, at least above the waist.

Britain is about to join the European Community starting in 1992, an agreement between nations that starts in 1992 and basically eliminates passports, tariffs and other items nationalistic. Part of the agreement is to reduce sexual harrassment by allowing women to remove from the walls of factories and offices anything they find offensive, eg. pictures of — voila! — nude females.

The tabloids already are losing readers. So above Monday's page 3 girl, the "tasty Tracey Elvik," the Sun headlined: HANDS OFF PAGE THREE.

And just so Europe gets the message, it was repeated in 10 other languages. Including Greek.

THE MESSAGE THAT Agassi and Wheaton sent out Monday was that former students of the Nick Bolletteri Tennis Academy in Florida, also known as Nick U., can play at the grass menagerie, known also as Wimbledon.

In their third-round matches, Agassi, the fifth seed, defeated Richard Krajicek of Holland, 7-6, 6-3,7-6, while Wheaton upset third-seeded Ivan Lendl, 6-3, 3-6, 7-6, 6-3.

Agassi started out his match in the gloom wearing the same Oakley sunglasses as Bolletteri wears every minute of the day and night. Also the same sunglasses that Rickey Henderson was wearing when he broke Lou Brock's career stolen bases record in May.

But when the sun finally broke through the clouds that have been hanging over Britain practically since the Normans invaded in 1066, Agassi took off the glasses. What?

"That's because they have a light tint, like skiers use when it's cloudy," said Agassi. "I've been having problems much of my life with dark times. Today started out overcast. I had Oakley arrange to make something to bring out the colors. I just tried them."

Whatever Andre's tried seems to have worked, with his game, with the public.

AGASSI STAYED AWAY from Wimbledon the past three years because, he said, he couldn't play grass, a common indictment of Bolletteri products who are taught to stay back instead of coming in to volley. But he's not only taken to the surface, he's taken the skeptical English journalists into his camp.

"World class tennis can be astonishingly dull unless you know something about it," wrote Eric Bailey in the Daily Telegraph. "Somehow it doesn't matter that Andre's persona has been created and nurtured by PR men. We are willing participants in the image-maker's game. He has made a nonchalant conquest of Wimbledon."

SURGERY FOR SEVERE OBESITY

Who wouldn't like to drop a few pounds? Most Americans could stand to lose some weight, and many should bring their weight down to enjoy a healthier lifestyle. For a few people, though, obesity is so extreme that they are classified as "morbidly obese" or overweight enough that their health is in serious danger. For some of these individuals, gastric bypass surgery may be an option. The stomach is partitioned off, using surgical staples, then reconnected to the small intestines. In this way, the body's physical ability to store and process food is reduced, due to a smaller stomach capacity. With food intake limited, body fat is reduced over time as well. Gastric bypass surgery is not for everyone. It may, however, offer hope for some severely overweight individuals who have been unable to find relief through more traditional weight-control efforts.

Before you consider something as serious as bypass surgery, you should give some serious effort toward maintaining a consistent exercise regimen and eating a well-balanced, low-fat diet. Even after gastric bypass surgery, a lifestyle consisting of exercise and sensible eating is important for overall health maintenance. For more information, call my office at 784-4211. Located at 1844 E. Second St., i specialize in urologic diseases and infertility, rheumatic diseases, heart disease, diabetes, and infectious diseases.

P.S. A person may be considered morbidly obese when he or she is at least 100 pounds over ideal body weight.

Travel by rail was a modern way to travel in the late 1800s and almost every community had a railway depot in a central location. This postcard, submitted by Dennis Slattery, depicts patrons waiting to board the incoming train, at the Hicksville depot on High Street. The depot was located near the Hicksville Grain Co. and was elevated to meet the track level at the High Street viaduct. This penny card, was sent to Bridget Slattery in Adrian, MI in December 1903.

Wife Linda, son Dominick

I was born in Marion Heights, Pennsylvania. My parents were form Italy making me a first generation American. It was a small town on the side of an Appalachian mountain, one quarter square mile in size. The main industry was coal mining. I went to a catholic grade school.

My spiritual journey started with Sister Theresa Immaculate who impressed on me that God Loves Us. When I went off to college I was exposed to a lot of new ideas. I started investigating other religions. I took some philosophy, world religion courses. I also attended other faith services, tent revivals, and once went to an all black congregation. When I graduated I thought the Protestant faith had a better understanding of God than we Catholics did. I know this caused a lot of concern for my parents.

As I went on to my professional life and family, I would still go to both Catholic and Protestant presentations. It was about ten years ago a friend told me about Catholic Identity being offered in Hicksville. I thought I would take the course and see what the Church was teaching. I enjoyed it and kept signing up for the next course. While doing this Linda and I talked about going to become a Deacon but let it drop. A year latter Linda said "Why don't you look into it." And that is how I got here today.

Jeff Mayer of St. Mary's and, Nick, Varano will be ordained a Permanent Deacon on Saturday May 14, 2005, at 11:00 A M in Our Lady Queen of the Most Holy Rosary Cathedral in Toledo, Ohio. There are a total of five men being ordained in Toledo Diocese on Saturday.

The parishioners of St. John's and St. Mary's are invited to a light luncheon reception at the K of C Hall following the 11:30 A.M. Mass Sunday May 15, 2005.

WHAT IS A PERMANENT DEACON?

Deacons are ordained ministers within the Roman Catholic Church who perform various ministries in support of the Church, usually at a parish-level. The Permanent Diaconate was restored as an ordained ministry in the U. S. Church in 1968.

The leadership that deacons exercise is one of service and is called to symbolize and embody the idea of discipleship of Christ who claimed that he came 'not to be served, but to serve'. That service will take many forms - sacramental, liturgical and pastoral. The deacon's call is especially one of outreach to the unchurched, the poor and the sick, the marginalised and the disadvantaged. How they exercise their ministry will depend to some extent on their circumstances.

The Deacon has a three-fold ministry of Altar, Word, and Charity.

As Minister of the Altar, the Deacon assists the celebrant, gives religious instruction and is minister of the Chalice. The Deacon can baptize, bless marriages and officiate at funerals. The Deacon can expose the Blessed Sacrament and give benediction. He is an ordinary minister of Holy Communion who can give viaticum (the administration of Holy Communion to those about to die as food for the passage through death to eternal life).

As Minister of the Word, the Deacon proclaims the Gospel, preaches, and can be involved in coordinating and supporting all preparation programs for sacraments. As a member of the clergy, the Deacon is obliged to recite the Morning and Evening Prayers of the Church daily. He leads and preaches at these celebrations in the absence of a priest.

As Minister of Charity, the Deacon has to be firmly rooted in the community in which he is serving. He should be committed to Justice, Peace and Charity issues, and be informed about all matters relevant to those topics. The deacon is expected to pay particular attention in providing assistance to the needy. He has to be a leadership resource in involving his parish in building God's Kingdom.

Some of the duties of a permanent deacon can be exercised in exceptional circumstances by lay ministers, but the sacrament of Holy Orders makes the deacon not only an ordinary minister of the altar and of the word, but also provides sacramental assistance in the fulfillment of those ministries.

In the exercise of his ministry, the Permanent Deacon is abided in obedience to his bishop, and typically works under the leadership of a local pastor.

WHY HAVE A PERMANENT DEACON?

Those who continue to hold down secular professions or trades will have access to people in situations where priests cannot easily go, and their apostolate will be 'the Church in action' in those situations. The involvement of spouses and families, and the support they give, is crucial to the success of the diaconate program.

The diaconate is an order in its own right, and the service of deacons to the community has a different focus. This is a multi-functional role, involving his trade skills, as well as pastoral ministry and engagement in parish, archdiocesan and national committees.

cloud that enveloped lower Manhattan — Jones watches television at home, listening to 2,749 names of the financial workers, firefighters, parents and children who were killed in the attack.

For the first time on Tuesday, Jones is going to a small park southeast of ground zero, where he will stand for hours with those victims' families marking the sixth anniversary and hear the name of his wife, Felicia Dunn-Jones, who died just five months after the towers fell. He is not sure how he will feel.

"It's just a sense of sadness, really," he said. "It's just a sense of acknowledgment that ... her death was caused by events happening that day."

The addition of Dunn-Jones, a 42-year-old civil rights attorney, to New York City's Sept. 11 death toll occurred in a year that sharply focused on post-Sept. 11 illness — and the legacy of the cleanup of ground zero — more than ever before.

That legacy was painfully altered by the unearthing of several hundred human and other toxins that wafted over ground zero for close to a year. One study showed a powerful connection to sarcoidosis — the lung-scarring disease that killed Dunn-Jones — and city firefighters.

"I don't think anyone's questioning any more how many thousands of people are sick," said David Worby, who represents close to 10,000 plaintiffs suing the city and contractors who oversaw ground zero's cleanup. More than 100 of his plaintiffs have died, he says.

City officials have argued that more research is needed before the true health effects of Sept. 11 can be proven. But they significantly changed their position this year, commissioning a health panel that concluded in February that treating the ailments of exposed workers could cost close to $400 million a year.

"We are not about to abandon the men and women who helped lift our city back onto its feet during our greatest time of need," Mayor Michael Bloomberg said at the time.

Three months later, city Chief Medical Examiner has thus concluded that Mrs. Dunn-Jones' exposure to World Trade Center dust on 9/11/01 contributed to her death and it has been ruled a homicide."

His ruling did not bring her husband money — he had already received over $2 million from special master Kenneth Feinberg, who oversaw the federal fund that compensated Sept. 11 victims. Jones just sought recognition that her death was caused by Sept. 11 to allow him to hear her name read at anniversary ceremonies and etched onto the Sept. 11 memorial.

"Feinberg said she was a victim of the terrorist attacks. If she was a victim of the terrorist attacks, her name should be on the list," said Jones, 55, although he added he understands why more people haven't waged similar fights. "Sometimes people just don't want to get involved. It's hard enough losing somebody."

On Sept. 11, while Jones watched planes hit the towers from the Staten Island Ferry terminal, Dunn-Jones tried to escape her office a block from the north tower. She put a piece of clothing over her face but couldn't keep the choking, white dust out of her lungs, Jones said.

She developed "just this crazy, persistent cough," mostly at night, Jones said. She was diagnosed with asthma and kept working at the U.S. Department of Education, going on a four-day field trip to upstate New York the weekend before her death and keeping up trips to the gym three times a week.

Petraeus to face tough questions from lawmakers on future course of Iraq war

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and moderate Republicans in Congress have tough questions for a top military commander in Iraq who is warning against major changes to President Bush's war strategy.

Gen. David Petraeus and Ambassador Ryan Crocker were scheduled to testify today in the first of three hearings this week on the future course of the unpopular 4-year-old war. Officials familiar with their thinking told Associated Press over the weekend that the advisers will acknowledge disappointing progress in Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki's bid to achieve national reconciliation but would urge Congress to maintain the U.S. troop buildup to preserve local security gains.

On Sunday, Democrats sharply questioned Bush administration assertions that seven months of troop increases might be working, citing continuing violence and al-Maliki's political woes. They said they would not back off efforts to set target dates for bringing troops home.

"The reality is that, although there has been some mild progress on the security front, there is, in fact, no real security in Baghdad or Anbar province, where I was dealing with the most serious problem, sectarian violence," said Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., a 2008 presidential candidate who chairs the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Pennsylvania Sen. Arlen Specter, a moderate Republican, said he respected Petraeus' judgment but would not blindly follow it.

"We're going to look behind the generalizations that General Petraeus or anybody gives us and probe the very hard facts to see exactly what the situation is," Specter said. "As I've said in the past, unless we see some light at the end of the tunnel here, very closely examining what General Petraeus and others have to say, I think there's a general sense that there needs to be a new policy."

In their long-awaited report to Congress, Petraeus and Crocker will say the buildup of 30,000 troops, which brings the U.S. total to nearly 170,000, is working better than any previous effort to quell the insurgency and restore stability, according to the officials who spoke on condition of anonymity because they were discussing internal deliberations.

The officials also disputed suggestions that Petraeus and Crocker would recommend anything more than a symbolic reduction in troop levels and then only in the spring.

The testimony sets the stage for an announcement by Bush later in the week about how he will proceed in the face of growing congressional discomfort with the war.

Biden said Petraeus' assessment missed the point. Biden said focusing on a political solution, such as by creating more local control, was the only way to foster national reconciliation among warring factions.

GEN. DAVID PETRAEUS

"I really respect him, and I think he's dead flat wrong," Biden said.

Biden contended that Bush's main strategy was to buy time and extend the troop presence in Iraq long enough to push the burden onto the next president, who takes office in January 2009, to fix the sectarian strife.

"This president has no plan — how to win and how to leave," Biden said.

Electronic age not coming to small towns anytime soon

By JARED ORZOLEK
orzolek@crescent-news.com

In the computer era, many individuals and businesses are able to catalogue important records electronically rather than on paper.

However, stacks of white reams are a long way from going out of style for many government offices which are required by state code to store written records of court proceedings, financial audits and more.

In Henry County government, each department is in charge of keeping and maintaining its own records.

Judy Sonnenberg, clerk of courts, said her department uses close to 110 reams of paper — 110,000 sheets — each year to keep track of common pleas and family court proceedings.

"The total electronic age is not coming tomorrow for small counties," Sonnenberg said.

The basement is filled with court cases dating from

The paperless age has not yet arrived for local county government offices. State regulations require the preservation of paper documents related to a variety of government business, according to local officials. Balser Takes Bowling 'Prize'

Mark Balser, left, recently earned the dubious Bowler of the Day honors at the February 8 Eagles Heart Fund Bowling tournament. Mary Akerman here presents Balser, an avid sportsman, with his "crown" for rolling games of 82, 94 and 81 for a whopping 257 series for the day. Heart Fund tourney coordinators said they were glad to have Mark on hand for the event, but were also glad he wasn't earning donations for each pin bowled!

Senior has Rams focused

Ian Weber
Tinora 4-year starter

Assistant Sports Editor

One phrase best describes Tinora four-year starter Ian Weber – steady as he goes.

Over the course of his four-year varsity career for the Rams, Weber, a 6-7 senior post player, has been a model of consistency when it comes to scoring, field goal percentage, rebounding and blocking shots. In fact, one statistic for Weber – assists – has gotten better and better each year.

Tinora first-year mentor Rob Mahnke knew when he took over the program that Weber was going to be the focal point of his team offensively, already knowing what type of presence Weber was on the defensive end of the floor.

"Having seen Ian play in past years, I knew right away that I was going to establish our offense around him," stated Mahnke, who coached in the Archbold system prior to becoming Tinora's head coach. "I figured if teams didn't double-team him, we'd feed him the ball and if they did, he's become a good enough passer to pass out of it and that's what we've done.

"Ian is just a very hard worker who works hard all year long," continued Mahnke, whose Rams are currently 11-6 overall and 4-2 in the Green Meadows Conference. "He's just been so consistent in almost every phase of the game, with the exception of his free-throw shooting, but he's put in the extra time and that's really coming around, too."

At present, Weber is averaging 12.3 points per game, grabbing a team-high 8.2 rebounds per game and knocking down 51.9 percent of his shots (41-of-79) from the floor. Those averages coincide fairly close with his averages for all four of his years on the hardwood at Tinora.

In addition, Weber is averaging 2.9 blocks per game this season and 1.9 assists per contest. For Weber, his career has been all about learning more and more each year, getting stronger physically each year, and letting the game come to him.

"I really enjoy playing the post, it can be very physical down there," stated Weber. "This year I've gotten double- and tripled-team a lot, so I've had to become a much better passer.Wthe hen guys are knocking down their shots that's when it opens it up down there for me. Being a senior and having played for four years, the game has really slowed down a lot. I understand it much better and that's really helped me this season.

"I came into this season with the mindset that I have to do anything I can to help this team win," added Weber, a first team All-GMC performer a year ago. "I know that it's my job to rebound and score when I get the chance, but I also have to do the little things every game. Our team goals were to win the GMC title and advance past sectionals. We may not get the GMC, but we still feel good about winning a sectional title."

It was just one year ago when Weber and the Rams felt disappointment twice at the hands of GMC rival Wayne Trace. The Raiders defeated Tinora in their final GMC game a year ago, keeping them from winning a share of the GMC title. The Raiders then knocked Tinora out of the Division III tournament in the sectional finals.

On Friday, Tinora will try to return the favor when they host the Raiders at the Defiance College in their final GMC game of the year. A win by Weber and the Rams could keep Wayne Trace from a share of the title this year. And of course, Wayne Trace is once again a possible matchup in the sectional finals should the Raiders knock off Liberty Center in the first round.

Tinora, which earned the second seed at the Napoleon Sectional, will play the winner of the Liberty Center and Wayne Trace contest in the sectional finals.

"It's a big goal for us to knock off Wayne Trace and finish strong in the GMC," said Weber. "We haven't forgotten losing to them twice last year. I wouldn't say we're looking for revenge, we just want to beat a good Wayne Trace team and get better ourselves. Like I said, we're looking forward to playing them again on Friday and if we meet in the tournament again, we'll be ready to play again then, too."

After playing Wayne Trace on Friday, the Rams come back on Saturday against Continental before finishing the regular season against Archbold on Feb. 26. Weber knows it's going to be a tough stretch of games to finish the season, but he's hoping it's just what the Rams need as they head into the tournament.

Said Weber: "Right now I know individually that I need to stay focused and help this team stay focused. That starts in practice where we need to practice hard every day. Just because the regular season is coming to an end doesn't mean we can stop working hard, I think we need to work even harder if we expect to get where we want to go.

"I'm just like any other player out there, I want to go to state and win it," concluded Weber. "It's my senior year, what better way to go out than that?"

Wilson, Balser Represent HHS At State Cross Country Meet

Taking her place on the podium along with the other top runners in the Class A state Cross Country meet Saturday is Hicksville's own Laura Wilson, far right. Laura, a freshman, finished in fifth place with a time of 20:24 for the 3.1 mile race. Winning time for the race was turned in by Shari Corressel of Archbold in 19:45.1. Way to go, Laura!

In their first and last efforts at a state cross country medal Aces Laura Wilson and Sheila Balser finished fifth and 12th Saturday in Columbus.

Although it was a beautiful day to be outside with temps that hit the low 80's by the time of the 2:15 p.m. Class A race, the conditions were less than ideal for runners who suffered cramps.

Laura, a freshman in her first state race, ran well in a fast race on a good course according to Coach Jerry Balser and crossed the line fifth in 20:24. Laura received all-state honors for her efforts, being among the top 10 runners. Liberty Benton, winners of the Lima regional team title, went on to claim the state team championship.

Sheila, who finished out her three year cross country career with her third trip to Columbus, was boxed in at the start of the 3.1 mile race, and didn't run her own race mentally, finishing 12th in 21:09.

Coach Balser said he was well pleased with the girls' finish, knowing Northwest Ohio is the toughest cross country region in the state.

"The girls both did a real good job, finishing just about within the area we had projected. We were pleased with their efforts on an afternoon where lots of kids were having a real hard time."

"We also want to thank everyone who drove down to watch the girls," said Balser. "There was a good following from Hicksville and the girls really appreciated it."

Banquet

The Aces will be topping off their 1984 CC season with a banquet on Monday, November 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the Hickory Stick Inn. Runners will receive their yearend awards at that time.

HISTORY OF SHERWOOD, OHIO

Jan 11-62

BY DON G. MILLER

When Millard Fillmore was President of the United States in 1851, he granted to John Smith a tract of land upon which a large portion of Sherwood was founded. Not many white settlers lived in this section of our country at that time, and nearly all the residents were located along the Maumee River, where some had productive farms, but who were compelled to use the river to reach markets for their products. It is a recorded fact, that boats were employed diligently for purposes of transportation on the historic river between Toledo and Ft. Wayne.

The present town of Sherwood, which was platted on lands owned by Elias Miller, William Rock and William Taylor, had its origin through the untiring efforts of her pioneer settlers, and traces its first beginning as a community center back to the yesterdays with the opening of the first school in the area, known as the Collins school, in 1860 in an old frame building, used on occasions as a church, public forums, etc., which was located at Sherwood Corners at the junction of today's Hgys. No. 18 and 127.

The new community grew, consequently it demanded a name for the new "center" which by this time, contained a number of residences and stores. In 1874, Mr. Johnson Miller, a son of Elias Miller, with the aid of his numerous petitioners, after the construction of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, called for a postoffice for the settlement through which the new railroad passed. At the same time, the question of a name for the new hamlet was sought. Various names had been considered, such as Snooksville, Snook's Run, with some of the settlers suggesting Millersburg or Millerstown.

In conclusion, Mr. Johnson Miller's suggestion, 'in as much as the postoffice would come, if it came at all, through the good offices of the representative to Congress from the district, Isaac R. Sherwood, that it would be a good thing to name the new office in honor of Mr. Sherwood, who had served faithfully throughout the Civil War. So it became Sherwood.

In 1906, Mr. Sherwood was elected to Congress from the Ohio Ninth District (Toledo) where he served nine terms in the Congress. When he made his farewell speech on Feb. 7, 1925, he was the last Civil War veteran in Congress. He also had servd two terms as Ohio Secretary of State.

The Congressional Directory quotes the following. "Isaac R. Sherwood of Toledo was born in Stanford, New York, in 1835, and was educated at Hudson River Institute, Claverack, N. Y., at Antioch College, Ohio, and at Poughkeepsie Law College; enlisted April 16, '61, as a private in the 14th., Ohio Infantry, and was mustered out of service as a brigadier general Oct., 1865; by order of the Sec. of War; was in 43 battles, and was six times complimented for gallant conduct in battle; commanded his regiment in all the battles of the Atlanta campaign, and later was made brevet brigadier general by President Lincoln, for long and faithful service and gallantry at the battles of Resaca, Atlanta, Franklin and Nashville.

"Before joining the armed forces. Mr. Sherwood, a native of Williams County, Ohio, had been elected Probate Judge of his home county in 1860 then Mayor of Bryan, 1861; secret of state, 1868. He then remo to Toledo where he was electe Judge of the Probate Court a rved two terms after which h s elected to the Congress fro Toledo district where he s his long tenure as represen of the Toledo district.

Early in life, Isa herwood was marrie Brownlee, and to the uni born a daughter, I nore, whom you may read in t issue of the Chronicle.

HEART

Nate added, "It was a worry, it was always a worry."

Karen said such heart conditions are classified as either mild, moderate or severe.

"Paige's condition was moderate," she said. "We didn't know if it would get severe. We could have had the surgery done early or when she was 2 or 3 years old.

"Emotionally, it was for the best to have it done early," she said.

"She was 10 weeks old in January when she underwent a heart catheterization," she continued. "It ballooned her aortic valve. She was in surgery for four hours and in the newborn intensive care unit for 13 days at St. Vincent's (Mercy Medical Center, Toledo). She had to have a blood transfusion too."

Since her surgery, Paige has been doing well.

"She had a one-month check-up in February and was doing fine then," Karen said. She said Paige also had a good prognosis at her check-up in May.

"We have to watch for signs of heart failure," Karen said, "but she is a normal baby developmentally. She has not had any setbacks. She has no scars and no marks from the surgery either. She has bounced right back."

Participants at the Defiance County Heart Walk on Saturday will start at 9 a.m. at Kingsbury Park. The distance for the walk is about one mile.

The walk goes over the Clinton Street Bridge and through Pontiac Park. There is also an optional three-mile walk that loops around Defiance College.

Leading the first lap will be Red Cap Survivors who are persons who have survived a heart attack, stroke or other heart-disease-related condition.

Participants who raise at least $100 can earn T-shirts and other prizes. Door prizes will also be given.

The public is invited to attend the heart walk, and heart attack survivors are invited to walk in the first lap with the Red Cap Survivors.

BRANFORD

In 1638 the New Haven Colony traded "eleven coats of trucking cloth and one coat of English cloth made in the English fashion" to the Mattabesec Indians for land known as Totokett (Tidal River). The first permanent settlement was established in 1644 when people from Wethersfield came to Totokett, later renamed Branford after the town of Brentford in Middlesex County, England.
The Sound provided many of the settlers with a livelihood of shipbuilding and coastwise trade. Industry began in 1655 when the first iron furnace in Connecticut was set up and operated at Lake Saltonstall. Yale College was founded in 1701 when ten ministers met and made a contribution of books. In 1852 upon completion of the railroad, industrialization flourished. Two leading manufacturing firms were founded during this era: the Malleable Iron Fittings Company in 1854, and the Branford Lock Works in 1862. The twentieth century has brought some changes to Branford, but much of its historical heritage remains in the form of old buildings and well-preserved villages.
